JOANNE JONES REIGNS

AS METHODIST HOMECOMING QUEEN

Fayetteville - JoAnne Jones of Ellerbe was crowned Homecoming Queen during festivities at Methodist College this weekend.

Ms. Jones, a senior English major at Methodist, was selected by vote of the student body and crowned by Ms. Alice Pearce, Homecoming Queen 1977.

Members of the Homecoming Court were Cindy Edwards of Elizabethtown, Lynn Granger of Fayetteville, and Janine Jenerette of Tabor City, and Jewel Absher of Elizabethtown.

A Dingus Scholar, Ms. Jones has distinguished herself in academics while at Methodist. She served as Chief Marshall of 1978 Commencement Exercises, a Methodist College Scholar, a member of Alpha Chi and editor of Tapestry, the Methodist literary magazine.

Ms. Jones has also been active in the theatre arts productions and was selected a member of the honorary drama fraternity, Alpha Psi Omega. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Jones and a graduate of Richmond Academy.

FRESHMAN TALENT MARKS

CROSS COUNTRY AT METHODIST

FAYETTEVILLE--Three returning lettermen along with eight incoming freshman runners have given the Methodist College cross country program a big boost in its development as the Monarchs stand 6-3.

According to coach Mark Bonn, outstanding freshmen coupled with returning runners Gregg Barnhill of Aynor, S.C.; Dusty Pappendick of Timberlake, N.C.; and Donnell Moore of Vernon, Vermont have provided Methodist College with one of its finest cross country teams.

"This year there are eight freshman runners with Pappendick, Barnhill and Moore as the nucleus of the team. Those three are having a great year and the eight new freshmen have really helped the team. Bob Braaden of Richmond, Va.; Donnie Barbour of Raleigh; Jim Scott of Treasure Island, Fla.; and Bert Trigg of Union Beach, N.J. have had a very good year."

"Donnell Moore is running the best he has ever run. He has cut four minutes off his time. Dusty Pappendick has also cut four minutes and Gregg Barnhill has cut his by five," continued Bonn.

'CLOSE ONES' PLAGUE
METHODIST TENNIS TEAM

FAYETTEVILLE - One match often makes a difference in tennis and such is the case in several matches of the women's tennis team at Methodist College.

The Monarchs, under first-year coach Rose Paul Blackwell, are currently 2-5. But that does not indicate the kind of season they are having. All of the Methodist losses with the exception of a 6-3 loss to North Carolina-Wilmington have been by a 4-5 score.

"We just can't seem to win that extra match when it counts," said Blackwell. "It's hard to lose 5-4."

"Our main problem this year has been doubles play, but I expect that to pick up as we progress into the season; we are improving. Even though we lost to Pembroke State in our last match, we still improved and I feel we could very well win our last four matches."

Pembroke State, St. Mary's College of Raleigh and Atlantic Christian (2) are the remaining matches on the Methodist schedule. "St. Mary's will be the toughest match of the four," said Blackwell. "They are supposed to be very strong from what I gather from the other coaches."

For the most part, the Monarchs have little difficulty in singles play and have become increasingly consistent as the season has progressed.

"Jenny and Jeanne are evenly matched players," continued Blackwell. "Jenny has played number one most of the year, but the two play off just about every week for the position."

Jenny is undefeated in singles and that's remarkable considering she is playing at the number one position. She has been playing good tennis up to this point," said Blackwell. Despite Jeanne Edwards 4-2 mark, coach Blackwell says she has had a rough time so far this season. "She has had some close matches that she has lost, but I expect Jeanne to come around and play to her potential."

Number three seed Kathy Keene has the second best singles mark on the club winning five matches in six outings. "She is a good, steady player and has done very well in singles," said Blackwell. Keene hails from Everglades City, Fla..

Sophomores Susan Walsh of Fairfield, Ohio; Liz Chiles of Fayetteville and Cindy DiDolci of Bloomingdale, N.J. fill the four, five and six spots after playing in reserve rolls on last year's squad.

