The Methodist College music department will present its annual spring chamber-music concert on Sunday, June 19, at 4 p.m.

The public is invited to attend the program, which will be given in the air-conditioned student union building.

Performers will include Alan Porter, tenor; Jean Ishee, pianist; and members of the Gates family, who play the various stringed instruments. Dr. Willis Gates and daughters Rebecca and Margaret all will play the violin, while daughters Catherine and Madeline will play the viola and 'cello, respectively.

Mr. Porter is instructor in voice at Methodist College; Mrs. Ishee is teacher of piano and organ; and Dr. Gates is professor of music.

Sunday's program will be of unusual interest in that it will include only compositions from the 17th and 20th centuries. The musical styles of these two centuries have often been observed as being in some ways similar, since both centuries have been involved in major and often revolutionary stylistic changes in musical art generally.

Composers representing the 17th century on the program are Claudio Monteverdi and Heinrich Schuetz. Representing the 20th century is Zoltan Kodaly.

Fayetteville - A Trustee Development Program to complete the funding of a $1,050,000 Fine Arts-Auditorium Building at Methodist College was unanimously approved by the college board of trustees Tuesday.

Reporting at the annual spring board meeting, President L. Stacy Weaver said that $450,000 of the estimated cost is now available. The additional $600,000, to be raised through the special trustee project, is being sought beyond the funds provided through the organization of the Methodist Church and other sources.

In other business, Dr. Weaver reported that during the current academic year 866 students have enrolled in the college and that an enrollment of between 925 and 950 students is anticipated for the 1966-67 school year. The college will have reached a plateau, as far as resident students are concerned, in September of this year since, for the first time, all four classes will be housed in permanent dormitories and all dormitories will be filled.

The Board voted to grant degrees to 65 seniors, conditioned upon satisfactory completion of the current semester's work.

In reporting on academic affairs, Dr. Weaver said the college's Department of Spanish and the Department of Political Science will be expanded to major status with the beginning of the next academic year.

Officers of the Board of Trustees re-elected to serve for the next year are: Terry Sanford, Fayetteville, chairman; W. Robert Johnson, Goldsboro, vice chairman; John W. Hensdale, Fayetteville, secretary; Wilson F. Yarborough, Fayetteville, treasurer.

EWHA UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT VISITS METHODIST COLLEGE

F Fayetteville - Methodist College summer school faculty and students had the opportunity July 5-7 to learn about their Korean counterparts from the president of a large university in South Korea.

Speaking in almost flawless English, Dr. Ockill Kim, president of Ewha Womans University, visited classes, chatted with faculty and students, and recorded her impressions of a "modern Methodist College."

During her visit she shared with members of the administration and faculty her views of higher education in Korea and also her concerns as to the unique responsibility which the Christian college has in the role of higher education throughout the world. Concerning higher education in Korea, Dr. Kim pointed out that there is a tendency on the part of the government to limit enrollment in the colleges. Ewha University is permitted to accept only about 1,600 freshmen each year from approximately 6,000 applications. She stressed the importance of higher education for the women of Korea since this is one of the main channels through which the women may more nearly reach the status of equality which is actually prescribed by the Korean constitution.

She was very emphatic in expressing a deep concern that the church college exhibit through every channel the true concept of Christian life. She reminded the group that the basic religious heritage of Korea is Buddhism and Confucianism but that Christianity, even though in the minority, exercises a greater influence. She attributed the successes of the Korean people in the many struggles in recent years to the Christian influence. She expressed the firm belief that the only hope for the world is a binding together of the peoples of the world in a Christian brotherhood and that this must be practiced to the fullest extent by the administration, faculty and students on our Christian college campuses.

She left Fayetteville July 7 for Georgia, where she planned to visit Wesleyan College at Macon, founded in 1836.

The two schools were included on Dr. Kim's itinerary at the suggestion of Dr. Ralph Decker, director of the department of educational institutions of the general board of education of the Methodist Church, Nashville, Tenn., as examples of the contemporary and the traditional.

Dr. Kim came to the United States primarily to meet with the Ewha Corporation Board in New York City and to attend the Quadrennial Convocation of Christian Colleges and Universities, meeting at Earlham College in Richmond, Ind.

The university of which she is president consists of nine colleges with 41 departments, with an enrollment of 8,122 students and approximately 500 faculty members. Dr. Kim says the university is rapidly approaching an enrollment of some 10,000 students.

