FAYETTEVILLE RESIDENT CHOSEN

MISS METHODIST COLLEGE

Miss Chun Hui Song, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jae Hwan Song of Tree Top Drive, Fayetteville, was crowned Miss Methodist College Thursday night in the third annual Miss Methodist College Pageant sponsored by Pi Kappa Phi fraternity.

Miss Song is a native Korean, majoring in chemistry whose future plans include attending medical school. Miss Song, a freshman, was crowned by last year's queen, Miss Pamela Gayle Brice.

First runner-up was Miss Kimberly Horne, a freshman majoring in English from Fayetteville. Miss Janice Price, a junior from Sanford majoring in elementary education, was second runner-up. Miss Congeniality, an award voted on by the contestants themselves, was Miss Ginger Workman, a junior elementary education major from Raleigh.

Other contestants in the pageant included Robbi Cooper and Fay Parrows of Fayetteville, Renate Mayo of Fort Bragg, Marsha Hudson of Vass, and Ann Morrow of New York City.

The Miss Methodist College Pageant was one of many activities held at Methodist this week in celebration of Spring Festival Week. Other events included an appearance by the Apple Chill Cloggers of Chapel Hill, a male beauty contest to find Ms. Monarch (Robert Bryant of Red Springs), a picnic, and various athletic events including golf, men's and women's tennis, softball and baseball. Spring Festival Week at Methodist will conclude with a dance in the Student Union Saturday Night.

METHODIST COLLEGE HOSTING

'THE INVISIBLE FIRE' APRIL 28

FAYETTEVILLE--"The Invisible Fire," an oratorio by Cecil Effinger telling of the conversion experience of John Wesley, will be performed by the Methodist College Chorus on April 28 at 8 p.m. in Reeves Auditorium on campus.

Accompanying the 38-member College Chorus will be a 40-piece orchestra. The production is under the direction of Alan M. Porter, assistant professor of voice at Methodist.

Featured soloists will be Ellen Buckner, soprano, Drew Taylor, alto, Dr. Charles Moore, tenor, and David Faber, bass.

Buckner has sung leading roles in opera all over the world. In 1969-70 she was under contract to the Heidleburg Opera Company.

Taylor, a graduate of Methodist College, is assistant to the general manager of the Washington Opera Society. While attending Methodist, she was a soloist with the College Chorus and the choir of Hay Street United Methodist Church.

Dr. Moore is chairman of the Voice Department at East Carolina University.

Faber is a graduate student at East Carolina University.

"The Invisible Fire" was commissioned in the mid-1950s by the National Methodist Student Movement and the Department of Worship and the Arts of the National Council of Churches.

Many of the words of the oratorio are drawn from documents of the Wesley family. The hymns of Charles Wesley are used liberally. Also used are letters of the two brothers and their mother, Susanna Wesley, the journals of both John and Charles, sermons of John Wesley, and passages from Holy Scripture.

Other passages are based upon actual events. Wesley was in fact rescued from a burning house as a child, and he was in several severe storms at sea which shook his faith. The Moravians were a primary source of religious inspiration to him.

"The Invisible Fire" is under the joint sponsorship of Circa '76 and Methodist College. Tickets, which can be purchased at the door the night of the performance, will cost $2 per person.

JOHN W. HENSDALE NAMED

'ENTREPRENEUR OF THE YEAR'

John W. Hensdale, retired vice-president of Belk Hensdale Department Stores, will be the first recipient of the "Entrepreneur of the Year Award."

The award is being established this year by the Economics and Business Club of Methodist College. Formal presentation of the award will be made at a banquet Thursday evening (April 15) in the College Cafeteria.

Jerry A. Keen of Goldsboro, a 1965 business administration graduate of Methodist, will receive the annual "Economics and Business Alumnus Award" at the same time. Keen is vice-president of Johnson-Sherman Company, Goldsboro.

Hensdale first became associated with Belk in 1917 at Belk Stevens Company in Winston-Salem. During 1923, he became manager of his first Belk store in Reidsville. So successful was he that in 1926 he moved to Fayetteville and opened a new Belk store. As a managing Belk partner, he began opening additional Belk stores in the Fayetteville area, and today there are 14 in the Hensdale group.

Hensdale has served as president of the Fayetteville Merchants Association and Fayetteville Rotary Club, chairman of the Board of Trustees of Haymount United Methodist Church, a trustee of Louisburg College and chairman of numerous fund raising campaigns highlighted by his active participation in the founding of Methodist College in 1956. Today he is secretary of the Methodist College Board of Trustees and is a member of the Methodist College Foundation.

Flutes, clarinets, saxophones, cornets, and horns, along with some percussions instruments, make up the Wind Ensemble.