"Susan has improved this year, but has had some tough matches at the number four spot," said Blackwell. "So far she hasn't been able to win the close one, but I'm hoping that will change. METHODIST INDUCTS SEVEN INTO ALPHA CHI HONORARY

Seven Methodist College students have been inducted to membership in the North Carolina Mu chapter of Alpha Chi, a national honor scholarship society, according to Dr. Samuel Womack, Dean of the College and chapter sponsor.

Membership in Alpha Chi is limited to no more than the top 8 per cent of the junior and senior classes.

Those invited to membership are the following: Jewell Absher of Elizabethtown, Sharon Gaines of Fayetteville, Victoria Saunders of Elizabeth City, James Townsend of Fayetteville, Cynthia Edwards of Bladenboro, Mary Moloff of Fayetteville and Bonnie Jean Strawder of Lillington.

The objectives of Alpha Chi are to promote and to recognize superior scholarship and those elements of character that make for effective service. The society, founded in 1922, has more than 150 chapters in 39 states and represents the highest academic honor on any member campus.

FAYETTEVILLE -- Gregg Barnhill, one of three Methodist College runners to participate in the Myrtle Beach Ocean Forest Autumn Run, finished fourth overall in the event with a time of 36:44.

Barnhill, a native of Aynor, S.C., also finished atop the 19-29 category in the race in which close to 800 runners participated.

Fellow Methodist runners Dusty Pappendick of Roxboro and Terry Carpenter of Fayetteville finished 12th and 74 overall in the race.

The Myrtle Beach Ocean Forest Autumn Run, a 10,000 meter race along the beach, was only the second race Barnhill has entered in. The other was the Fayetteville Fun Run in which he finished 11th.

"I only started running about a year ago," Barnhill said. "At first I ran for basketball and I found I enjoyed it. I started running cross country and was finishing good. The worst I have done in conference meets is fifth place."

"I was surprised that I finished fourth in the race," continued Barnhill. "At first I ran with the leaders then they pulled away and I held back and stayed in fourth position. The three that finished in front of me had much more experience than me; the winning time was in the mid 33's."

Barnhill has led the Monarch finishers in every Dixie Intercollegiate Athletic Conference meet with finishes of first place, second, two third and a fifth. He has cut his time down four minutes from his present pace at this time last season.

Pappendick, a sophomore at Methodist, finished in the top five of the 19-29 age group for men. Like Barnhill, he is relatively new to long distance running.

"I have always enjoyed running. I ran a little in high school, then dropped it for a while," said Pappendick who started running again on last year's cross country team.

"Basically, it a way to stay fit and it gives me a sense of freedom. I ran a lot over the summer - about five or six miles a day. That's a lot of heat and sweat. Last year I was running at the 31-32 minute mark, but this year I'm around 28 now. "

Terry Carpenter was the only other Methodist runner in the race finishing 74th. Carpernter, a former runner with the all-post team at Ft. Bragg while with 1st COSCOM, is a freshman at Methodist. He completed the course at 42:26.

DEBORAH OZMANT OPENS SENIOR
ART EXHIBIT AT METHODIST

Methodist College Senior Deborah Ozmant will open her senior exhibit on Sunday, Nov. 12 with a reception in Reeves Auditorium lobby.

The 30-piece exhibit will offer a variety of mediums including drawing, painting, printmaking, silkscreen, relief, intaglio, sculpture, crafts and watercolor.

"Painting is ^{currently} my favorite medium and ^{one of the} ~~my~~ most challenging," says Ozmant.

"The more I know about painting, the more complex it becomes."

Ozment is a native of New York City and spent the majority of her early years in South America. After her return to the States, Debbie began her art study with ~~a~~ courses in ~~printmaking~~ ^{drawing & then into printmaking}.

"I still love printmaking - it spurred my interest to pursue art as a career," states Ozment, who is hoping for a career as an illustrator after her December graduation.