Ewha grew from a school founded for Korean girls on May 31, 1886, by Mrs. Mary Scranton, a missionary of the Methodist Episcopal Church, North. The name

July 7, 1966

"Ewha" was chosen by Queen Min of Korea in 1887 and means pear flower, a symbol of royalty.

Campus buildings and dormitories were built at Chung Dong in 1900 and Ewha College was founded by a Miss Frey in April, 1910. The early Ewha Haktang and the college were combined in 1925 and named Ewha Womans College. A new campus site was bought in Schinchon and the college moved to the site in March, 1935.

In 1943, with the coming of the Japanese, Ewha's name was changed to Kyung Sung Womans College. Following the liberation of Korea in October, 1945, the college was expanded to Ewha Womans University.

The Communist invasion forced the university to flee in September, 1951, to Pusan and set up temporary quarters on a windy hillside. Since that time the institution has grown to its present size, with colleges of liberal arts and science, education, pharmacy, music, physical education, home economics, medicine and nursing, law and political science, and fine arts.

Fayetteville - The Youth Choir of First Methodist Church, Charlotte, N. C. will appear in concert July 17 at 7:30 p.m. in Haymount Methodist Church of Fayetteville.

The versatile group of forty young people will sing for the first part of the program "Mass in G" by Franz Schubert. The second part will include Negro and other Spirituals, Show Music and Folk Songs.

The group is well known for their fine singing and in addition to their regular Church duties, sing oratorios and present summer musicals, most recently, "The King And I" and "Little Mary Sunshine." They will sing in the chapel of the Duke University Divinity School on Sunday morning prior to their Sunday evening concert in Fayetteville.

As they arrive in Fayetteville on Sunday afternoon, they will be given a conducted tour of the Methodist College campus by the college's public relations department.

The choir is conducted and accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. William Stephenson, Jr., Choir Master and Organist of the Church. They are both graduates of Westminster Choir College.

The public is cordially invited to attend the concert at Haymount Church.

"IN YOUR BODY, LORD, WE ARE ONE!"

Tune: Kum-Ba-Yah

1. In your body, Lord, we are one! (3 times) . . .
O, Lord, make us one.
2. In this banquet, Lord, we find strength (3 times)
O, Lord, give us strength.
3. Draw us nearer, Lord, each to each (3 times)
O, Lord, each to each.
4. Fill our heart, Lord, with your peace (3 times)
O, Lord, with your peace.
5. Fill our hearts, Lord, with your care (3 times)
O Lord, with your care.
6. Christ, your Word, Lord, let us hear (3 times)
O, Lord, let us hear.
7. That we're your people, Lord, let us see (3 times)
O, Lord, let us see.
8. Those who need us, Lord, let us serve (3 times)
O, Lord, let us serve.
9. Give your church, Lord, unity (3 times)
O, Lord, unity.
10. Your great glory, Lord, let us praise (3 times)
O, Lord, let us praise.

"FORTH IN THY NAME, O LORD, I GO"

Forth in Thy name, O Lord, I go,
My daily labor to pursue,
Thee, only Thee, resolved to know
In all I think, or speak, or do.

The task Thy wisdom hath assigned,
O let me cheerfully fulfill;
In all my works Thy presence find,
And prove Thy good and perfect will.

Give me to bear Thy easy yoke,
And every moment watch and pray;
And still to think eternal look
And hasten to Thy glorious day;

For Thee delightfully employ
Whate'er Thy bounteous grace hath giv'n;
And run my course with even joy,
And closely walk with Thee to heaven. Amen.

When we take the body and blood of our Lord with the bread and wine of Holy Communion, we do it in remembrance of Him, yet not in mere memory but for the strengthening of our faith in the forgiveness of our sins earned by His suffering and death. Each reception of this sacrament blesses us with new courage and power to lead the Christian life.

*The Psalter—Read Responsively

I will bless the Lord at all times;

His praise shall continually be in my mouth.

My soul makes its boast in the Lord;

Let the afflicted hear and be glad.

O magnify the Lord with me,

And let us exalt his name together!

I sought the Lord, and he answered me,

And delivered me from all my fears.

Look to him, and be radiant;

So your faces shall never be ashamed.

This poor man cried, and the Lord heard him,

And saved him out of all his troubles.

The angel of the Lord encamps around those who fear him,

And delivers them.

O taste and see that the Lord is good!

Happy is the man who takes refuge in him!

Come, O sons, listen to me,

I will teach you the fear of the Lord.

What man is there who desires life,

And covets many days, that he may enjoy good?

