FAYETTEVILLE - It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas everywhere you go on the Methodist College campus.

Residence hall doors are being decorated; administrative offices contain seasonal wreaths and Christmas trees can be seen in various campus buildings. The pace is quickening so that every decoration can be completed for holiday activities.

Events scheduled during the week (December 14-19) include a communion service in Hensdale Chapel on Monday at 11:30 a.m.

Dr. L. P. Fullagar, from the Department of Geology, UNC-CH, will speak at the Science Club meeting on Tuesday at 7:00 p.m. His topic will be "The Age of the Earth."

Also on Tuesday the varsity wrestling team will host Guilford College in a 7:00 p.m. match in the college physical education building.

John Rider, instructor in music, will make his debut with the Methodist College Wind Ensemble with two performances on Wednesday. The Ensemble will play at the Assembly program at 11:30 a.m. and a concert for the public will be given in Reeves Auditorium at 8:00 p.m.

Also on Wednesday a Midnight Candlelight Service has been planned for Hensdale Chapel by the campus Koinonia Club.

A wrestling match with Campbell College will begin at 6:45 p.m. on Wednesday evening in the physical education building.

Methodist College's oldest tradition is set for 6:30 p.m., Thursday, December 18 when the entire college community will attend the 1969 Annual College Christmas Dinner. Sponsored by the Student Government Association, the program includes special music and the annual Christmas message by Dr. Weaver, President of the college. After the Christmas Dinner and Program, the Georgia Prophets will play for the Christmas dance sponsored by the Sophomore Class.

Campus classes and holiday activities will come to a halt on Friday, December 19, ^{12:00 noon} ~~5~~ p.m. for a two-week recess. Classes resume on Monday morning, January 5. Administrative offices, however, will reopen Monday, December 29, 8:00 a.m. after a week's recess.
