METHODIST COLLEGE EXPANDS ACADEMIC PROGRAM

FAYETTEVILLE - Methodist College will begin offering in September programs leading to the major in Sociology and the minor in Art, according to Dean Samuel J. Womack. In addition, certain modifications in the fields of Mathematics, Physics, Biology, Chemistry and Economics and Business Administration should further enhance the college's educational program, the Dean pointed out.

Inauguration of the academic major in Sociology will mark the fulfillment of several years of planning, Dean Womack explained. Greatly increased student interest in this field created a demand for expansion of course offerings that has now been met by the enlargement of the Sociology department staff.

Dr. Thomas D. Bryant, who comes to Methodist College from Hartwick College, Oneonta, N.Y., will serve as coordinator for the new program. Additional courses for implementation in September have already been approved by the faculty, the Dean stated, with proposals for still more additions to be forthcoming for the spring semester, 1969.

In the field of Art, a marked increase of student interest is credited with helping to bring about the implementation of an academic minor in that subject, college officials said. Still another factor has been recent completion of the college's Fine Arts Building, which offers unusually attractive and modern facilities for art instruction and studio work.

MORE

ADD ONE--M.C. EXPANDS ACADEMIC PROGRAM

In the new program, standard courses in art appreciation, art history and art education will be continued, with courses in Drawing, Painting and Sculpture to be offered separately. The studio course in sculpture, to be taught by Donald Green, art department head, and a course in Basic Design will be new additions to the departmental curriculum. David N. Hutto, Jr., a graduate of the University of Alabama, will join the department staff in September to assist Green.

Appointment of an additional full-time member of the mathematics department staff and inauguration of a new introductory course for mathematics and science majors will significantly improve the program in that department, Dean Womack said. Similar upgrading of introductory courses in Biology, Chemistry and Physics is planned.

The college inaugurated last year on a trial basis a new introductory course in Science for non-science majors; the results were so satisfactory, college officials said, that it will be further refined and expanded on a continuing basis in 1968-69. As now constituted, the course offers a half-semester's work in each of the four subjects, Biology, Chemistry, Earth Science and Physics.

In the Department of Economics and Business Administration curriculum changes will make possible the offering of an additional two semesters of work in accounting for those desiring it. Still another new course, Investments, will be added. Arrangements with the Department of Mathematics will allow economics majors to take a course in Probability and Statistics offered in the latter department.

THE DISTRIBUTION OF THE ELEMENTS

Minister: The peace of the Lord be with you.

People: And with thy spirit.

Minister: Let us give thanks unto the Lord.

O Lord, our heavenly Father, we, thy humble servants, desire thy fatherly goodness mercifully to accept this our sacrifice of praise and thanksgiving; most humbly beseeching thee to grant, that, by the merits and death of thy Son Jesus Christ, and through faith in his blood, we and thy whole Church may obtain forgiveness of our sins, and all other benefits of his passion.

And here we offer and present unto thee, O Lord, ourselves, our souls and bodies, to be a reasonable, holy, and lively sacrifice unto thee; humbly beseeching thee that all we who are partakers of this Holy Communion may be filled with thy grace and heavenly benediction. And although we be unworthy, through our manifold sins, to offer unto thee any sacrifice, yet we beseech thee to accept this our bounden duty and service, not weighing our merits, but pardoning our offenses;

Through Jesus Christ our Lord, by whom, and with whom, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, all honor and glory be unto thee, O Father Almighty, world without end. Amen.

THE HYMN OF FAITH AND DEDICATION (see insert)

THE BENEDICTION

THE POSTLUDE

The hand of Christ is extended over the elements in blessing suggesting His real presence at the Table. The hand position is one used by artists of the early Church. The colors of gold and purple suggest the wheat and wine. "The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not a participation in the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not a participation in the body of Christ?" (1 Corinthians 10:16)

O Lamb of God, that takest away the sins of the world, have mercy upon us.

O Lamb of God, that takest away the sins of the world, have mercy upon us.

O Lamb of God, that takest away the sins of the world, grant us thy peace.

