

methodist college
fayetteville, n. c. 28301

Oct. 1, 1976

From Alan Stowers
METHODIST COLLEGE NEWS BUREAU
(919) 488-7110 ext. 228

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NEWS

HOMECOMING WEEK BEGINS

MON. AT METHODIST COLLEGE

FAYETTEVILLE--Homecoming Week at Methodist College will begin Monday with a full range of activities planned for the week. Highlighting the twelfth annual reunion will be a performance Saturday by The Serendipity Singers.

"Step Into Fall With Fashion," a fashion show sponsored by Garber Residence Hall, will kick off Homecoming Week. The show will begin at 8 p.m. Monday in Reeves Auditorium on campus with an admission charge of $1 per person at the door.

Seventeen Garber Hall coeds will model clothes furnished by J.C. Penny Co. Inc. and The Capitol Department Store-Downtown. Male models will be 10 Methodist College students, and their clothes will be furnished by Fleishman's and Howard Whitaker Formal Wear, both of Cross Creek Mall.

The Homecoming Talent Show, featuring talent from the Methodist College student body, will begin at 8 p.m. Thursday in Reeves Auditorium. Tickets costing $1 for adults and 50¢ for children will be available at the door.

Saturday, October 9, is Homecoming Day. From 10-1 one can view a sidewalk chalk drawing contest around the Yarborough Bell Tower.

A picnic lunch is planned for the central mall of the campus with entertainment provided by the College Chorus, Stage Band and the English Handbell Ensemble.

begin Monday with a full range of activities planned for the week. Highlighting the twelfth annual reunion will be a performance Saturday by The Serendipity Singers.

"Step Into Fall With Fashion," a fashion show sponsored by Garber Residence Hall, will kick off Homecoming Week. The show will begin at 8 p.m. Monday in Reeves Auditorium on campus with an admission charge of $1 per person at the door.

Seventeen Garber Hall coeds will model clothes furnished by J.C. Penny Co. Inc. and The Capitol Department Store-Downtown. Male models will be 10 Methodist College students, and their clothes will be furnished by Fleishman's and Howard Whitaker Formal Wear, both of Cross Creek Mall.

The Homecoming Talent Show, featuring talent from the Methodist College student body, will begin at 8 p.m. Thursday in Reeves Auditorium. Tickets costing $1 for adults and 50¢ for children will be available at the door.

Saturday, October 9, is Homecoming Day. From 10-1 one can view a sidewalk chalk drawing contest around the Yarborough Bell Tower.

A picnic lunch is planned for the central mall of the campus with entertainment provided by the College Chorus, Stage Band and the English Handbell Ensemble.

The Homecoming Soccer Game against Averette College begins at 2 on the Soccer Field. At halftime the 1976 Homecoming Queen will be crowned.

Rounding out Saturday's activities will be The Serendipity Singers in concert at 8 p.m. in Reeves Auditorium. Admission is $2 per person at the door.

###

methodist college
fayetteville, n. c. 28301

Oct. 15, 1976

From Alan Stowers

METHODIST COLLEGE NEWS BUREAU

(919) 488-7110 ext. 228

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NEWS

VACANCIES STILL EXIST IN

3 MC NON-CREDIT COURSE S

Dr. James E. Vann, director of the Division of Continuing Education at Methodist College, said today that vacancies still exist in three non-credit courses being offered by the division.

The courses are: Effective Speaking for Executives and Leaders which begins October 19 at noon at the St. James Inn; Divorce--Problems and Adjustments which begins October 20; and Parliamentary Procedure which begins October 25. The latter two courses are evening classes being offered on campus.

Additional information can be obtained from the Methodist College Division of Continuing Education, telephone 488-7110 ext. 221.

###

methodist college
fayetteville, n. c. 28301

Oct. 15, 1976

From Alan Stowers
METHODIST COLLEGE NEWS BUREAU
(919) 488-7110 ext. 228

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NEWS

TERM II EVENING COLLEGE

BEGINS MONDAY, OCT. 25

Twenty-six courses from among 15 academic departments will be offered in the Term II Evening College of Methodist College which begins Monday, October 25 and runs to December 14.

