PLANS UNDERWAY FOR MC'S
UNITED STUDENT APPEAL

FAYETTEVILLE--Although the annual Methodist College United Student Appeal (USA) campaign is not until March, planning is already underway according to Student Government Association President Danny Hood.

Last year the highlight of the campaign, which raises funds for charity, was a run-a-thon to Raleigh and a meeting with the governor. This March it is hoped to have a run-a-thon to Washington involving several colleges along Interstate-95. Money raised in the campaign will again go to the National Health Agencies said Hood.

Governor James E. Houlshouser Jr. recently wrote Hood: "I would like to take this opportunity to thank you and the other students at Methodist College for the outstanding success which you have enjoyed during the past two years in your United Student Appeal run-a-thons.

"As Governor, I have the opportunity to witness many outstanding deeds by people of all ages in our state. Seeing the enthusiasm and dedication of those students from Methodist College who have participated in this event has been very gratifying. Whenever I hear persons criticize young people, I frequently use the example of the run-a-thon in which you have been involved.

"Thank you again for what you are doing in the battle against crippling and fatal diseases. We need more efforts like yours on college campuses across the country."

MC NIGHT SCHOOL

REGISTRATION

NOW IN PROGRESS

Rewrite

is presently in progress during the school's regular operating hours, according to Director of Admissions Thomas Yow.

Yow further stated that interested persons who are unable to register during these hours may register <sup>Jan. 17,</sup> this Saturday from 9 a.m. until noon. Additional registration will also be held on September 15 <sup>19</sup> and 16 <sup>20</sup> (the first day of classes) from 6 - 7 p.m. in the Horner Administration Building. Classes meet on a Mon-Wed, Tues-Thurs sequence from 7-10 pm. on campus.

In discussing the ~~new~~ program, Yow emphasized that it is designed for all persons desiring to earn college credit who cannot attend daytime classes.

Methodist College offers its <sup>Night</sup> evening school students the opportunity to earn a full semester's college credit each semester. This is achieved through the use of two terms each semester in which the student may earn six semester-hours each term. Full-time <sup>Night school</sup> students may be eligible for <sup>Federal and state</sup> financial aid <sup>grants</sup> Yow added.

Yow stated that all interested persons should call or write the Admissions Office at Methodist for information and application forms.

METHODIST COLLEGE OFFICIALLY BEGINS SIXTEENTH ACADEMIC YEAR

Methodist College officially began its sixteenth academic year Wednesday morning with a formal College Convocation in Reeves Auditorium.

Faculty promotions, appointments and predictions for the coming year were voiced by Dr. Samuel J. Womack, dean; Dr. Richard W. Pearce, president; and Danny Hood, Student Government Association president.

Joseph M. Rogers, formerly an instructor in music was promoted to assistant professor and Georgia C. Mullen, head librarian, was also promoted from instructor to assistant professor.

New faculty introduced to the student body were: Joseph Miller, assistant professor of physical education; Mary Hunley, instructor in physical education; Dr. Janet Cavano, lecturer in English; and Marlin Stewart, CLU, lecturer in insurance.

Dr. Pearce in his address forecast a good year and enumerated the accomplishments of this past summer and the 1974-75 school year. He noted that enrollment was up slightly although final enrollment would not be known until September 9 when late registration ends. As of Wednesday though resident student enrollment had increased 14 per cent over a year ago. Hood encouraged students to become involved in campus activities and community affairs.

Formal convocations feature the entire faculty marching in full academic regalia.

PEACE ACTIVIST

TO VISIT MC

FAYETTEVILLE--Much has been written about the fall of South Vietnam this past spring. But what about the thoughts and reactions of the North Vietnamese during this time?

The Reverend William Jeffries, pastor of Mount Zion United Methodist Church in Garner, arrived in Hanoi, North Vietnam, just hours after the fall of the Thieu regime in South Vietnam. He will speak about his observations of North Vietnam and its people at the second Methodist College Convocation this Wednesday (Sept. 17) at 10:30 a.m. in Reeves Auditorium. The public is invited.

Jeffries will illustrate his lecture with slides of Hanoi, Hai Phong, Thai Binh province and other areas of North Vietnam he visited. He will also be available for questions.

The Duke University Divinity School graduate was for 10 years a member of the American Friends Service Committee. He flew to North Vietnam as a delegate of the committee which was extended an invitation to visit by the Vietnamese Committee for Solidarity with the American People.

DIRECTOR OF DEVELOPMENT

JOINS METHODIST COLLEGE

FAYETTEVILLE--Dr. Richard W. Pearce, president of Methodist College, today announced the appointment of Robert G. Cole as director of development.

Cole comes to Methodist from the Brevard Music Center, a non-profit educational institution located in Brevard, where he was general manager. His position there encompassed responsibility for public relations, development, business affairs and facilities management.

At Methodist Cole will help draw up the college's 15-year development plan which was approved by college trustees last spring. The long-range plan envisions in part a $2 million field house, a $16 million endowment, and retirement of capital indebtedness.

Cole will also work with the Methodist College Foundation. The foundation, founded prior to the opening of the college, locally attempts to raise $120,000 annually through solicitations.

Cole joined Brevard Music Center June 1, 1973, after having served for two and one-half years as director of development for the University of Tennessee-Martin Campus. Previously, he was director of public relations for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in Memphis. For 11 years, he was employed by General Electric Company in Alabama, Oklahoma and North Carolina in a variety of employee and community relations positions.

Council of Industrial Editors, National Management Association, and Sigma Delta Chi/Society of Professional Journalists. He was recently named by Governor James Holshouser to the North Carolina Arts Council and to the Bi-Centennial Committee in Transylvania County. He is a member of Rotary International.

Cole is a graduate of the University of Alabama with a bachelor of arts degree in journalism and business economics. He has completed several corporate training programs and has taught in-company courses. He recently graduated from the Kennedy-Sinclair Planned Gifts Training Program which is a specialized training program for development and public relations officers.

The native of Huntsville, Ala., is a veteran of the Air Force. He is married and has two daughters--Cynthia, aged 16, a high school senior, and Susan, 11, a sixth grader. His wife, Mary Alice, is a ceramics instructor and is active in PTA and related community affairs. She recently was nominated as an "Outstanding Young Woman in America" by the Western North Carolina Conference of the United Methodist Church.