PRAYER FOR THE WHOLE STATE OF CHRIST'S CHURCH

The minister beginning, the people responding:

Most merciful Father, we humbly beseech thee to receive these our prayers for the universal Church, that thou wilt confirm it in the truth of thy holy faith, inspire it with unity and concord, and extend and prosper it throughout the world.

We beseech thee also, so to guide and strengthen the witness of the Church to those in authority in all nations, that they may maintain the justice and welfare of all mankind.

Hear us, we beseech thee, O Lord.

Give grace, O heavenly Father, to all ministers of thy Church, that both by their life and doctrine they may set forth thy true and lively Word, and faithfully administer thy holy Sacraments.

And to all thy people give thy heavenly grace, that with willing heart and due reverence, they may hear and receive thy holy Word, truly serving thee in holiness and righteousness all the days of their lives.

Hear us, we beseech thee, O Lord.

And we most humbly beseech thee of thy goodness, O Lord, to support and strengthen all those who, in this transitory life, are in trouble, sorrow, need, sickness, or any other adversity.

Hear us, we beseech thee, O Lord.

We remember with thanksgiving those who have loved and served thee in thy Church on earth, who now rest from their labors (especially those most dear to us, whom we name in our hearts before thee). Keep us in fellowship with all thy saints, and bring us at length to the joy of thy heavenly kingdom.

Grant this, O Father, for the sake of Jesus Christ, our only mediator and advocate. Amen.

HYMN OF ADORATION

All praise to Christ, the Living Host,
Who does this Table spread
And calls His Family to come
To fellowship in bread.

Rejoice! The memory of love
That first loved us comes near.
The Word, the Cross, the Glorious Day
Once more in heart appear.

Rejoice! For all around us now
Are signs He loves us yet,
For time and space are naught to Him,
His timeless Table set!

Rejoice! In anticipation
We taste the Coming Meal!
For this is but a glimpse of grace
That then He shall fulfill.

Amen.

(Words: F. Belton Joyner, Jr.; Music: Gaynelle S. Glass. Used by permission)

HYMN OF FAITH AND DEDICATION

All praise to thee, for thou, O King divine,
Didst yield the glory that of right was thine,
That in our darkened hearts thy grace might shine:
Alleluia! Alleluia!

Thou cam'st to us in lowliness of thought;
By thee the outcast and the poor were sought,
And by death was God's salvation wrought:
Alleluia! Alleluia!

Let this mind be in us which was in thee,
Who wast a servant that we might be free,
Humbling thyself to death on Calvary:
Alleluia! Alleluia!

Wherefore, by God's eternal purpose, thou
Art exalted o'er all creatures now,
And given the name to which all knees shall bow:
Alleluia! Alleluia!

Let every tongue confess with one accord
In heaven and earth that Jesus Christ is Lord;
And God the Father be by all adored:
Alleluia! Alleluia!

Amen.

AUDIO-VISUAL CENTER TO SERVE METHODIST TEACHER EDUCATION PROGRAM

FAYETTEVILLE -Facilities in audio-visual education marks a significant improvement planned at Methodist College for the 1968-69 academic year, according to Dean Samuel J. Womack.

The establishment of a "Material Center," one of the major projects planned for the coming year, will serve all college departments, but especially the teacher education program. The new facility will combine the college's present "curriculum laboratory" (designed to provide teacher education students with teaching aids and materials they will use in the public school system) with an audio-visual center.

Made possible by award of a federal matching grant, the new audio-visual center will be supplied with most types of audio-visual equipment now in use in public school systems.

"We want our graduates in teacher education to be thoroughly familiar with the potential and the operating procedures of equipment they will find available to them when they begin their actual teaching careers," Dean Womack commented. "They should know as much as possible about the most modern teaching techniques and materials. Our new facility should be of great assistance to them in this respect."

At the same time, audio-visual equipment in the new Center will also be available to all college faculty members for use in their own classroom procedures, Dean Womack explained.

ADD ONE - AUDIO-VISUAL CENTER AT M.C.

The new Center will be located in the Classroom Building and will be under the direction of James H. Price, Jr., who will join the college faculty on September 1 as a member of the library staff. Price, a native of Kannapolis, N.C., holds the Bachelor of Arts degree from Catawba College and will receive the Masters degree in Audio-Visual Education from Appalachian State University in August. During the past year, while completing requirements for the latter degree, he has been employed with the Rowan Public Library, specializing in audio-visual services. Prior to his enrollment at Appalachian State he served for a year as coordinator for the Rowan Technical Institute.