Classes will meet on a Monday-Wednesday or Tuesday-Thursday sequence each evening from 6:30-9:20. A student can register for six semester-hours each term.

Of special interest to prospective real estate agents is Business Administration 350, Principles of Real Estate, which will be offered Tuesdays and Thursdays. Successful completion of the course allows the student to sit for the North Carolina State Board Examination.

Admission requirements for the Evening College are a high school diploma or GED equivalency. Additional information can be obtained from the Division of Continuing Education at Methodist College, telephone 488-7110 ext. 221.

###

methodist college
fayetteville, n. c. 28301

Oct. 15, 1976

From Alan Stowers

METHODIST COLLEGE NEWS BUREAU
(919) 488-7110 ext. 228

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NEWS

MC STUDENT NEWSPAPER

WINS NATIONAL AWARD

sMALL TALK, the student newspaper of Methodist College, has received a Second Class Honor Rating in national competition sponsored by the Associated Collegiate Press at the University of Minnesota School of Journalism.

Over 1,500 college publications entered the contest which covered publications produced this past spring semester. Judges were professional journalists, and sMALL TALK scored 3,680 points of a possible 4,500. The newspaper was judged in five areas: coverage and content; writing and editing; editorial leadership and opinion features; physical appearance and visual communication; and photography, art and use of graphics.

"sMALL TALK is a very good newspaper which is doing a good job in a workmanlike manner," the judges said.

Executive staff members of the publication last semester were: Kathy Ewing of Durham, editor; Thomas Pope of Fayetteville, sports editor; Ken Martin of Raleigh, sports photographer; Jim Nash of Silver Spring, Md., reviews editor; and Margaret Pope, Manuel Maselka, Betty Salyer and Karen Tomolonius, all of Fayetteville, copy editors.

###

methodist college
fayetteville, n. c. 28301

Oct. 18, 1976

From Alan Stowers

METHODIST COLLEGE NEWS BUREAU

(919) 488-7110 ext. 228

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NEWS

ENGINEERING WORKSHOP

TO BE OFFERED AT MC

FAYETTEVILLE--The continuing education division of Methodist College, in conjunction with North Carolina State University, will offer a workshop on Multiplying Management Effectiveness November 15-18.

Two sessions will be offered to provide an opportunity for shift workers to participate. The afternoon sessions will meet from 1:30-4:30 and the evening sessions from 5:30-8:30 Monday through Thursday. There will be a $34 per person registration fee which includes all student study materials.

Dan Harrell, extension training specialist with the industrial extension service, School of Engineering at NCSU, will lead the workshop which will meet in the Kelly-Springfield Tire Co. Conference Room.

Primary objectives of the workshop are to provide participants with a fundamental appreciation for the importance of executive effectiveness in the modern organization, and to motivate participants to use the concepts of executive effectiveness in their everyday work situations.

This workshop is open to managers and supervisors at all levels and is especially recommended for those in middle management and above.

Registration must be completed on or before November 8 in the office of continuing education at Methodist College.

###

to be offered at ~~UNCW~~ ^{METHODIST}

The Industrial Extension Service of the School of Engineering at North Carolina State University will offer a workshop on Motivational Techniques at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington Sept. 27-30 ~~Nov 15-18~~

The workshop is open to all levels of supervision and is especially recommended for first line through middle level supervisors and key employees being groomed for supervisory positions.

Two sessions will be offered to provide an opportunity for shift workers to participate. The afternoon sessions will meet from 2-4 p.m. and the evening sessions from 6-9 p.m. Monday through Thursday. There will be a $27 fee for participation.

Registration must be completed on or before ~~Nov 8~~ in the office of continuing education at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington, room 216, Alderman Building. Cancellations must be received one week prior to the beginning of the workshop for the individual or company to be relieved of financial responsibility.

DAN HARREN
Bill G. Simpson, extension training specialist at NCSU, will lead the workshop which will meet in Alderman Building, room 214.

Primary objectives of the workshop are to develop in supervisors a greater awareness of motivational factors, to practice determining why employees act as they do and applying practical methods to gain positive objectives, and to recognize the importance of emotions in order to control conflicts in management.

