A strong, four-team field will highlight the first Methodist College Invitational Soccer Tournament scheduled for September 10 and 11 on the Methodist College soccer field, according to Coach Mason Sykes of the Methodist Monarch squad.

Pfeiffer, current Carolina Conference champions, will face Florida Institute of Technology in the kick off game Wednesday at 2 o'clock. Coach Darryl Saunders' Pfeiffer team boasts the best 1979 record coming into the pre-season tourney with 11-5-0. Key victories were over Miami, Guilford and Belmont Abbey.

Host Methodist College meets regional rival Pembroke State University in the second game on Wednesday, at 4 o'clock. The Pembroke Braves have a new coach in Mike Schaffer; formerly of Providence Day School in Charlotte, N.C., where he posted a 42-13-3 record.

The Monarchs of Methodist College are out to avenge a heartbreak second-place finish in the Dixie Conference last season with a 4-1-2 conference record (6-4-4 overall) and hope to start with key wins in their home tournament. Coach Sykes feels confident about his scoring potential but sees a problem with lack of fullback experience.

ESTELLE HILLMAN--'THE WORLD HAS BEEN HER PARISH'

Estelle Hillman, reknown church woman of the United Methodist Church, delivered the Summer Commencement Address at Methodist College recently. The words of this respected 80-year old have meaning for all generations, as inspiration and optimism in sometimes pessimistic times. Below are excerpts of her address.

"Not long ago I entered a futures class at Duke, feeling that I had to hurry and finish all the things I wanted to do before my life was over. The instructor began to speculate on the median age of 125 years by the year 2000, and I left the class afraid that I world now run out of things to do!"

"Soon I learned that every fact, every piece of knowledge would be either a tool or a weapon for me to use."

"The educated man/woman is one who is at home in this universe; comfortably knowledgeable, continually seeking to understand, and not confused."

"Advice is a dangerous thing; but this is mine to you:

*Center you life on something fixed and eternal. God is changeless.

*Keep an open mind and do not presume that which is new is inferior.

*Lead a life that is more than earning a living."

"Ask questions that stretch our minds and our conscience: talk about the Christian Arabs fighting to regain their homeland from the Jews; talk about the Koreans writing a new chapter in the book of Corinthians "

TO THE PEOPLE OF FAYETTEVILLE:

On behalf of the entire staff of East-West Foundation and our 1980 students, I would like to express our heartfelt thanks to all of our good friends of Fayetteville for their support and assistance during our seven-week stay on the Methodist College campus. We are indeed grateful to all of you who served as host families for our students. The warmth and hospitality, which you extended to our Japanese students, were extremely beneficial in orienting them to life in the United States.

The friendships which we have made this year and the past two years are ones that will be cherished in the years to come. There will always be a very warm spot in our hearts for the people of Fayetteville. Thank you for everything!

Theatre and English Teachers---

I am proud to report. . .

that Methodist College Theatre Department has done it again! The dears are producing the world's greatest playwright again this year. Two years ago they also did my work--"Brush Up Your Shakespeare"--great fun!

This year they are doing the most perfect comedy ever written and my second most frequently produced play*--TWELFTH NIGHT. It is the twin bit which I have practiced before--and perfected here.

They are performing TWELFTH NIGHT during their annual Homecoming (what a treat to come home to!) and in their lovely O'Hanlon Outdoor Theatre. It will be produced at a special school matinee on Friday, October 10 at 12:30. (It will be finished in time for the buses to get back). The price is one of the least inflationary bargains you can imagine--Free!

To give TWELFTH NIGHT special zing (do I need zing) they are creating a contemporary setting designed by local designer Jeanette McMullen (Giselle and Fiddler on the Roof). The idle rich will swim, play golf, badminton and jog as four lovers chase one lovely lady!

This is the most musical of my plays (so everyone says) and that talented Methodist student Cliff Wells has composed contemporary music for my lyrics. Dear boy--did a marvelous job, too, I might add.

It really promises to be an outstanding entertainment. Directing is Dr. Jack Peyrouse (The Skin of Our Teeth and Oedipus Rex): Choral directing is Karen Carlton (Little Mary Sunshine and Brush Up Your Shakespeare): contemporary costumes designed by Lois Bair (who's designed for Playhouse, FLT, and Methodist).

What a way to teach your students. My words in a contemporary setting. What will that Methodist group do next?

I hope that you'll come see my comedy either at the special school matinee at 12:30 on the 10th or one of the free 6:45 performances on October 9, 10, or 11. Try to come early in the run because I know you will want to see it again

MC GOLF TOURNEY HIGHLIGHTS

WEEK OF MONARCH SPORTS

FAYETTEVILLE--Golfers at Methodist College will seek to repeat their clean sweep of fall tournaments as the Monarchs host the Methodist College Invitational Golf Tournament this weekend, September 21, 22 and 23, at Cypress Lakes Golf Course.

Coach Gene Clayton took two teams to the DIAC Fall Tournament in Greensboro this week and returned with both the DIAC Fall Tournament Championship and second-place honors.