Keep your tongue from evil, and your lips from speaking deceit.

Depart from evil, and do good; Seek peace, and pursue it.

When the righteous cry for help, the Lord hears

And delivers them out of all their troubles.

The Lord is near to the brokenhearted,

And saves the crushed in spirit.

The Lord redeems the life of his servants;

None of those who take refuge in him will be condemned.

(Matt. 5:23) After which he will turn to the ushers and say:

Peace, my friend.

And the ushers will answer:

Peace.

Then the ushers will issue the peace to their respective sections of the congregation, and they will in return say:

Peace.

Then the Minister shall read the following words: "I appeal to you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, to present your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God, which is your spiritual worship. Do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewal of your mind, that you may prove what is the will of God, what is good and acceptable and perfect." (Romans 12:1-2)

Fayetteville - "What in the world is God doing?" was the question posed by Dr. Harold Bosley in his second inspirational message Wednesday to the N. C. Annual Conference Session of the Methodist Youth Fellowship meeting at Methodist College this week. The speaker is pastor of Christ Church Methodist in New York City and a former dean of the Duke Divinity School.

"God is doing what he has always been doing," said Bosley in answer to the question. "It is easy for us to tell God how to run his business but we need a rebirth of humility and we need to realize that God is not going to change things just to accommodate each individual. The notion that we make up the laws of the universe is nonsense."

Bosley pointed out that 40 years ago Alfred North Whitehead, the English Philosopher, posed the question "What do you mean by God?" Not many people paid any attention to this question," Bosley said.

"I am grateful for theologians who have projected the 'God is Dead' idea. I think they are wrong, but they are helping us to think through our callousness concerning the matter of who God really is and our relationship to him."

The speaker reminded the young people that they need to face the question of what difference it makes if God is dead. He suggested that we need to get hardheaded about these matters.

"There are a number of facts," said Bosley, "which go into the Christian's understanding of God.

"First, there is a principle of order in this world in which we live and this fact is substantiated by the scientists."

As further indication of this, Bosley recited the credo of some of the scientists: "There is something going on in this world and we must find out what it is." He also reminded the assembly that Einstein once said "There is a reverence which lies behind all scientific truth."

"Secondly," he continued, "there is a principle of growth in the universe. The scientists have helped us understand this fact more than theologians or anyone else. We stand at this moment of physical development as what we are because this principle of growth was what it was. Slowly as human beings we develop personalities. We grow as the result of having our needs met. There is an unfolding of latent possibilities which underlies all of growth."

The third fact which the speaker emphasized concerning the Christian's understanding of God is that love is the strongest power on earth and the most meaningful word in our vocabulary.

"Love is our best definition of God," said Bosley, and then went on to define God a little more explicitly.

"When I think of God," he said, "I don't think of someone 'up there' or over on a mountain. I think of Him who makes it possible for us to share in our relationships here and now.

The God who sits somewhere on a mountain is dead, but the God who creates, sustains and redeems life is always here, alive and a part of our life and we are a part of him."

He concluded with the assertion that God is creating, sustaining and redeeming the creatures who come under his unfolding purpose and will.

Dr. Bosley delivered his final message to the conference last night.

The student gathering, attended by delegates and staff from more than 400 Methodist churches in Eastern North Carolina, was to continue through noon today.

The God who sits on a mountain is dead, but the God who creates, sustains and renews life is always here, alive and a part of our life and we are a part of him.
He concluded with the assertion that God is creative, sustaining and renewing the creature who comes under his unfolding purpose and will.

Fayetteville - Some 431 delegates and staff representing approximately 400 churches participated in the 15th Annual Conference Session of the North Carolina Conference Methodist Youth Fellowship held at Methodist College July 25 - 29.

Dr. Harold A. Bosley, pastor of Christ Church Methodist of New York City and a former dean of the Duke Divinity School, was inspirational preacher for the conference. His messages dealt with the fundamentals of one's faith and were built around the theme of the conference, "In the Beginning Was the Where."

In helping the young people find a definition for religion, Bosley said, "Religion to me is not a word -- it is a life. Regardless of what one's religion is, it is something that one lives by and for. To be adequate, religion must be ^{some} something to believe, something to adore and worship and something to do. It must help us find our place in this universe. True worship," he said, "is feeling one's unworthiness, need and littleness in the presence of God."

