PHYLLIS VOGEL, PIANIST, TO PERFORM AT METHODIST

FAYETTEVILLE--Phyllis Hays Vogel, renown North Carolina pianist, will present a piano concert in Reeves Auditorium on the Methodist College campus on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 22, at 3 o'clock.

Dr. Vogel is presently an Assistant Director of Music at North Carolina State University where she teaches theory and composition, directs an early music ensemble and performs widely as a guest pianist with the Raleigh Chamber Players and the Raleigh Symphony Orchestra.

A D.M.A. graduate of the Peabody Conservatory of Music of Baltimore, Md, Dr. Vogel has studied piano under Julio Esteban, Walter Hautzig, Leon Fleisher and Menahem Presslar at Indiana University. Further study was done with Jean Casadesus at the American Conservatory of Music in Fontainebleau, France, where Dr. Vogel played in the master classes of Robert Casadesus. Music theory and composition classes were taken under Nadia Boulanger.

The concert program will include Brahms "Variations and Fugue on a Theme by Handel," Isaac Albeniz's "Selections from Iberia" and Mussorgsky's classic "Pictures at an Exhibition."

Dr. Vogel is currently engaged in performing as a harpsichordist after extensive study with Igor Kipnis.

METHODIST COLLEGE TO HOST
ANNUAL COLLEGIATE INDIVIDUAL
GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

FAYETTEVILLE--Methodist College will host the first annual North Carolina Collegiate Individual Golf Championship on Saturday, February 21, 1981 at Cypress Lakes Golf Course.

This tournament will mark the first time a North Carolina individual champion from the college ranks has been named. The one-day tournament will include teams from numerous colleges in the state.

According to Methodist College golf coach Gene Clayton, every college in North Carolina has been invited to send representatives to the individual collegiate championship tournament.

"The tournament will be limited to the first 100 entries," says Clayton. "Currently we have over 60 applications including golfers from such schools as N.C. State, N.C. Wesleyan, UNC-W, Greensboro College, High Point, and Elon."

Clayton further states the state individual championship will be based on individual scores tallied during the one-day tournament. A total of 10 awards will be given to the top ten medalists and the schools they are representing. The tournament is an individual tournament, sponsored by Methodist College and not a part of the NCAA spring golf program. The NCAA provides

"All collegiate golfers are invited to enter, whether they are a member of their college team or not," says Clayton. "The tournament should be a lot of fun as well as strong competition. There will be prizes for closest to the hole and longest drive."

For Immediate Release

February 9, 1981

Feature Ideas

#1 In view of the current concern over "teacher burn-out" (see Redbook, February 1981), what motivates college students to still choose a career in teaching? John Sam, state president of the N.C. Student Educators Association, is a senior at Methodist College and a resident of Fayetteville. He completed his student teaching this fall and will complete requirements for graduation in May. He also served on a task force in Washington under the Carter administration and has just been named to the selection committee of N.C. Teacher of the Year.

Sam's views on education and the motivations, fears, expectations, and opinions of students statewide might help put the "burn-out" issue in perspective.

#2 Mark Mooney, senior from Baltimore, Maryland is an interesting combination: a religion major and a theatre arts minor. He has combined these interests in his senior acting recital "A Man and His God"--a trilogy of one-acts including "Children in the Playpen;" "St. George and the Dragon;" and "Jesus Christ Superstar."

This combination represents chancel drama: a morality play, a miracle play, and a mystery play--in modern interpretation.

Mooney is as enthusiastic and talented as you would expect this kind of a multi-interested person to be. He likes the humor and the intensity of these plays, believing they are representative of the levels of every man's relationship with God.

The play "A Man and His God" tours area churches beginning February 22 at Hay Street Church and returns to the Methodist campus for the Fine Arts Festival, concluding on April 19.

#3 "Raft on the River" will highlight the Methodist College Fine Arts Festival, April 12-19. It's really becoming a community affair! See attached schedule.

Methodist Freshmen Receive
DIAC Player Honors

Fayetteville--Methodist College freshmen James Green of Vanceboro and Fred Turrentine of Durham have received individual honors from the DIAC conference.

Green, 6'2" forward, was named DIAC Player of the Week after scoring 67 points and pulling down 18 rebounds in three conference games: St. Andrews, Averett and UNC-G. Green is averaging 16.2 as 7th leading scorer in the DIAC with a 4.7 assist average. Game high for Green this season was 30 points scored against St. Andrews.