CREATIVE KITCHEN AND BATH DESIGNS

1717 North 23rd Street

"custom designed"

CABINETRY

For Every Room In Your Home!

BRIDES

Specializing in

Sterling • China • Crystal

No Charge Reception Service

Berman's

JEWELERS - SILVERSMITHS - STATIONERS

For Over Three Decades
Wilmington's Finest Jewelers

*The Cond. Ed.
Div. of MC, in con-
JN CONJUNCTION WITH ME*

*MULTIPLY
MANAGEMENT
EFFECTIVENESS*

*Conference Room or
KEELY-
SPRINGFIELD
TIRE Co.*

*See
OTHER
HANDOUT*

MC

MULTIPLYING MANAGEMENT EFFECTIVENESS

OBJECTIVES

- . To provide participants with a fundamental appreciation for the importance of executive effectiveness in the modern organization.
- . To motivate participants to use the concepts of executive effectiveness in their everyday work situations.

WORKSHOP DESCRIPTION

Doing today what was done yesterday has never been good enough. Today the demand is for executives who can do things that haven't been done before -- those that can marshal resources required to do new things -- those that can identify and capitalize on opportunities. In short, this means that a company's managers and other key employees must increase their effectiveness, if they are to meet the challenges of a changed tomorrow.

Peter Drucker has identified certain practices which will enable an executive to make an uncommon contribution. These practices can result in the executive acquiring the self-control necessary for outstanding performance by him and by his organization. This seminar will explore these practices.

The presentation will include the series of five films by Peter Drucker. The films will be coordinated appropriately into the program and participants will be given time for reaction and discussion. A textbook, The Effective Executive, will be provided to each participant for his use and future reference.

This seminar is open to managers and supervisors at all levels and is particularly recommended for those in middle management or above.

WORKSHOP OUTLINE

SESSION I

Effectiveness Can Be Learned

- What is Expected Of The Executive
- Why We Need Effective Executives
- Who Is An Executive?
- Can Effectiveness Be Learned?

Managing Time

- The Time Demands on The Executive
- Time Diagnosis
- Pruning the Time-Wasters
- Consolidating "Discretionary Time"

Focus on Contribution

- Key to Executive Effectiveness
- The Executive's Own Commitment
- How To Make The Specialist Effective
- Avoiding Operational Obsolescence

SESSION II

First Things First

- Producing Results Effectively By:
Concentrating Scarce Resources,
Capabilities, and Time
- Doing the Right Things One at A
Time

Slough Off Yesterday and Focus on Tomorrow

Priorities and Posteriorities

Making Strength Productive

- The Unique Purpose of Organization
- Staffing From Strength
- How Do You Manage Your Boss?
- Making Yourself Effective

SESSION III

Effective Decisions

- The Specific Executive Task: Making
Decisions
- The Elements of the Decision Process
- Getting the Process Started
- Disagreement: A Necessary Prerequisite
- Where Most Decisions are Lost

Effectiveness Must Be Learned

- The Steps to Executive Effectiveness--
A Summary
- Guidelines for Effectiveness

MULTIPLYING MANAGEMENT EFFECTIVENESS

OBJECTIVES

- . To provide participants with a fundamental appreciation for the importance of executive effectiveness in the modern organization.
- . To motivate participants to use the concepts of executive effectiveness in their everyday work situations.

WORKSHOP DESCRIPTION

Doing today what was done yesterday has never been good enough. Today the demand is for executives who can do things that haven't been done before -- those that can marshal resources required to do new things -- those that can identify and capitalize on opportunities. In short, this means that a company's managers and other key employees must increase their effectiveness, if they are to meet the challenges of a changed tomorrow.

Peter Drucker has identified certain practices which will enable an executive to make an uncommon contribution. These practices can result in the executive acquiring the self-control necessary for outstanding performance by him and by his organization. This seminar will explore these practices.

The presentation will include the series of five films by Peter Drucker. The films will be coordinated appropriately into the program and participants will be given time for reaction and discussion. A textbook, The Effective Executive, will be provided to each participant for his use and future reference.

This seminar is open to managers and supervisors at all levels and is particularly recommended for those in middle management or above.