As an expanded facility of the college Davis Memorial Library, the new Center will be under the administrative supervision of Philip C. Smith, Jr., college librarian. Smith was in charge of planning for the new facility, working in coordination with faculty members responsible for the teacher education program.

LANGUAGE LABORATORY EXPANDS

Similar expansion is planned in the college Language Laboratory, established last year through an earlier federal grant, the Dean stated. The initial facility has been able to provide laboratory accommodations for 24 students at a time. Tape recording and playback equipment is used to provide specialized training in French, German and Spanish, with each student assigned an individual listening booth. Addition of 12 more student booths in the laboratory for 1968-69 means a 50 per cent increase in its operation capacity. Dr. Charles G. Rowe, chairman of the Area of Foreign Language and Literature, has administrative responsibility for the laboratory.

② Inauguration of the academic major in Sociology will mark the fulfillment of several years of planning, Dean Womack explained. Greatly increased student interest in this field created a demand for expansion of course offerings that has now been met by the enlargement of the Sociology department staff. ③ Dr. Thomas D. Bryant, who comes to Methodist College from Hartwick College, Oneonta, N.Y., will serve as coordinator for the new program. Additional courses for implementation in September have already been approved by the faculty, the Dean stated, with proposals for still more additions to be forthcoming for the Spring semester, 1969.

4 A marked increase of student interest in the field of Art is credited with helping to bring about the implementation of an academic minor in that subject, college officials said. Still another factor has been recent completion of the college's ~~new~~ Fine Arts building, which offers unusually attractive and modern facilities for Art instruction and studio work. 5 In the new program, standard courses in art appreciation, art history and art education will be continued, with courses in Drawing, Painting and Sculpture to be offered separately. The studio course in sculpture, to be taught by Donald Green, art department head, and a course in Basic Design will be new additions to the departmental curriculum. David N. Hutto, Jr., a graduate of the University of Alabama, will join the department staff in September to assist Green.

6 Appointment of an additional full-time member of the Mathematics department staff and inauguration of a new introductory course for Mathematics and science majors will significantly improve the program in that department, ~~it was pointed out.~~ Dean Womack stated - Similar upgrading of introductory courses in Biology, Chemistry and Physics is planned.

7 The college inaugurated last year on a trial basis a new introductory course in Science for non-science majors and the results were so satisfactory that it will be further refined and expanded on a continuing basis in 1968-69, the announcement stated. As now constituted, the course offers a half-semester's work in each of the four subjects, Biology, Chemistry, Earth Science and Physics.

In the Department of Economics and Business Administration curriculum changes will make possible the offering of an additional two semesters of work in accounting for those desiring it. Still another new course, Investments, will be added. Arrangements have been made with the Department of Mathematics to have Economics majors take a course in Probability and Statistics offered in the latter department.

METHODIST COLLEGE ANNOUNCES FACULTY ADDITIONS

FAYETTEVILLE - Reflecting the continued growth of its student body and the further expansion of its educational program, Methodist College will begin the 1968-69 academic year in September with additions that will bring its total faculty to 66 persons, it was announced today by Dean Samuel J. Womack.

In preparation for an anticipated student enrollment of approximately 1100, largest in the school's history, some five more instructors have been added to the faculty staff since the 1967-68 year, while significant expansions are planned in the fields of art, sociology, mathematics and library services.

Of the 66 persons on the faculty roster for 1968-69, four will be members of the college library staff and two will be on leaves of absence, leaving a total active teaching staff of 60. This contrasts sharply with the faculty staff of eight persons with which the college began operations in 1960.

In addition to the enlargement of the faculty, other changes in staff will be reflected this fall. Replacement of veteran faculty members who have retired at the close of the past year, temporary substitutions for other faculty who have been granted leaves of absence to complete programs leading to the doctoral degree, and replacement of a few who have accepted appointments elsewhere will mean the presence of some 14 faculty newcomers on campus when classes begin on September 12.