In answer to the question "What in the world is God doing?" Bosley reminded the youths that "God is doing what he has always been doing." He expressed gratitude for the theologians who have projected the "God is Dead" idea. "I think they are wrong," he said, "but they are helping us to think through our callousness concerning the nature of who God really is and our relationship to him. The God who sits somewhere on a mountain is dead, but the God who creates, sustains and redeems life is always here, alive and a part of our life and we are a part of him."

Interest groups were divided into categories as follows: New Voices of Protest and Hope; Music and the Church; Why Wait Till Marriage?; The New Morality; Some Ministries of the Church; A Look at International Issues; A Look at National Issues; Your Being the Church in the World; A Look at the "God is Dead" Theology; Moral Concerns; Working with Others in the Family of God; Audio-Visual Previews; Decisions I Should Make; Christian Critique of Communism; Christianity and Science in the Space Age.

During the week dramas were presented by the Laurinburg and Rocky Mount MYF groups.

The Rev. Conrad Glass, Raleigh, director of youth work for the Conference was the overall coordinator for ACS. The Rev. Belton Joyner, Bahama, was conference dean and the Rev. Bruce Pate, Norlina, served as choir director.

Other ACS leaders included: Miss Diana Harrison, Greenville, dean of women; the Rev. Bill Lowdermilk, Fayetteville, dean of men; Lawrence Whitfield, Raleigh, ACS youth chairman; and Jesse Staton, Windsor, conference MYF president.

Methodist Youth Conference Set

Five hundred Methodist youth are registered for the annual conference session set for Methodist College July 25-29.

The youth, delegates from 845 Methodist Churches in eastern North Carolina, will concentrate on business and worship sessions along with work groups which will develop various programs of the Methodist Youth Fellowship. Dr. Harold A. Bosley, minister of Christ Church (Methodist) of New York City, is the inspirational preacher of the week. He will headline a program of daily activities which will include two dramatic presentations, a film and an address by Dr. Paul Hardin, III, Duke University Law School professor.

Dr. Hardin will speak on the "Relevance of the Church in Secular Society."

A Monday afternoon drama will be presented by the MYF of Laurinburg. The Rocky Mount Youth Fellowship, First Methodist Church, will present the Monday evening dramatic presentation, "Christ in the Concrete City."

Theme for the week, according to the Rev. Conrad Glass of Raleigh, executive secretary of Youth Work for the North Carolina Methodist Conference, is "In the Beginning was the Where?"

Officials for the annual session include Jesse Staton of Windsor, president of the conference MYF; Lawrence Whitfield of Raleigh, youth chairman; the Rev. Bolton Joyner of Bahama, dean of the session; Miss Diana Harrison of Greenville, dean of women; the Rev. Bill Lowdermilk of Fayetteville, dean of men, and the Rev. R. Bruce Pate of Norlina, director of music.

THEME HYMN: "Christian, Dost Thou See Them"The Methodist Hymnal

Christian! dost thou see them
 On the holy Ground
 How the powers of darkness
 Rage thy steps around?
 Christian, up and smite them,
 Counting gain but loss,
 In the strength that cometh
 By the holy cross.

Christian! dost thou feel them,
 How they work within,
 Striving, tempting, luring,
 Goadng into sin?
 Christian! never tremble;
 Never be downcast;
 Gird thee for the battle;
 Watch, and pray, and fast!

Christian! dost thou hear them,
 How they speak thee fair?
 "Always fast and vigil?
 Always watch and prayer?"
 Christian! answer boldly,
 "While I breathe I pray!"
 Peace shall follow battle,
 Night shall end in day.

"Well I know thy trouble,
 O my servant true;
 Thou art very weary—
 I was weary too;
 But that toil shall make thee
 Some day all mine own
 And the end of sorrow
 Shall be near my throne."
 Amen.

Fayetteville- More than 350 women of Eastern North Carolina are expected to attend the Wesleyan Service Guild Weekend of Study and the annual School of Christian Mission of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church August 6-12.

For the third consecutive year, these two activities will be held on the Methodist College campus. For many years previously they were conducted on the campus of Duke University. The delegates will live in the college dormitories.

The Wesleyan Service Guild Weekend will begin Saturday morning and continue through noon on Sunday. The Guild is made up primarily of women who are employed during the week and, consequently, find it more convenient to participate in a weekend activity. Mrs. Joseph Smith and Miss Virginia Jones, Cary; and Miss Juanita Stott, Raleigh, will serve as chairman, registrar and business manager, respectively, for the Guild Weekend.

The School of Christian Mission will begin with registration on Monday morning and will close at noon on Friday.

