Cultural Events Open to Public

J. Hutchinson, Assistant Director of Public Relations - 488-7110, Ext. 228

Two cultural events are open to the public at Methodist College this evening (Tuesday, March 7) in Reeves Auditorium.

The weekly showing of a 13-part film series,
"Civilisation" by Sir Kenneth Clark, continues with the sixth film, "Protest and Communication." (The film features man's history at the time of the development of the Gutenberg printing press and the rise of great literary figures such as William Shakespeare.) It will be shown at 8:00 p.m. in the auditorium.

A reception from 8:00 until 10:00 p.m. will honor Black artist Raphael A. McKenzie, whose works will be displayed March 7 - 24 in the lobby of the auditorium. McKenzie, whose art includes a selection of abstracts in oil, is commanding officer of the 81st Military Police Detachment, 7th Special Forces Group, of the U. S. Army at Ft. Bragg.

FAYETTEVILLE-----Characters in James Costigan's "Little Moon of Alban" will unveil a doubly poignant dilemma in Reeves Auditorium, March 16-17. The setting is Dublin in the early 1920's. A struggle persists for Irish independence.

A young Irish girl, Brigid Mary Mangan, played by Maurine Davidson of Raleigh, turns her back on her family and finds refuge in her religion when an English lieutenant kills her fiance, Dennis Walsh, played by Ray ^{Dor} Holman of Linden.

As a Sister of Charity, Mary is given volunteer-nurse duties in a hospital restricted to English casualties. Her patient is -- the English lieutenant, riddled victim of an IRA (Irish Republic Army) ambush in revenge for Walsh's death. John Williams of Oceanport, N. J., plays the role of Lt. Boyd in the Methodist College production.

Gradually discovering her patient's identity, Mary wishes for vengeance, but is bound by her vows. The plot is complicated with irony when Lt. Boyd falls in love with his nurse.

Miss Davidson ably portrays the bereaved and confused Brigid Mary. A junior at Methodist, she starred as Joan of Arc in "The Lark" staged last spring at the college.

Williams plays a complex role as the invalid soldier, embittered by war and despondent in love. He has played the role of Ruel McQueston in "The Wingless Victory" presented at Methodist in 1969 and was technical director of "The Lark" presented in 1971.

According to Howard Taubman of the "New York Times," "James Costigan makes an eloquent plea for the healing power of faith and forgiveness."

Though set just after World War I, "Little Moon of Alban" affords insight for the continuing troubles in Ireland today, according to Parker Wilson, faculty director of the play and assistant professor of history at Methodist.

Admission is free and the public is invited to both performances.

Request of Dr. Womack _____

Resubmitted 3-15-72 jh

Methodist College offers a flexible degree completion program for military personnel. Transfer credit toward the Bachelor of Arts degree may include the following:

1. Work completed in residence at accredited institutions of higher learning and that completed through extension divisions of accredited institutions.
2. Work completed in service school courses comparable to those offered at Methodist College and listed in the latest edition of the American Council on Education's GUIDE TO THE EVALUATION OF EDUCATIONAL EXPERIENCES IN THE ARMED SERVICES, which will be used to determine credits in individual cases.
3. Work completed through the U.S. Armed Forces Institute (USAFI) with a score in the 25th percentile or higher in courses comparable to those offered at Methodist. Such credits may represent work undertaken in group study, by correspondence, or by end-of-course examinations.

4. Credits earned via the Comprehensive College Testing Program (CCT) with suggested minimum test scores or higher, and the College-Level Examination Program (CLEP), with scores in the 25th percentile or higher, in courses comparable to those offered at Methodist College.

5. Up to eight semester hours of credits in "activities" courses (such as physical education, band, chorus, dramatics) may be awarded those with at least two years of military service.

6. Up to six semester hours of credit may be allowed those with a minimum of one year's service in overseas assignment. Such credit may be applied in terms of college courses in Regional Geography or Cultural Anthropology, or may be applied to fulfill six semester hours of work in foreign studies to meet the foreign language requirement of the college.

A total of 128 semester hours is required for graduation at Methodist College. A minimum of 30 semester hours of academic work must be done on the campus, with at least 24 semester hours in senior-level courses. In terms of the above stipulations, military personnel may submit up to 96 semester hours (or equivalents) of academic credits for evaluation and possible acceptance in applying for admission.