Contrasts are apparant in the works to be displayed, ranging from "Quadristar," a sculptured bug with a wing-span of 6 feet, to ^{"Alone"} "A Thought," a print measuring ^{1 1/2" x 1 1/2"} ~~3" x 6"~~.

Although Ozment feels apprehensive about the display of her works at this time, she is adamant about the valuable experience gained in putting on her own show.

"It's very much like getting married only worse," says Ozmant. "My preparation is good, but I'll never stop learning."

WORLD'S LARGEST CARILLON TO PERFORM OUTDOOR CONCERT AT METHODIST COLLEGE

FAYETTEVILLE--The world's largest and most valuable mobile musical instrument, the Pepsi Carillon, is scheduled to perform a free open-air concert at Methodist College on Friday, October 27, at 2:30 p.m. in the central mall area.

The carillon consists of thirty-five bronze bells, tuned chromatically and played manually by means of levers from a console. The largest bell, middle C, weighs 583 pounds and the total weight of the bells is 3860 pounds.

Larry Weinstein, 25-year old carillonneur, is the youngest person ever to receive the coveted diploma from the Royal Netherlands Carillon School. A native New Yorker, he was the first American to be awarded first prize in the playing competition sponsored by the Dutch Carillon Society. In 1977 he was awarded the Prix d'Excellence by the Dutch government, a prize established to honor world-renowned carillonneurs.

Sponsored by the Methodist College Music Department, the concert is open to the public at no charge.

METHODIST SENIOR WINS NATIONAL FINE ARTS SCHOLARSHIP

Ann Morrow, a senior at Methodist and editor of Small Talk, received the National Fine Arts Scholarship awarded annually through the Alpha Xi Delta Foundation of the Alpha Xi Delta Fraternity to one outstanding fine arts student in the nation. Only members of Alpha Xi Delta may apply.

Ann, the winner of this $300 scholarship, was chosen at the National Convention during the summer. The requirements for this scholarship include two reference letters from chosen faculty members and previous involvement in any fine arts on the college level. No grade point requirement is involved.

The New York City native believes that involvement in other areas besides fine arts and Alpha Xi Delta is important also. And Ann lives up to that belief. At Methodist, she has been on the Student Union Board, belonged to the Drama Club and Ethos, as well as serving as Senator-at-Large. A North Carolina Legislative Delegate in her sophomore year at Methodist, Ann was named co-chairperson last year. She was also homecoming queen of Methodist in 1976.

Ann plans to go into graduate work after her graduation from Methodist in May.

Minister's Children Prevalent at Methodist -- In a student body of 775, there are 21 Minister's dependents enrolled at Methodist. What does this say about pursuit of Christian Education by children who have been reared in highly religious atmosphere? Does this somehow discount the theory of Minister's Children being the "Meanest kids on the block"?

Campus Minister Paul Granger Gets Pilot's License -- Fulfilling a childhood dream, Paul Granger has gotten his wings. His reasons, experiences and insights provide interesting feature material.

Koinonia Coffeehouses Offer New Look At Christian Fellowship -- Disco dancing lessons; improvisational theatre; bluegrass music are but a few of the coffeehouse ideas being put into action by the campus religious life group.

Did You Say 7:30 a.m.? -- Methodist College students are following the Prayer Breakfast tradition of Full Gospel and others with weekly prayer breakfasts held at 7:30 on Friday mornings where students ^{and staff} give personal testimony.

Methodist Has New Christian Education Degree -- Responding to an increasing demand for Christian Educators, Methodist College now offers a degree in Christian Education.

HOSTS 'METHODIST COLLEGE SUNDAY'

FAYETTEVILLE--Haymount United Methodist Church heeded the words of Charles Wesley who said "Unite the pair so long disjointed/ Knowledge and vital piety" in hosting Methodist College Sunday on October 22.

The Reverend Paul G. Bunn of Haymount conducted the service and Methodist College President Richard W. Pearce delivered the sermon on "Christian Higher Education."

