While at Hillsborough, McLeod was named "Teacher of the Year", the Durham Morning Herald's "Wrestling Coach of the Year" and the Monogram Club's "Coach of the Year".

McLeod has left his coaching days behind but continues to participate in a variety of sports. "Tennis, swimming, softball - any sport is my favorite." claims McLeod.

Duke University awarded McLeod a fellowship for graduate study and he was a member of the Education Honor Society while at Duke. He also served as assistant wrestling coach at Duke.

"I really wanted to get back into a college atmosphere," said McLeod, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Colin Dixon McLeod of 1809 Lyon Road. "I look forward to dealing with students who have elected to get an education rather than those who are forced."

And now Dr. Dixon has come full circle - back to where it all began. Only now he is on the other side of the dean's desk.

METHODIST STUDENT WINS

TWO-YEAR ROTC SCHOLARSHIP

FAYETTEVILLE -- Methodist College junior Jeff Cavano has been awarded a two-year full Army ROTC Scholarship according to Capt. Glenn Blackburn, assistant professor of military science at Methodist College.

Cavano was selected to receive the scholarship due to an exceptional leadership performance during Basic Camp held at Ft. Knox, Kentucky this summer.

The scholarship will pay for Cavano's tuition at Methodist College for two years in addition to all text books, laboratory fees, and a tax-free subsistence allowance of $100 per month.

"Jeff is an outstanding thinker and decision maker - two of the strongest leadership characteristics," Blackburn said. "He solves problems accurately and is sensitive to people's needs."

"I feel that Jeff has all the potential to be an asset to tomorrow whether it is in the military or in civilian life."

A qualified diver and member of the Methodist College ROTC Squba Team, Cavano will complete the ROTC program at Methodist College upon graduation and may enter the U. S. Army as a 2 Lt. He plans to attend Airborne School

METHODIST GRADUATE PLUMMER KEEPING IT IN THE FAMILY

FAYETTEVILLE -- For Deana Plummer, the first graduate of Methodist College and its ROTC program to be commissioned into the U. S. Army as a second Lieutenant, the step up into the armed forces seemed only natural.

Service in the army is a family affair with her family. In pinning ceremonies held in the LaFayette Room of the Davis Memorial Library at Methodist College, her husband Walter, a 1st lieutenant in the 82nd Airborne read the oath of office.

The pinning of the lieutenant bars was done by her father, Ltc (ret.) Dean Cobert and father in law Ltc (ret.) Walter H. Plummer, Jr. Plummer was officially commissioned by Ltc. Dywane Cude, P.M.S. of Campbell College ROTC.

Plummer came to Methodist when her husband was transferred to Ft. Bragg from Texas. She was a student student at Midwestern University and participated in the ROTC program there.

In fact, that's where she met her husband. In a ROTC field exercise at Midwestern. "We were on a field exercise exercise and I shot him with a blank," Plummer explained. "But he wouldn't die" I was interested in the program to begin with, but she added to it."

Plummer is the first female transportation officer to be commissioned at Ft. Bragg and she feels that being in transportation will help her and her husband stay together. "I don't anticipate any problems in staying together when it comes time for a transfer," Plummer said. "There is always a need for transportation officers."

While enrolled in the ROTC program at Methodist, Lt. Plummer was battalion adjutant, company commander and was airborne qualified at Ft. Benning, Geo.

Another Methodist graduate was commissioned this summer when Wayne Carter took the oath and was inducted into the Tennessee National Guard as a 2nd Lieutenant. Carter, also very active in ROTC at Methodist will attend Law School at the University of Tennessee.

Plummer will report to Ft. Eustis, Va. for Officer Basic Course and then to Ft. Bragg for her first tour of duty.

METHODIST COLLEGE HOLDS SUMMER GRADUATION EXERCISES

FAYETTEVILLE -- Methodist College held graduation exercises for summer graduates on August 25 in Hensdale Chapel on the Methodist campus.

Mr. Ramon Yarborough, publisher of the Fayetteville Observer/Times, addressed the graduates stating that completion of a college degree is a beginning of perhaps several careers within a lifetime.

"Life is too short not to live it interestingly and enthusiastically," stated Yarborough. "Everyone should pursue his interest even if that interest changes within a lifetime."

Honor graduates among the 20 receiving degrees were Susan St. George Peluso of Fayetteville, Summa Cum Laude; and Jimmy Roger Cash, Sherrie Lynette Horne and David Richard Curtiss, all of Fayetteville, Cum Laude.

Receiving degrees of Bachelor of Arts were Jeffery Douglas Glendening, Fayetteville; Dayna Jones Pollett, Fayetteville; Kenneth Madison Beam, Fayetteville; Grafton Smith, Fayetteville; Maurice L. Lancaster, Fayetteville;

ROTC Cadet Mitchell
RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP

FAYETTEVILLE -- Junior Max Mitchell, a transfer student at Methodist College from Wingate College, has received a two-year Army ROTC scholarship based on his performance at ROTC Basic Camp at Ft. Knox, Ky.

Mitchell, who will join the Methodist College ROTC program in the fall, placed first in his company of 1,000 men in academic and leadership performance skills at the Ft. Knox camp.

This performance earned him the Grades Military Skills Test Award which is presented to the cadet in each company who attains the highest score on a three-mile endurance course. The exercise is the culmination of all training in Basic Camp. Mitchell, a native of Fayetteville, scored 296 points of a possible 300.

Mitchell, who was also selected to the honorary position of S-2 on the graduation Battalion Staff, is the second Methodist College cadet to receive a ROTC scholarship this year. The scholarship pays for tuition along with text books, laboratory fees and a $100 per month subsistence allowance. Jeff Cavano, also a junior at Methodist, received a scholarship in early August.

HEMERIC TO PARTICIPATE IN MONARCH BASEBALL

FAYETTEVILLE -- East Wilkes graduate Randy Hemric will attend Methodist College this fall and play baseball for the Monarchs in the spring announced head baseball coach Mark Bonn.

Hemric, a transfer student from Wingate College, will play infield for the Monarchs. While at East Wilkes, the prep standout was named All-Conference all three years in District VII, 2-A league.

Hemric played at Wingate where he batted .485 and had four home runs. "Hemric can play either short stop or second base for us," said Bonn. He is a very good hitter and has a strong arm. He should help the infield strengthen next year."

Hemric is the 16th baseball player to chose Methodist College this year.

PULASKI STANDOUT TOLBERT TO PITCH FOR METHODIST COLLEGE

FAYETTEVILLE -- Pulaski City High School graduate Terry Tolbert will attend Methodist College this fall and play baseball for the Monarchs according to head coach Mark Bonn.

The 6-3, 185 pound pitcher-center fielder recorded a 9-3 record in 1978 with 70 strikeouts and a 2.11 earned run average. He was named to the second team All-Roanoke Valley Conference Team at center field and was honorable mention as a pitcher.

"Tolbert will help our team on the mound and well as in center field," said Bonn of the East-West All-Star game selection. "Physically, he is very strong and should see a lot of action as a freshman."

"We are glad to have him attend Methodist College and hope more athletes in the Pulaski area will be able to attend Methodist and participate in sports."