WORKSHOP OUTLINE

SESSION I

Effectiveness Can Be Learned

- What is Expected Of The Executive
- Why We Need Effective Executives
- Who Is An Executive?
- Can Effectiveness Be Learned?

Managing Time

- The Time Demands on The Executive
- Time Diagnosis
- Pruning the Time-Wasters
- Consolidating "Discretionary Time"

Focus on Contribution

- Key to Executive Effectiveness
- The Executive's Own Commitment
- How To Make The Specialist Effective
- Avoiding Operational Obsolescence

SESSION II

First Things First

- Producing Results Effectively By:
Concentrating Scarce Resources,
Capabilities, and Time
- Doing the Right Things One at A
Time

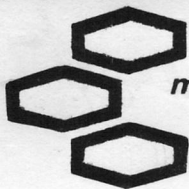

Slough Off Yesterday and Focus on Tomorrow

- Priorities and Posteriorities
- Making Strength Productive
- The Unique Purpose of Organization
- Staffing From Strength
- How Do You Manage Your Boss?
- Making Yourself Effective

SESSION III

Effective Decisions

- The Specific Executive Task: Making
Decisions
- The Elements of the Decision Process
- Getting the Process Started
- Disagreement: A Necessary Prerequisite
- Where Most Decisions are Lost
- Effectiveness Must Be Learned
- The Steps to Executive Effectiveness--
A Summary
- Guidelines for Effectiveness

methodist college
fayetteville, n. c. 28301

Oct. 18, 1976

From Alan Stowers

METHODIST COLLEGE NEWS BUREAU
(919) 488-7110 ext. 228

23

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NEWS

UN DAY

SUNDAY

FAYETTEVILLE--Alexander A. Coundouriotis, minister-counselor of the Greek Embassy in Washington, will be the featured speaker as Methodist College joins with Fayetteville in celebrating "UN Day."

The day-long program begins Sunday afternoon (Oct. 24) and is under the direction of Dr. Sid Gautam, professor of economics at Methodist College.

From 1:30-4:30 an open air painting and drawing contest will be held at Rowan Park. Two divisions, children and adults, will vie for prizes. Participants should bring their own supplies.

From 5:30-7 an international dinner will take place at the Methodist College Cafeteria with Coundouriotis as guest of honor. Cost is $4 per adult, $2 per child, and reservations must be made by Friday.

From 7:15-9:15 a cultural program free to the public will be held in Reeves Auditorium on the campus of Methodist College. Mayor Beth Finch will announce the art contest winners and Coundouriotis will make brief remarks.

Other activities of UN Day include films Saturday at 2 in the Bordeaux Library and a week-long UN exhibition beginning Monday at Frances Brooks Stein Memorial Library.

Coundouriotis was born in 1931 in Lausanne, Switzerland, and is a graduate of the University of Athens Law School. He is married and has three children.

Since 1957, he has worked for the Greek foreign service in various capacities

Greek Embassy in Washington, will be the featured speaker as Methodist College joins with Fayetteville in celebrating "UN Day."

The day-long program begins Sunday afternoon (Oct. 24) and is under the direction of Dr. Sid Gautam, professor of economics at Methodist College.

From 1:30-4:30 an open air painting and drawing contest will be held at Rowan Park. Two divisions, children and adults, will vie for prizes. Participants should bring their own supplies.

From 5:30-7 an international dinner will take place at the Methodist College Cafeteria with Coundouriotis as guest of honor. Cost is $4 per adult, $2 per child, and reservations must be made by Friday.

From 7:15-9:15 a cultural program free to the public will be held in Reeves Auditorium on the campus of Methodist College. Mayor Beth Finch will announce the art contest winners and Coundouriotis will make brief remarks.

Other activities of UN Day include films Saturday at 2 in the Bordeaux Library and a week-long UN exhibition beginning Monday at Frances Brooks Stein Memorial Library.

Coundouriotis was born in 1931 in Lausanne, Switzerland, and is a graduate of the University of Athens Law School. He is married and has three children.

Since 1957, he has worked for the Greek foreign service in various capacities. He has been minister-counselor since May.