The staff for the School of Christian mission consists of Mrs. H. C. Turlington, Dunn, dean; Mrs. L. C. Vereen, Raleigh, assistant dean; Mrs. C. H. Boyd, New Bern, co-ordinator; Mrs. E. B. Fisher, Greenville, registrar; Mrs. C. D. Barclift, Fayetteville, treasurer and business manager.

Mrs. Turlington and her staff have secured an especially capable faculty for the School.

Eight Instructors

Eight application groups or classes on the general subject "Affluence and Poverty: Dilemma for Christians" will be taught by Mrs. David Cathcart, Florida; Mrs. Junior Avers, Bradentown, Florida; Mrs. George Shock, Winder, Georgia; Mrs. J. Boyd Tyrrell, Roanoke, Virginia; Dr. T. A. Collins, Rocky Mount; Mrs. Sarah Parrott, New York; Rev. Ralph Fleming, Raleigh; and Dr. William Walzer, New York.

Bible Study

The Bible Study each day will be conducted by the Rev. H. Arthur Phillips, Jr., assistant pastor of Edenton Street Methodist Church, Raleigh.

Conference officers of the Woman's Society of Christian Service are: president, Mrs. Sam A. Dunn, Enfield; vice president, Miss Camille Staton, Bethel; recording secretary, Mrs. J. E. Davis, Sanford; and treasurer, Mrs. Harold Mann, Sanford.

Fayetteville - A total of 223 women from 139 Eastern North Carolina Methodist churches registered Monday for the 20th annual School of Christian Mission of the N. C. Conference of the Methodist Church being held at Methodist College this week.

The School, to continue through Friday noon, follows the Wesleyan Service Guild Weekend of Study conducted at the college Saturday and Sunday and attended by approximately 90 women. The Guild is comprised mostly of women who are employed during the week and find it easier to attend a weekend activity.

This week's conference is being highlighted by classes and discussions on "Affluence and Poverty: Dilemma for Christians." Guest speakers include missionaries, representatives of the National Council of Churches, and officials of the poverty program.

In discussing plans for the implementation of the theme, the coordinator, Mrs. C. H. Boyd of New Bern, defined the goals of the School as follows: to provide knowledge; to change attitudes; to motivate to action; and to teach skills.

Tuesday morning's plenary session topic, "Poverty Among Neighbors Abroad," was discussed by the Rev. Edward Smith of Wilmington, formerly a missionary to Africa, and the Rev. George Megill of Durham, just back from service as a missionary in Brazil.

Robert Ward of Raleigh, coordinator for the Poverty Program in North Carolina, will speak on "The Government Programs Under the Office of Economic Opportunity" on Wednesday morning.

A panel will discuss "The Church's Relationship to Government" Thursday morning. Participants on this panel will include: Dr. William Walzer, New York, speaking on the National Council of Churches and what it is doing in respect to the topic; the Rev. Charles Herron, director of Migrant projects in North Carolina under the National Council of Churches; Mrs. George Shock, a worker with the Raleigh City mission; Miss Joan Kiernan, a worker in the Pembroke area; and Dr. Thomas Collins, president of N.C. Wesleyan College.

Discussion of the theme will be concluded with an address Friday by Dr. Guion Johnson of Chapel Hill, who is currently writing a study of the poverty program for the North Carolina Fund. Her job is that of coordinator for the Community Action programs. She will speak on the part Christian women can play and the need for volunteer services in that program.

The staff for the School of Christian Mission consists of: Mrs. H. C. Turlington, Dunn, dean; Mrs. L. C. Vereen, Raleigh, assistant dean; Mrs. Boyd; Mrs. E. B. Fisher, Greenville, registrar; Mrs. C. D. Barclift, Fayetteville, treasurer and business manager.

Other leaders of application groups or classes include: Mrs. David Cathcart, Florida; Mrs. Junior Avers, Bradentown, Fla.; Mrs. J. B. Tyrrell, Roanoke, Va.; Mrs. Sarah Parrott, New York; and the Rev. Ralph Fleming, Raleigh.

The Bible Study is being conducted daily by the Rev. H. Arthur Phillips, Jr., assistant pastor of Edenton Street Methodist Church, Raleigh.

Conference officers of the Woman's Society of Christian Service are: president, Mrs. Sam A. Dunn, Enfield; vice president, Miss Camille Staton, Bethel; recording secretary, Mrs. J. E. Davis, Sanford; and treasurer, Mrs. Harold Mann, Sanford.
