

Fourth Class Graduated During 1967 Commencement

Sixty-eight seniors received diplomas during the Fourth Annual Commencement Exercises at Methodist College on Monday, May 29. Another twelve are expected to graduate at the end of the current summer session which ends July 14.

Dr. Felix Robb, Director of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, delivered the Commencement Address.

Speaking on the general subject of "Power," Dr. Robb stated that education is the key to power, and there is nothing more powerful than an idea whose time has come.

He commented on the tremendous progress of the South within the past one hundred years and stated, "The next hundred years can belong to the South if we successfully work out the human relations problem."

He congratulated the graduates but also warned them, "With success you have also acquired responsibilities. You will either help solve the problems of society, or you will become one of the problems."

On Sunday, May 28, during the Baccalaureate Sermon, Dr. Pierce Harris, Pastor Emeritus of First Methodist Church, Atlanta, challenged the seniors to choose wisely their level of living, because the compensations of life are determined by the level of living which one chooses.