###

methodist college
fayetteville, n. c. 28301

Oct. 20, 1976

From Alan Stowers

METHODIST COLLEGE NEWS BUREAU
(919) 488-7110 ext. 228

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NEWS

HAY STREET UMC CELEBRATES METHODIST COLLEGE DAY

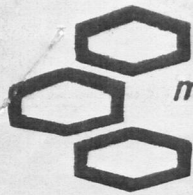

FAYETTEVILLE--William P. Lowdermilk (left), assistant to the president of Methodist College, Vernon C. Tyson (center), senior minister of Hay Street United Methodist Church, and Dr. Richard W. Pearce, president of Methodist College, discuss "Methodist College Day" just prior to the Sunday (Oct. 17, 1976) service.

This is the second year in a row that Hay Street Church has hosted this recognition day. The occasion was initiated by Rev. Tyson who also serves as a member of the Methodist College Board of Trustees, and the Council of Ministries, Mrs. R. B. Goforth Jr., chairperson.

Last year, over $2,000 was raised for the College. At press time the amount was nearing $1,500 for this year.

Also having a part in the service were the College Chorus and the Vocal Ensemble under the direction of Prof. Alan Porter. These groups provided special music and closed the service with the Alma Mater.

###

methodist college
fayetteville, n. c. 28301

Oct. 23, 1976

From Alan Stowers
METHODIST COLLEGE NEWS BUREAU
(919) 488-7110 ext. 228

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NEWS

HILLSBORO ST. SCHOOL KIDS

HAVE FIELD DAY AT METHODIST

Ethos, a student club at Methodist College for those interested in sociology and social work, held its fifth annual Field Day for Exceptional Children Saturday on the campus of the college.

Some 60 students from Hillsboro Street School were guests of Ethos for a day of games, entertainment and picnicing.

Pat Gray, a social work major who is president of Ethos, organized the outing with the cooperation of Mrs. Vivian Smith, head teacher at Hillsboro, and Prof. Earl Martin, adviser to Ethos.

Approximately 25 Methodist College students worked with the group including the Adaptive Physical Education class of Prof. Joe Miller. The students played group games, jumped on the trampoline in the gym, took nature walks and toured the art gallery in the Fine Arts Building.

Later in the day, a cookout was held in the O'Hanlon Amphitheater with entertainment provided by Methodist College students.

The Fayetteville City School system provided buses with the Fayetteville Fine Arts Council providing drivers and transportation expenses.

Mrs. Gray said the next major project of Ethos is the annual Older Adult Outing in the spring.

###

methodist college
fayetteville, n. c. 28301

Oct. 24, 1976

From Alan Stowers
METHODIST COLLEGE NEWS BUREAU
(919) 488-7110 ext. 228

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Please return
NEWS

GREEK EMBASSY OFFICIAL
SPEAKS AT METHODIST

For Alexander A. Coundouriotis, deputy chief of mission for the Greek Embassy in Washington, the United Nations has a special meaning because of the two UN peacekeeping missions in the world today, one is patrolling the "Atilla Line" on Cyprass

Coundouriotis spoke on the UN last evening at Methodist College as Fayetteville celebrated UN Day. Earlier in the evening, he was guest of honor at an international dinner in the college cafeteria.

Cyprus has been independent from Great Britain since 1960. Some 80 per cent of its inhabitants speak Greek and look upon Greece as their "motherland." The other 20 per cent are of Turkish extraction.

In mid-1974 Turkey invaded the island, and now occupies about 40 per cent of the land area. The Greek and Turkish factions are separated by the "Atilla Line" which is policed by the UN. The only other UN peacekeeping force is stationed in the mid-east.

Coundouriotis said from a strictly military viewpoint that the UN has been a failure because Turkey has thus far gotten away with aggression even though the UN has unanimously condemned Turkey in two resolutions.

"Overall however, the UN has been a good influence," Coundouriotis added. "The UN resolutions have acted as a

a special meaning because of the two UN peacekeeping missions in the world today, one is patrolling the "Atilla Line" on Cyprass

Coundouriotis spoke on the UN last evening at Methodist College as Fayetteville celebrated UN Day. Earlier in the evening, he was guest of honor at an international dinner in the college cafeteria.

