Alan M. Porter, tenor, and Harlan F. Duenow, pianist, will perform Schubert's song cycle, Die Schoene Muellerin, Tuesday evening, February 9, in the Student Union on the Methodist College Campus.

The program will begin at 8:00 p.m. and is one of the Concert-Lecture Series sponsored by the college and open to the public.

Mr. Porter, instructor of voice and choral music at Methodist College, holds degrees in music from Mount Union College, Alliance, Ohio, and the University of Illinois. While doing graduate work in voice, he studied with Paul Ulanowsky and Pierre Bernac and was active in the opera group.

Since coming to Fayetteville in September of 1963, he has been choir director of the Hay Street Methodist Church Choir and has made many appearances in this area as soloist. This program will be the third recital he has presented under the sponsorship of Methodist College.

Concert-goers most recently heard a sacred recital at St. John's Episcopal Church presented jointly by Mrs. Jean Ishee and Mr. Porter. Last May he was tenor soloist in the performance of the Mozart Requiem by the College Chorus and the Fayetteville Symphony Orchestra. In the summer he sang the tenor solo part in Schubert's Mass in G which was performed on the campus of St. Andrews Presbyterian College. In August he participated in two of the programs of the Festival of Festivals in Raleigh sponsored by the North Carolina Music Society.

Mr. Porter and Mr. Duenow have made several appearances together since their first program in November, 1963.

Sergeant Harlan F. Duenow, who is stationed with the 440th U. S. Army Band at Fort Bragg, comes from Waterloo, Iowa. He attended the State College of Iowa, where he studied piano with Mrs. Suzanne Conklin-Happ.

While in college Sgt. Duenow was opera rehearsal accompanist and accompanist for music students throughout the entire student body. After college he worked as a professional accompanist and voice coach and was the private accompanist of Mr. Charles D. Matheson.

At present, Sgt. Duenow is the rehearsal conductor of the 440th Army Band, Choir-master and organist of the Main Post Chapel of Fort Bragg, and Conductor of the Fort Bragg-Pope Air Force Chapel Chorus.