The Stage Band, consisting of 17 Methodist College students, will perform a number of selections, most of which are recent popular compositions. Included in the program are such pieces as "The Hustle" by Van McCoy; "The Rockford Files" by Mike Post and Peter Carpenter; "I Honestly Love You" by Peter Allen and Jeff Barry; "Daniel" by Elton John; "Love Will Keep Us Together" by Neil Sedaka and "Lying Eyes" by the Eagles. Vocalists for the Stage Band are Cheryl Olson, Frank Dawson, and Louis Rodriguez. The Stage Band consists of flutes, saxophones, trumpets, trombones, guitar, piano, and drums.

J. Michael Rogers, director of bands at Methodist, will conduct both performing groups.

SENIOR PIANO RECITAL

SET FOR MON. AT MC

FAYETTEVILLE--Methodist College student Mildred H. Dexter will perform her senior piano recital this Monday (April 26) at 10:30 a.m. in the Recital Hall of the Fine Arts Building.

She will play Tschaikowsky's "B flat Minor Concerto First Movement" with orchestral reduction for the second piano played by Mrs. Jean Ishee, assistant professor of piano and organ. She will also play Douglas Townsend's "Three Fantasies on American Folk Tunes for Two Pianos" with Prof. Ishee.

Mrs. Dexter, a resident of Fayetteville, studied music in Germany for three years prior to enrolling at Methodist College. She has performed on radio and TV and for civic clubs, teas, luncheons, weddings etc. At Methodist she is a dean's list student and accompanist for the College Chorus. In the community Mrs. Dexter is a church organist and a member of the Charminade Club.

An art minor, Mrs. Dexter won a blue ribbon for an oil painting she entered in the open art show at Methodist College in December.

ART GALLERY TO PRESENT AT MC
EXHIBIT, SALE OF ORIGINAL PRINTS

The Methodist College Art Department will sponsor an exhibit and sale of approximately 600 original prints from the Ferdinand Roten Galleries collection on Monday (April 26). The event will be held at the Student Union from 9 a.m. - 5 p.m.

Along with prints by such masters as Picasso, Goya, Renoir and Hogarth, can be seen works by many of today's American artists, some famous and some not yet famous. The informal displaying of the collection allows visitors to examine at close range the various graphic techniques of different artists.

Visitors are invited to browse through this collection of original graphics. A knowledgeable Roten representative will be on hand to answer questions about the prints and the artists and to discuss other prints not in this collection but which may be obtained from the gallery in Baltimore.

Ferdinand Roten holds exhibitions and sales at major museums, colleges, art galleries and art centers throughout the United States and Canada.

STUDENT NEWSPAPER AT MC
WINS NATIONAL HONORS

FAYETTEVILLE--The student newspaper at Methodist College has received a first place rating in two national competitions.

The newspaper competed with other college and university newspapers published during the fall semester receiving the highest rating a newspaper can achieve on scorebook points alone. The contests were sponsored by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association (CSPA), an affiliate of Columbia University, and the Associated Collegiate Press (ACP), which is associated with the University of Minnesota.

The ACP judge said, "SMALL TALK is an excellent publication indicative of sound journalism and high standards." He especially liked "The Living Water" religion column of Ruth Davis of Conway, S.C., as a "signed column of opinion having merit."

The CSPA judge even gave SMALL TALK 25 bonus points "for compressing a wealth of interesting information into its pages thanks to intelligent writing and editing."

Newspapers were judged on content and coverage, writing and editing, editorial leadership, physical appearance, and photography. Executive staff members of the newspaper were Kathy Ewing of Durham, editor, Thomas Pope Jr. of Fayetteville, sports editor, and Rick Williams of Fayetteville, chief photographer.

METHODIST COLLEGE NIGHT SCHOOL BEGINS SUMMER TERM MAY 10

FAYETTEVILLE--Registration for the Methodist College Summer Session Night School is now being conducted during regular college operating hours. A special registration will also be held Saturday, May 8, from 9 a.m. - noon in the Horner Administration Building.

The night school, which will run from May 10-July 16, will feature nine courses from among five academic departments.

Included in the courses being offered are Macroeconomics, Survey of English Literature, Western Civilization I, and Survey of the Old Testament on Monday and Wednesdays from 7 - 9:15 p.m.

Courses to be offered Tuesday and Thursday evenings include Microeconomics, Survey of English Literature, Western Civilization II, Freshman Mathematics, and Survey of the New Testament.

A maximum of two courses can be taken. Since only lower division courses are being offered in this night school session, Term III of the 1976 Summer Session is being opened to night school students. "Term III is conducted on a tutorial basis and normally doesn't involve scheduled class sessions. One meets with the instructor to get assignments, etc. and confers with him periodically at a mutually convenient time at his office," said Dr. Samuel J. Womack, dean.