Cyprus has been independent from Great Britain since 1960. Some 80 per cent of its inhabitants speak Greek and look upon Greece as their "motherland." The other 20 per cent are of Turkish extraction.

In mid-1974 Turkey invaded the island, and now occupies about 40 per cent of the land area. The Greek and Turkish factions are separated by the "Atilla Line" which is policed by the UN. The only other UN peacekeeping force is stationed in the mid-east.

Coundouriotis said from a strictly military viewpoint that the UN has been a failure because Turkey has thus far gotten away with aggression even though the UN has unanimously condemned Turkey in two resolutions.

"Overall however, the UN has been a good influence," Coundouriotis added. "The UN resolutions have acted as a deterrent to further aggression, and the UN's humanitarian efforts on behalf of the 200,000 refugees have been very helpful."

(more)

Coundouriotis believes the crisis will ease eventually "but first Turkey must be willing to negotiate."

Greece and Turkey almost got into another scrap this summer when a Turkish ship began exploring for oil in the Aegean Sea. Greece considers the Aegean a part of their country, but has agreed to abide by a world court decision on the dispute. The world court (officially called the United Nations International Court of Justice in The Hague, Netherlands) is expected to issue a decision soon. Turkey, Coundouriotis said, has not yet agreed to abide by the world court decision.

Coundouriotis also mentioned UN efforts in pollution control and nuclear proliferation. For example the UN is mounting a world-wide campaign to preserve and protect the Acropolis which is now ~~being destroyed~~ because of air pollution.

Coundouriotis said he cannot understand the right-wing slogan: "Get the U.S. out of the UN, and the UN out of the U.S."

"Sure it needs improvement," he said, "but change comes from within--not from walking away from the problem. Society is not perfect, but one lives in society."

All-in-all, Coundouriotis said most of humanity has faith in the UN and its future even when small, poor nations have an equal vote with the superpowers.

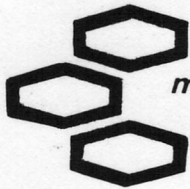

(more)

It provides a forum for small countries like mine to complain and be heard," he said.

It's a representative democracy of the world and what better organization for the world's most powerful democracy and the birthplace of democracy to belong to together--the UN.

###

methodist college
fayetteville, n. c. 28301

Oct. 27, 1976

52

From Alan Stowers
METHODIST COLLEGE NEWS BUREAU
(919) 488-7110 ext. 228

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NEWS

ORGAN RECITAL

IS SUN. AT MC

FAYETTEVILLE--A special recital featuring the Schantz Pipe Organ in Methodist College's Hensdale Chapel is scheduled for Sunday (October 31) at 3:30. Limited seating is available for the public.

Jean Ishee, assistant professor of piano and organ, will play: "Toccata and Fugue in D Minor" by J. S. Bach; "Herzlich thut mich verlangen" by Johann Kirnberger; "Aria con varazione" by G. Martini; "Allegro pomposo" by Thomas Roseingrave; choral preludes from "Zu Bethlehem geboren" and "Morgenglanz der Ewigkeit" both by Helmut Walcha; and "Prelude and Fugue on BACH" by Franz Liszt.

Also participating in the recital will be the College Chorus, under the direction of Prof. Alan Porter, singing "Little Organ Mass" by Joseph Haydn. Soloist will be Betty Neill Parsons. Instrumentalists in the recital will include six violinists, a cellist, a double bass and two trumpeters.

The new 706-pipe organ was especially designed for Hensdale Chapel and was installed in May.

Prof. Ishee received the bachelor of music degree from Greensboro College and the master of arts degree from the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill. She has completed additional graduate study at the Juilliard School of Music, New York City, and has studied organ under Mildred Towne, Glen Watkins and Lillian Carpenter.

FAYETTEVILLE--A special recital featuring the Schantz Pipe Organ in Methodist College's Hensdale Chapel is scheduled for Sunday (October 31) at 3:30. Limited seating is available for the public.