"That's exciting for any coach--when your first and second teams are vying for the championship," says Clayton.

A field of 23 teams will take the links at Cypress hoping to keep the host Monarchs from their second tournament championship in as many outings.

"It's a crucial week for us," says Methodist soccer coach Mason Sykes about his Methodist soccer team, which faces conference foe Greensboro College on Tuesday and longtime rival Campbell University on Thursday. Both games will be played on the Methodist College soccer field.

Methodist, off to an enviable start winning their own pre-season invitational tournament, currently sports a 3-0 record with convincing wins over Pembroke, 4-0 and Carolina Conference Champs Pfeiffer, 4-1 in the MC Invitational Tournament. The Monarchs opened

"We've finished second in the DIAC for the past two years," says Sykes. "We cannot afford to take any conference game lightly if we are to have any chance of being DIAC champions this season."

Monarch Soccer Opens With Big Win

Methodist Monarchs opened the 1980 season in fashionable style with a sweep of their own invitational tournament, Sept. 10-11.

The Methodist College Invitational Soccer Tournament, featuring three of the top teams in the area, got underway Friday, September 10 at noon with a clinic held by Olympian Shep Messing. Tournament play began at two.

The tournament kicked off with a match-up between Pfeiffer College, current Carolina Conference champions, and Florida Institute of Technology. Pfeiffer emerged victorious in a hard-fought struggle, 1-0, the lone score coming late in the second half.

The second pairing of the afternoon featured the Methodist Monarchs against regional rival Pembroke State University. Methodist broke to an early lead and went into halftime leading by the score 2-0. The Monarchs doubled the score in the second half to shut-out Pembroke. Final score, 4-0. Monarch scoring was divided between Atsuo Kumazaki (Kuma) 1, Kenny Morgan 1, and Denny Laird 2. The stage was set for the final match-up scheduled for 4 o'clock, September 11.

Goalie Billy Thomas sustained a severe sprain on his left ankle early in the first half, but remained in the goal until halftime. Phil McAllister finished the game as goalkeeper and played the entire second game. Thomas is expected to return to action by October.

Methodist began what appeared to be a replay of their earlier match-up as they once again broke to a 2-0 halftime lead in the championship game against Pfeiffer. The game was second period.

Two more second period scores brought the Methodist score even with the previous day's results. Pfeiffer refused to be shut out and scored a final goal to finish the tournament. Final score 4-1--Methodist Monarchs, tournament champs.

Scoring for the Monarchs were Kuma (2), Denny Laird (1), and Aki (1).

Three selections from each team were named to the All-Tournament team. FIT standouts were Tony Carrocers, Paul Resos, and Jerry Henderson; Pembroke--Don Dishen, Conrad HoSang, Chip Emery. Tournament runner-up Pfeiffer had three standouts in the form of Marty Evans, Robbie Church and Brad Wilson. Methodist had its share of star material with Atsuo Kumazaki, Denny Laird and Thomas Ntuk. Laird and Kuma led tournament scoring with three goals each, while Ntuk sparked an almost flawless defensive effort.

With the tournament under their belt, "Methodist is ready to play soccer," according to coach Mason Sykes. "We have practiced to the point that we're ready to play. We have progressed as much as we can. Now what we need is playing experience with which to coordinate our defense."

"Allowing only one goal in two tournament outings, it appears that the defense is well-coordinated, but we're still lacking in crucial experience."

Coach Sykes is looking forward to the start of the regular season, opening Thursday against Pembroke.

"I'm looking forward to a fine season. Everyone we play has improved. The conference teams to beat are Virginia Wesleyan and Averett. We've come in second the last two seasons; this year I'm looking to take it all."

But that is not the only goal Coach Sykes has for his 1980 Monarchs.

"Our goal this year is to get a post season NCAA tour-

Thomas Ntuk. Laird and Kuma led tournament scoring with three goals each, while Ntuk sparked an almost flawless defensive effort.

With the tournament under their belt, "Methodist is ready to play soccer," according to coach Mason Sykes. "We have practiced to the point that we're ready to play. We have progressed as much as we can. Now what we need is playing experience with which to coordinate our defense."

"Allowing only one goal in two tournament outings, it appears that the defense is well-coordinated, but we're still lacking in crucial experience."

Coach Sykes is looking forward to the start of the regular season, opening Thursday against Pembroke.

"I'm looking forward to a fine season. Everyone we play has improved. The conference teams to beat are Virginia Wesleyan and Averett. We've come in second the last two seasons; this year I'm looking to take it all."

But that is not the only goal Coach Sykes has for his 1980 Monarchs.

"Our goal this year is to get a post season NCAA tournament bid." If the Methodist Soccer Invitational Tournament is any omen of things to come, Methodist College will add more than one trophy to the trophy case.

METHODIST TO MEET CAMPBELL IN CLASSIC SOCCER MATCH-UP

FAYETTEVILLE--Methodist soccer teams have a couple of scores to settle with Campbell--14 scores, to be exact, that have left the Monarchs winless over their neighbors from Buies Creek.