Using as his text the words of Ezekiel, Dr. Pearce called Christian Education an education for the hands, the head and the heart.

"The hands must train for the Christian way of life. . .the head must tell the hands what to do. . .and the heart will tell the head what is right and wrong and good and bad," asserted Dr. Pearce.

"Methodist College must teach its students to serve not only themselves but also others," Dr. Pearce continued. "If hands only serve themselves, then education has failed."

In his address, Dr. Pearce also praised the United Methodist Church for its dedication to Christian higher education, noting that Methodists are the largest single Protestant supporter of colleges in the United States. Among the 101 impressive colleges begun by the Methodist Church are the University of Southern California, Ohio State University, Duke University and Southern Methodist University.

"And in this tradition, Methodist College was founded. It is your college--I invite you to visit it," said Pearce.

Other highlights of the service included special music by the Methodist College Chorus. Under the direction of Mr. Alan Porter, the chorus performed Pachelbel's "Now Thank We All Our God,": Palestrina "Adoramus Te," and the popular "Joy In the Morning" by Sleeth.

ALAN PORTER TO PERFORM IN CONCERT AT METHODIST

A program varying from the music of J.S. Bach and Handel to that of contemporary composers John Paynter and George Rochberg will be performed by Alan M. Porter, tenor, on Nov. 15 at 8:00 p.m. in Reeves Auditorium on the Methodist College campus. Harlan Duenow will accompany at the piano.

The first portion of the program will include Baroque songs by J.S. Bach, Handel, and Pelham Humfrey; late Romantic French songs by Duparc and Faure; and the Mozart aria from Don Giovanni, "Il mio tesoro intanto."

The second half of the recital will contain a series of German songs by Beethoven and Brahms, and a group of contemporary English songs, among them George Rochberg's "Rise Up My Love, My Fair One" set to a Biblical text and Giannini's "Tell Me Oh Blue, Blue Sky."

Mr. Porter will also sing the aria "Liebe II" from Boris Blacher's Abstrakte Oper Nr. I. This opera, composed in 1953, is a group of seven scenes, each one depicting a particular emotion. "Liebe II" is a series of nonsense syllables arranged in such a way as to depict the emotion of love. Mr. Porter sang the tenor role in the opera while doing graduate study at the University of Illinois. He repeated the role in a commercial recording for Studio Neue Musik.

ALAN PORTER TO PERFORM IN CONCERT AT METHODIST

A program varying from the music of J.S. Bach and Handel to that of contemporary composers John Paynter and George Rochberg will be performed by Alan M. Porter, tenor, on Nov. 15 at 8:00 p.m. in Reeves Auditorium on the Methodist College campus. Harlan Duenow will accompany at the piano.

Mr. Porter is a member of the Music faculty at Methodist College, where he teaches voice and conducts the Methodist College Chorus and Handbell Choir. Mr. Duenow holds the position of organist-director at Main Post Chapel at Fort Bragg and is conductor of the Fayetteville Symphony.

The team of Porter-Duenow has been presenting programs on a regular basis for fifteen years, both locally and throughout the state.

The concert is open to the public at no charge.

METHODIST TO HOST NCAIAW

STATE VOLLEYBALL TOURNAMENT

FAYETTEVILLE -- Methodist College will host the North Carolina Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women District III state volleyball tournament November 10-11.

Eight teams will compete in the season-ending tournament to be held in the Methodist College gymnasium, home of the defending champion Monarchs. Four teams from both the East and West divisions will advance to the tournament and will be named Monday, Nov. 6. They will be chosen by their division record.

Play begins at 10 a.m. on Friday in the double elimination tournament and will continue through the evening. The quarterfinals will begin at 10 a.m. Saturday and the semi-finals and finals will be held Saturday afternoon.

Trophies will be awarded to the champions and runner-up and a six women all-tournament team will be selected according to Mary Jane Hunley-Bonn, Methodist coach and tournament director.

Dorm space is available for participating teams and admissions will be charged on a per day basis for the tournament. Discounts will be available for college and
