Methodist College, Fayetteville, N. C.
By: C. K. McAdams, Director of Public Relations

The College Board of Visitors from the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church made their first official annual visit and inspection at Methodist College on Wednesday of this week.

The Board is comprised of representatives of the following agencies of the North Carolina Methodist Conference: The Commission on World Service and Finance, The Board of Education, The Board of Lay Activities, The Board of Ministerial Training and Qualifications, The Board of Evangelism, The Commission on Town and Country Work, The Woman's Society of Christian Service and The Board of Missions.

At 10:30 the visitors met with the College's administrative staff, at which time President L. Stacy Weaver, Dean Clarence E. Ficken, Comptroller Frank H. Eason, and Director of Public Relations and Development Charles K. McAdams oriented the group concerning progress and development of the new institution in regard to finances, student enrollment, curriculum, faculty, student affairs, buildings, public relations and many other phases of the College's growth.

Dr. W. Stanley Potter, pastor of the Steele Street Methodist Church in Sanford, representing the Conference Board of Evangelism, was the speaker at the regular 11:30 chapel service. His sermon subject was "The Wonder of Faith." Dr. Sam Womack, College Chaplain, arranged the chapel service at which the Methodist College mixed chorus gave a magnificent rendition of "Ave Verum" by Mozart.

The visitors met with the faculty at a luncheon in the College dining hall and at 1:10 they met with officers of the Freshman class and representatives from the Student Christian Association.

Chairman of the Board of Visitors is the Reverend L. C. Vereen, pastor of Asbury Methodist Church, Durham; Vice-Chairman is Mr. W. D. Payne, of Henderson; and Secretary, Mrs. James Harper of Southport. Observations and recommendations growing out of their visit will be made to the College and to the appropriate agencies of the Methodist Church.

Charles;

I would appreciate it if you could get this information in the paper. Don't hesitate to edit this as you wish.

I will have the detailed program on Monday - in case you would like to put that in later - this week
thanks

Bill G.

On Friday evening January 11th at 8 o'clock in the Student Union Lounge the fourth number in the current college concert-lecture series will be presented. This will be an informal recital of chamber music taken from the works of Mozart. The performers will be the members of the Gates family: the four daughters, Margaret (violinist), Madeline ('cellist), Catherine (violinist), Rebecca (violinist); and the parents, Grace (violinist), and Willis (violinist and violinist).

The program will include works for stringed instruments in three different combinations: a duo for violin and viola; a quintet for 2 violins, 2 violas, and 'cello; and a Serenade for sextet.

All interested music lovers are invited to attend. There will be no admission charge.

METHODIST COLLEGE

BY: Charles K. McAdams, Director of Public Relations

A grant of $450.00 has been awarded to Methodist College, Fayetteville, North Carolina, by the Association of College and Research Libraries, a division of the American Library Association.

The grant made to Methodist College was one of 70 selected from among 294 applications from 35 states. Methodist College was the only college from North Carolina to be awarded one of the grants. The Grants Program this year was made possible by the following companies and corporation foundations: Kennecott Copper Corporation, McGraw-Hill Publishing Company, National Biscuit Company, Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation, Pitney-Bowes, Inc., Time, Inc., the United States Steel Foundation, Inc., and The H. W. Wilson Foundation, Inc.

The grant will be used to purchase for the Methodist College library approximately 100 volumes in the field of drama.

Mrs. Miriam L. Usrey, adviser to the college's Dramatics Club, and Alva W. Stewart, librarian, have expressed appreciation for this grant which will meet the minimum needs for the course in Classical Drama and Play Production and also for the work of the Dramatics Club.

The ACRL Grants Program was initiated in 1955 with a grant of $30,000 from the U. S. Steel Foundation. The program, directed to the general needs of all colleges and universities, is designed for improving the quality of library service to higher education through fundamental research in librarianship and otherwise aiding in the best use of the most modern teaching and learning materials.

John Kennedy Hanks, tenor, Professor of Music at Duke University and director of the York Chapel Choir of Duke Divinity School, will give a concert at Methodist College, Tuesday evening, March 19, at 8 o'clock in the Science Hall Auditorium.

This concert, which is one of the programs in the current concert-lecture series, was postponed from February 26 due to the snow storm on that date. The concert will be a varied one, beginning with a group of eighteenth century songs taken from the poems of Robert Burns, followed by five selections from Schubert and Brahms.

The third section of the program will feature selections by contemporary composers.

Hanks will conclude his concert with seven popular Spanish songs by Manuel de Falla.

The public is cordially invited to attend this concert.

 United Nations, sponsored by the Collegiate Council for the United Nations. The Institute is being held from June 11 - 18 at the United Nations Headquarters and at Sarah Lawrence College (Bronxville, N. Y.).

The Collegiate Council for the United Nations, the college affiliate of the United Nations Association of the United States, is a national student organization devoted to building informed and intelligent support for the United Nations. Its purpose is to stimulate on the campus and in the community greater interest in and understanding of international affairs, particularly the aims, functions and accomplishments of the United Nations. Presently, there are close to 500 affiliates on college campuses throughout the country.

Approximately 300 student leaders from throughout the United States, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands will participate in this year's Institute. Also attending will be guests from Canada, Africa, Asia, as well as foreign students studying in this country. Students were selected for the program on the basis of leadership ability and academic excellence.

The program is to be highlighted by an address by Secretary-General U Thant. Among the other speakers are: H.E. The Rt. Hon. Lord Caradon, United Kingdom Ambassador to the UN, H.E. Mr. Charles W. Yost, United States Ambassador to the UN, H.E. Mr. Danilo Lekic, Ambassador to the UN from the Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia, and Mr. Paul G. Hoffman, Managing Director of the UN Special Fund.

The students participate in workshops and discussion groups designed to enable them to return to their respective campuses to lead and direct international programs.

Cole is a rising sophomore at Methodist College. ~~He~~ He is a History major and plans to enter the Ministry. He has been active in the branches at the N. H. C. during his freshman year.
