METHODIST COLLEGE GRADUATES HEAR SAM RAGAN SPEAK

FAYETTEVILLE--Dr. Sam Ragan, editor and publisher of THE SOUTHERN PINES PILOT, spoke to a graduating class of 96 during Commencement Exercises at Methodist College on Sunday, May 4, in Reeves Auditorium.

Ragan called for an affirmation of the American system and the American people.

"It seems to me that the American system, the American people have been subjected to some heavy doses of criticism in recent years, a criticism adversely affecting the American spirit. Now is the time for affirmation--an affirmation of America and the human spirit.

"Go into the world with wonder, because there is still much to wonder about, and there are still people who believe there are truths which are self evident, and that life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness are rights for all to enjoy."

In other special presentations during the exercises, Dr. Ragan was presented an honorary Doctor of Letters degree from Methodist College for his contributions to the profession of journalism and for his unflinching support of the arts in North Carolina.

The Honorable Beth Finch, mayor of Fayetteville, was awarded the prestigious Methodist College Medallion for outstanding achievement in local government and continued commitment to civic affairs. Mayor Finch is the third recipient of the Methodist College Medallion in the

GREEN & GOLD MASQUE-KEYS

METHODIST COLLEGE • FAYETTEVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA

TO: Area Churches.

FROM: Dr. Jack Peyrouse

RE: A religious experience at Methodist College

On May 29, 30, and 31, we are going to have a free event at Methodist College which we think might interest you and your congregation.

At 6:45 in the O'Hanlon Outdoor Theatre, a performance of Godspell will begin. As you probably already know, it is a musical based upon the Gospel according to St. Matthew. This exciting rock and roll musical tells Jesus' story in modern terms in a concept which appeals to youthful tastes.

It is an exciting concept of Jesus as a modern day "Superman" with such songs as "Prepare Ye the Way of the Lord," "Day by Day," "Turn Back, O Man," and "Light of the World."

It might be enjoyable for families of your congregation to come and picnic at Methodist College as they watch the free performance at 6:45. No reservations are needed--just bring a picnic and a blanket and be ready for a unique religious experience.

Alice Arrington of Reid Ross Senior High is directing; Holly Robinson is choreographing; and H.B. Hight is musical director for the production.

Come and see area high school students join with Methodist College students for an entertaining experience dedicated to the glory of God.

SOPRANO BRENDA BYRD
TO GIVE VOICE RECITAL

FAYETTEVILLE--A voice recital will be presented by soprano Brenda Byrd in the Band Room of Methodist College on Sunday, May 18 at 4:00 P.M. Presented will be works by Bach, Handel, Schubert, Puccini, and Barber. She will be accompanied at the piano by Rennie Beyer, Head of the Methodist College Community Music Program.

Brenda Byrd is a native of Burlington, N.C. and has in her background piano, violin, cello, choral and orchestral experiences. She obtained from UNC-G the Bachelor of Music degree in Music Education with a Voice Principal. Now residing in Fayetteville, she is Director of Music at Christ United Methodist Church and gives private instruction in piano and voice. Most recently she performed the Brahm's "Liebeslieder" waltzes with the newly formed Methodist College Concert Quartet. She plans to begin work at UNC-G this summer on a Master's degree in Vocal Pedagogy. She is currently studying with Alan Porter, Voice Instructor at Methodist College.

Ms. Byrd's husband, Joe Lupton, is also Director of Music at Christ United Methodist Church and is Choral Director at Stedman Jr. High School.

TO: Middle and Secondary School Theatre Teachers

FROM: Dr. Jack Peyrouse

RE: Youth Theatre

As you may already be aware, the 1980 Youth Theatre is being sponsored by Fayetteville Recreation and Parks, Fayetteville Public Schools, Methodist College, and Grassroots Arts Grant.

I would be interested in spending about 15 or 20 minutes with your theatre class this month telling them about the opportunities which they can take advantage of. If you have the time, I would appreciate the opportunity--and could even make it into a one-period talk about modern drama and the place our productions have in that.

I think we have an exciting conception going this summer and would like to share it with your students.

If you would like for me to speak, please call Mrs. Gwen Sykes, 488-7110, Ext 246 and arrange for me to come to your class.

SMALL TALK TAKES

TOP NATIONAL HONORS

FAYETTEVILLE--For the fifth consecutive semester, the Methodist College student newspaper Small Talk has won the First Class Honors Rating from the Associated Collegiate Press.

Small Talk is a bi-weekly publication at Methodist College, edited by Tricia Turner of Fayetteville. Ms. Turner is a Rankin scholar at Methodist, majoring in English.

Mary Skar, national judge for Associated Collegiate Press, called Small Talk "a trendsetter in collegiate papers."

"Small Talk is a lively publication reflecting a realistic picture of the energy and enthusiasm of a small college campus," says Ms. Skar.

Small Talk also received two Marks of Distinction in coverage/content and physical appearance/visual communications. Marks of Distinction are "rewards of initiative and innovation, within the bounds of sound journalism, that exceed standards for excellence."

Other staff members for the 1979-80 issues were Phil McAllister of Penns Grove, N.J.; Cheri DePriter of Fayetteville; Ann Johnson of Fayetteville; Phil Fallin of Athens, Georgia; Byron Beall of Goldsboro; John Braden of Fayetteville; and Gwen Sykes, advisor.

METHODIST COLLEGE NAMES

1980 HONOR GRADUATES

FAYETTEVILLE--Methodist College named 13 of its 96 graduating seniors as honor graduates during recent Commencement Exercises held on the Methodist campus.

James J. Townsend graduated Summa Cum Laude with the highest academic average in the senior class. A Presidential Scholar, Townsend entered Methodist after his junior year in high school and maintained the top average in his class for the three years of undergraduate work in French and Spanish. He will attend Georgetown University School of Foreign Service in the fall.

Townsend is married to Shirley Thompson Townsend and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Townsend of Fayetteville.

Victoria Lynne Saunders of Elizabeth City graduated Magna Cum Laude during the May exercises. She is an Elementary Education major with a concentration in K-3.

Cum Laude graduates for Spring 1980 were Dennis Ray Brewster, Jeffrey Paul Cavano, William P. Nugent, Patricia Alderman Harrison, Jeannie Osborne Smith, Dorothy A. Zeller, Timothy W. Zeller, E. Susan Dumas and Carolyn Ann Sykes, all of Fayetteville.

Other Cum Laude graduates include William Robert McNeill, Jr. of Red Springs and George Thomas Holland of Jacksonville, NC.