Jean Ishee, assistant professor of piano and organ, will play: "Toccata and Fugue in D Minor" by J. S. Bach; "Herzlich thut mich verlangen" by Johann Kirnberger; "Aria con varazione" by G. Martini; "Allegro pomposo" by Thomas Roseingrave; choral preludes from "Zu Bethlehem geboren" and "Morgenglanz der Ewigkeit" both by Helmut Walcha; and "Prelude and Fugue on BACH" by Franz Liszt.

Also participating in the recital will be the College Chorus, under the direction of Prof. Alan Porter, singing "Little Organ Mass" by Joseph Haydn. Soloist will be Betty Neill Parsons. Instrumentalists in the recital will include six violinists, a cellist, a double bass and two trumpeteers.

The new 706-pipe organ was especially designed for Hensdale Chapel and was installed in May.

Prof. Ishee received the bachelor of music degree from Greensboro College and the master of arts degree from the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill. She has completed additional graduate study at the Juilliard School of Music, New York City, and has studied organ under Mildred Towne, Glen Watkins and Lillian Carpenter.

This past summer Mrs. Ishee toured Europe studying and playing some of the oldest and most famous pipe organs in the world.

Prof. Ishee joined the faculty of Methodist College in 1960, and since 1959 has served as organist/choirmaster of St. John's Episcopal Church.

###

methodist college
fayetteville, n. c. 28301

Oct. 27, 1976

From Alan Stowers
METHODIST COLLEGE NEWS BUREAU
(919) 488-7110 ext. 228

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NEWS

Photo to accompany:

ORGAN RECITAL
IS SUN. AT MC

PROF. ISHEE PRACTICES FOR SUNDAY RECITAL

Mrs. Jean B. Ishee, assistant professor of organ and piano at Methodist College, practices on the new organ which will be played this Sunday in Hensdale Chapel.

###

methodist college
fayetteville, n. c. 28301

Oct. 27, 1976

22

From Alan Stowers
METHODIST COLLEGE NEWS BUREAU
(919) 488-7110 ext. 228

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NEWS

17 MAKE 'WHO'S WHO'

AT METHODIST COLLEGE

FAYETTEVILLE--Seven Fayetteville area students attending Methodist College have been elected to appear in the 1977 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

They are: Betty J. Mitchell, Wanda K. Mitchell, Jane L. Peterson, Gary G. Rigsbee, Mary A. Sopolak and Virginia M. Williams, all of Fayetteville and Sheldon J. Bathurst of Ft. Bragg. They are among 17 who were elected at the college.

North Carolina students named for inclusion include: Frank G. Braley, Garner; Kenneth K. Daniel Jr., St. Pauls; Kathy L. Ewing, Durham; Blanche E. Lee, Four Oaks; Victor C. Mansfield II, Raleigh; Debra A. Underwood, Havelock; Yvonne B. Walker, Hillsborough and Wanda G. Willett, Sanford.

Out-of-state students named to the honor are Gale L. Cannon, Haddonfield, N.J. and John Gedeon, Pittsburgh, Penn.

Eligibility requirements include a grade-point-average of at least 2.5 on a 4.0 scale, two semesters in residence at Methodist College, junior or senior level standing and significant contributions to the student life program. The full faculty elect honorees based upon recommendations of the Student Government Association and individual faculty members.

###

methodist college
fayetteville n. c. 28301

Oct. 29, 1976

From Alan Stowers

METHODIST COLLEGE NEWS BUREAU

(919) 488-7110 ext. 228

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NEWS

LOCAL GIRL ELECTED

HOMECOMING QUEEN

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C.--Ann V. Morrow, daughter of William R. Morrow, 5601 Seminary Rd., Falls Church, is the 1976 Homecoming Queen of Methodist College.

Miss Morrow was elected by the student body. She was sponsored in the contest by Ethos (the sociology club) and Cumberland Residence Hall. Her escort was Dr. John Kluttz, assistant professor of education and psychology.

At Methodist College this semester Miss Morrow is serving as secretary of Ethos, president of the Green and Gold Masque-Keys (drama group), historian of Alpha Xi Delta sorority and senator-at-large in the Student Government Association Senate.

Methodist College is a fully accredited four-year, residential, coeducational college of liberal arts and sciences located on a 600-acre campus overlooking the Cape Fear Valley. It is affiliated with the United Methodist Church, and enrollment is 797.

###