Further information about the degree completion program is available through the Ft. Bragg Army Education Center or from the Director of Admissions at Methodist College.

The Methodist College
DEGREE COMPLETION PROGRAM
For Military Personnel

Methodist College has designed a highly flexible program to provide for the needs of military personnel with some college credits who may wish to avail themselves of the Degree Completion privileges offered by the armed services. Normally, such a program would involve a minimum of one academic year (two regular semesters and one summer session). For those with special needs various combinations of regular, summer and special sessions may be arranged.

Those wishing to enter the Degree Completion Program at Methodist College may submit for transfer credit the following:

1. Work completed in residence at accredited institutions of higher learning and that completed through extension divisions of accredited institutions.
2. Work completed in service school courses comparable to those offered at Methodist College and listed in the latest edition of the American Council on Education's Guide To The Evaluation of Educational Experiences in The Armed Services. The ACE Guide will be followed in determination of credits to be accepted in each case.
3. Work completed through the U. S. Armed Forces Institute (USAFI) with a score in the 25th percentile or higher in courses comparable to those offered at Methodist College. Such credits may represent work undertaken in group study, by correspondence or by end-of-course examinations.
4. Credits earned via the Comprehensive College Testing Program (CCT) with suggested minimum test scores or higher, and the College-Level Examination Program (CLEP), with scores in the 25th percentile or higher, in courses comparable to those offered at Methodist College.

5. Up to eight semester hours of credits in "activities" courses (such as physical education, band, chorus, dramatics) may be awarded those with at least two years of military service.
6. Up to six semester hours of credit may be allowed those with a minimum of one year's service in overseas assignment. Such credit may be applied in terms of college courses in Regional Geography or Cultural Anthropology, or may be applied to fulfill six semester hours of work in foreign studies to meet the foreign language requirement of the college.

A minimum of 30 semester hours of academic work must be done on the Methodist College campus, with at least 24 semester hours in Senior-level courses (courses in the 300 and 400 series in the college catalogue). In terms of the above stipulations, military personnel may submit up to 98 semester hours (or equivalents) of academic credits for evaluation and possible acceptance in applying for admission to Methodist College.

Baseball Team Begins Conference Season
by June Philbeck, Methodist College Student

Contact: Jean Hutchinson - 488-7110, Ext. 228

The baseball team of Methodist College, coached by Bruce Shelley, meets Elon College in their first conference game of the season Saturday at 2:00 p.m.

In pre-season scrimmage the Monarchs have a 4-2 record, losing to Southwood College and Sandhills Community College.

This is the fourth season Methodist has had a ball club and Coach Shelley anticipates that this year will be one of building. Although the Monarchs ended the season last year with a disappointing 7-14 record, Shelley said it was not indicative of their skill. Seven of the lost games were lost by only one run.

Shelley said, "We feel that we may be stronger in the pitching and defense areas. The big question is how well we hit the ball. We have excellent spirit, good attitude and are doing a great deal of hustling."

Seventeen men now comprise the club. Co-captains are Dick McInnis, a senior from Fayetteville, who starts at second base, and Buster Sanderford, a senior from Corinth-Holder, starting as catcher. Sanderford was all-conference catcher last year for Methodist College, hitting an impressive .350.

Other players in the line-up include Jerry Neal from Durham, first base; Pete Dowd from Bricktown, N. J., second base; Jimmy Dean from Wendell, shortstop; and Larry Philpott from Norfolk, Va., third base. Outfielders include Frank Layton from Rocky Mount, Ken Womack from Durham, Ross Laporte from Dover, Del., and Howard Boyer from Laurel, Md.

Pitchers are Barry Willard from Charlottesville, Va., Glenn Hinnant from Wendell and Gary Lewis from Marshallberg. Also, Phil Mullen from Raleigh, pitcher and outfielder; Fletcher Poulk from Fayetteville, pitcher and outfielder; David Byrd from Erwin, pitcher and infielder; and Craig Knight from St. Petersburg, Fla., outfielder and infielder.

The Monarch schedule includes other matches with Lynchburg, N. C. Wesleyan, and St. Andrews in Dixie Conference play, and Campbell, Pembroke, Elon, Guilford and Wilmington in non-conference games.
