NEW COURSE FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL

TEACHERS BEGINS TUES., JAN. 20

FAYETTEVILLE--Methodist College and the Fayetteville District are cosponsoring a course for teachers of Adult Sunday School classes beginning Tuesday, January 20. Two courses will be offered concurrently--one at Methodist College for residents of Cumberland and Harnett Counties, and the other at Roseboro United Methodist Church for residents of Sampson County.

Instructors will be the Reverend Thomas S. Yow and Dr. T. Garland Knott, both of Methodist College. Yow will teach on campus while Dr. Knott will teach in Roseboro.

Yow, director of admissions and financial aid at Methodist, received his bachelor of arts degree from Methodist College and the master of divinity degree from Duke University Divinity School. Dr. Knott, professor of religion, received a bachelor of science degree from Mississippi State University, the bachelor of divinity degree from Emory University, and the Ph.D. from Boston University.

The first session begins Tuesday, January 20 at 7 p.m. with each two-hour class meeting every Tuesday evening thereafter for 13 weeks.

Following the "International Uniform Lesson Series," each class will be devoted to the actual preparation of the lesson for the following Sunday in addition to working with teaching materials, methods and techniques, and consideration of what Methodists believe.

SPRING ENROLLMENT UP

AT METHODIST COLLEGE

FAYETTEVILLE--Enrollment for the spring semester at Methodist College shows an increase of 77 students over this same period last year.

According to figures released today by G. Gordon Dixon, registrar, there are 672 students enrolled for the spring semester. Of this number, 620 are enrolled in the regular day program, and 52 are registered for night school. Last spring the student body numbered 595.

This increase represents the second consecutive semester of enrollment growth at Methodist College. Enrollment for the 1975 fall semester was up 10 per cent over the fall semester, 1974.

Dr. Richard W. Pearce, president, attributes this growth to many factors including Methodist's academic program, the support the college receives from the community and the United Methodist Church, and the student life emphasis on involvement.