The Methodist team, currently 4-0 and fresh from winning their own invitational tournament, hosts the Camels(1-2) Thursday afternoon on the Methodist field at 4 o'clock.

Methodist wins have been convincing ones over Pembroke State University 4-0, 2-0 and defending Carolinas Conference Champion Pfeiffer College, 4-1. Campbell defeated Elon College 2-1 but dropped games to N.C. State University, 6-0, and the University of Baltimore, 6-3. The Camels beat St. Andrews 5-1 this week and Methodist blanked DIAC foe Greensboro, 10-0 with hat tricks by Atsuo Kamayaki and Senay Laird.

"Playing Campbell is always a highlight of our season," says Methodist Coach Mason Sykes.

"We enjoy the competition with a Division I scholarship team--Campbell consistently fields a good team," comments Sykes, who has coached the Division III Monarchs for fourteen years.

METHODIST SOCCER FACES

TOUGH WEEK OF DIAC ACTION

FAYETTEVILLE--Methodist College soccer players could only spend a couple of hours agonizing over their first loss of the season to Campbell University, 4-3, before they begin to gear up for what could well be the most crucial week of the regular season for them.

Travelling to Christopher-Newport College on Monday, the Monarchs begin a week of action against three of Dixie Conference foes. They return home to play St. Andrews Wednesday at 4 o'clock on the Methodist field before heading for Danville, Va. on Saturday to play nationally-ranked Averett College at 2 o'clock.

Methodist stands 4-1 overall and 1-0 in the DIAC, winning handily over Greensboro College, 10-0 in their only conference match thus far. Monarch scoring was led by Atsuo Kumazaki and Denny Laird with a hat trick each (3 goals), while Ken Morgan, Yoshiaki Ishii, Tanaka Akira and Barry Shelley contributed the remaining four.

A heartbreak loss to neighboring Campbell University was compounded by the early 2-0 lead the Monarchs held. Denny Laird got his second hat trick of the week, scoring all 3 goals against the Camels.

BILL COBEY SPEAKS TO METHODIST STUDENTS

Explaining why anyone would decide to leave a position as director of athletics at the prestigious University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill to seek the office of lieutenant governor of the state of North Carolina is no easy task, even for the man who made that decision.

Bill Cobey told a convocation of Methodist College students that he asked himself three questions and made his decision based on his answers: "Who cares?"

"If not me, who?"

"If not now, when?"

The qualities that served him well as athletic director of a major university--working within a specified budget, distributing the revenues equitably among units, etc--will also serve him well as lieutenant governor, says Cobey.

Cobey addressed the college community at the invitation of the Young Republicans Club. The political conservative is seeking to unseat the incumbent Jimmy Green in the lieutenant governor's race. Terry Hutchens, Republican candidate for the North Carolina legislature, introduced Cobey to a crowd of some 500 people in Reeves Auditorium.

The candidate drew spontaneous applause from the audience as he responded to questions about the Equal Rights Amendment, federal funding for abortion and capital punishment.

"I am opposed to the ERA. I support equal rights and equal access, but I do not wish to place interpretation in the hands of the federal courts," asserted the 41-year old Cobey.

"I am not only opposed to federal funding for abortion; I am opposed to all abortions except in the case of danger to the health of the mother or rape."

Calling for stronger and more stringent enforcement of the laws of this land, Cobey affirmed his belief in capital punishment for capital crimes. He described himself as a friend of higher education.

"We need more, not fewer private colleges," said Cobey. "And I am a strong supporter of public aid to private institutions. Private colleges get more for our tax dollars than public institutions do."

Cobey expressed major concerns for the preservation of freedom among peoples of the world, citing complacency of Americans who have always been free. Major threats to world peace and the American freedom are the Soviet Union and American military inferiority, according to Cobey.

The Republican Cobey was pessimistic about the fiscal future of American free enterprise.

"Your future and my future have been mortgaged," said Cobey. "And we are quickly approaching a time when the producers of this nation are going to refuse to produce for the non-producers."

Calling for involvement of all citizens, Cobey advocated imposing tax and spending limitations on government spending not to exceed personal gains in expenditure; giving the right to initiate a referendum to the citizens of the state of North Carolina; limiting the intervention of federal government in state matters; electing people who will put principle over politics and holding them accountable for their voting record.

"Christians are called upon to be the light of the world," stated Cobey. "We must also be the salt of the earth, preserving the freedoms of man."

Cobey said each citizen has unlimited potential to make a difference.

"It doesn't take that many committed people to evoke change."

On other issues, Cobey gave these views:

"I trust THE MEDIA--they do a better job every day of getting the issues before the people."

"WELFARE is given in the name of compassion, but there is nothing compassionate about removing the incentive to work from a man."

"THE ELDERLY should have an opportunity to earn money beyond their social security allotment. The retirement age should be extended to allow capable people to keep being productive members of society."

"I support NUCLEAR ENERGY as one alternative source of energy, but not the only source. I believe in the genius of man to find a safer alternative in the years to come."

"We need a stronger posture in the MIDDLE EAST to prevent situations like Afganistan."
