METHODIST RECEIVES $2,000 GRANT
FROM SEARS-ROEBUCK FOUNDATION

FAYETTEVILLE--Grants totaling more than $47,000 are being distributed to 39 privately supported colleges and universities in North Carolina this week by The Sears-Roebuck Foundation, a spokesman said today.

In the Fayetteville area, Methodist College received a grant totaling $2,000.

The North Carolina colleges and universities are among almost 1,000 private accredited two- and four-year institutions across the country which are sharing in $1,300,000 in Sears Foundation funds for the 1974-75 academic year. Funds may be used unrestrictedly as the colleges and universities deem necessary.

In addition to its unrestricted grant program, The Sears-Roebuck Foundation each year conducts a variety of special-purpose programs in elementary, secondary, higher and continuing education. Altogether, the Foundation had expenditures of almost $2,750,000 in 1974 for its educational activities.

METHODIST COLLEGE TO HOST COMMUNITY SERVICE PROGRAM

The Community Planning Council of Cumberland County, in cooperation with Methodist College and the League of Women Voters, will hold a forum open to the residents of the Fayetteville area for the purpose of defining the social service needs of the county. "Services for People, Cumberland County's Needs" will begin at 9:45 a.m. on Thursday (January 29) in the Methodist College cafeteria.

Dr. Sid Gautam of Methodist College will serve as program chairman, while welcoming remarks will be given by Roy Parker Jr., chairman of the Community Planning Council and by E. C. Modlin, director of social services.

The main objective of the program is to meet the challenge of a rapidly changing community. This concern, along with the attempt to organize efforts toward efficient results, can only be maintained if the community works together as a service body.

A series of group discussions will be conducted followed by lunch and a concluding "rap session." Individuals, as well as representatives of voluntary or public agencies, are invited to join together in this effort to formulate the priority needs of a community as a community.

URBANIZATION SEMINAR

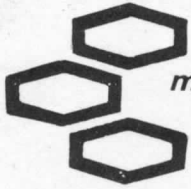

"Urban Growth: Who Is Calling The Shots?", a seminar sponsored by Methodist College, will be held next Wednesday (Feb. 5) at 8 p.m. in the Science Building Auditorium on campus. The public is invited, and there is no admission charge.

This is the second in a series of four programs dealing with the urban growth of Cumberland County. The research project is supported by a grant from the North Carolina Committee for Continuing Education in the Humanities, and is under the direction of Dr. Sudhakar Gautam, chairman of Methodist's Economics and Business Administration Department.

Panelists for Wednesday's program include: Dr. Claude L. Stephens, Jr., a Fayetteville physician; Denny R. Shaffer, chairman of the Fayetteville Sierra Club; Ray A. Muench, Jr., manager of Fayetteville's Public Works Commission; and Ms. Roberta Waddle, Land Use Chairman of the Fayetteville-Cumberland County League of Women Voters. Dr. Richard W. Pearce, president of Methodist College, will serve as moderator.

Each panelist will speak for about 15 minutes. The final hour will be set aside for audience participation and questions.

Future seminars which will tackle the problems of economic, population and cultural growth of Cumberland County will take place on March 5 "Urban Growth: Who Wins And Who Loses?" and April 3 "Urban Growth: What Does Good Growth Look Like?"

FAYETTEVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA

NEWS RELEASE

SOUTHEASTERN ALL STATE BAND CLINIC 1975

On January 31, 1975 some 135 high school students will gather on Methodist College campus for a weekend of rehearsal and performance. These students are the select musicians chosen from a fifteen county area which comprises the Southeastern district of the North Carolina Instrumental music educators organization.

These students were chosen on January 11 at Lumberton High School as each performed for a panel of judges. Of some 200 that auditioned, 130 were chosen to comprise two bands which will rehearse all Friday and Saturday and then give a concert on Sunday, ~~Jan~~ February 2 at 2:00 in the Reeves Auditorium of Methodist College.

The ~~two~~ ^{one} bands will be directed by ~~Capt.~~ Robert Fairchild of the Armed Forces School of Music, ~~and~~ Mr. Ed Taylor, Director of the Clinton High School Band in Clinton, N. C. The Armed Forces School of Music is located in Little Creek, Virginia.

For the directors of the bands represented by these students, a two day workshop will be held with various music educators and local music merchants conducting the program.

The students are being housed by area band parents of Pine Forest High School and others. Mr. Bob Lockey Director of the Pine Forest Band is chairman of housing this year.

The two bands will play an hour long free concert which will consist of challenging Band literature of the representative repertoire. Records of the concert will be on sale in the lobby.

The chairman for the clinic this year is again Mr. J. Mike Rogers Band Director of Methodist College. Mr. Rogers is in his third year of instruction at Methodist having come to Methodist College from Atlantic Christian College in Wilson, N. C. The band and music students of Methodist College will be assisting in the preparations for the three day clinic.

Rehearsals will be held in the college band room and the College auditorium. The public is invited to the rehearsals in the auditorium and also to the free concert on Sunday.

The clinic will end after the concert on Sunday.