A Vanceboro native, Green is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Roland Green. He played his high school ball at West Craven.

Fred Turrentine, 6'5" center, received DIAC Freshman of the Week honors after scoring a total of 33 points and capturing 22 rebounds in the three DIAC games last week against St. Andrews, Averett and UNC-G.

Turrentine, a former Northern High School standout, ranks fifth in DIAC rebounding with a 9.6 average. He is the son of Mrs. Vivian Johnson of Durham.

The Methodist Monarchs are currently tied for sixth place in the DIAC rankings.

Dr. Joe Bethea Addresses
Black History Week
At Methodist College

Fayetteville--Dr. Joe Bethea, district superintendent of the Rockingham District of the N.C. Conference of the United Methodist Church, addressed a convocation of the Methodist College student body during Black History Week observances, Wednesday, February 11.

"Dr. Martin Luther King, Sr. said recently that this black church/white church distinction is manmade stuff--God deals in one church," quoted Bethea.

"The emergence of the black church in America was inevitable, however, because of the denial of a race's humanity. The church has made the quest for liberation the unique mission of the Black Church in American history," said Bethea.

"Biblical manipulation and misinterpretation began here as justification of slavery, oppression and discrimination," asserted Bethea, calling for the unification and mutual respect of all churches.

Dr. Bethea has served on numerous Methodist committees and he is currently a member of the World Methodist Council. A native of Dillon, S.C., Dr. Bethea is listed in Who's Who in the Methodist Church and Who's Who in Religion. He is a graduate of Claflin College, Gammon Theological Seminary and Union Theological Seminary.

For Immediate Release

To: Art Teachers
Subject: Fine Arts Festival
Date: February 17, 1981

As proof that Methodist College is "alive with the arts," let me tell you how it could figure into the future of you and your students.

During the week of April 12-19, Methodist College is having a Fine Arts Festival--and an integral part of the arts in the festival will be the visual.

Of special interest to you and your students are three exhibits which will be open school days from 8:00 to 5:00:

- (1) The Juried Arts Show will be on display in Horner Administration Building. The exhibit opens on April 12 at which time there will be a strolling violinist playing, refreshments will be served, and the winners will be announced. The entire exhibit will be on display during the week.
- (2) An exhibit of crosses (Jane Barry's collection which was recently exhibited at the Arsenal House) will be on display in Davis Memorial Library on the Methodist campus.
- (3) An exhibit of religious paintings (Elizabeth Wood's collection) will also be on display in the library.

This festival will give you and your students a chance to see art in a pleasant environment.

I have enclosed a schedule of the complete activities of Fine Arts Week for your convenience. All events are open to the public at no charge.

If you are interested in bringing a group of students, just let me know and I will see that someone meets your bus and starts you on your tour.

WAKE FOREST GOLFERS FAVORED

STATE COLLEGIATE INDIVIDUAL CHAMPIONSHIP

TO BE HELD AT METHODIST COLLEGE

FAYETTEVILLE--Methodist College will host the first annual North Carolina Collegiate Individual Golf Championship on Saturday, February 21, 1981 at Cypress Lakes Golf Course.

This tournament will mark the first time a North Carolina individual champion from the college ranks has been named. The one-day tournament will include teams from numerous colleges in the state.

According to Methodist College golf coach Gene Clayton, a field of 76 entrants from 16 colleges and universities will compete for the state individual championship.

"Pre-tournament favorites are Jack Nance and Bill Nance, golfers at Wake Forest University," says Clayton.

Other top contenders are Danny Graham of Elon; Riccardo Stevens of Fayetteville State University; Jack Bartanus, Mickey Sokalski, Eddie Dalton of Methodist College; Jim Lebzelter of St. Andrews College; and Chuck Taylor of Duke University.

Clayton further states the state individual championship will be based on individual scores tallied during the one-day tournament. A total of 10 awards will be given to the top ten medalists and the schools they are representing. The tournament is an individual tournament, sponsored by Methodist College and

METHODIST COLLEGE CHORUS BEGINS SPRING TOUR

FAYETTEVILLE--The Methodist College Chorus will tour a concert of sacred music during March 4-9, the college's spring break. The current spring tour will take the chorus to churches in Virginia, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York.

Under the direction of Alan M. Porter, assistant professor of music at Methodist College, the chorus is on its sixteenth annual tour. This performing group is well-known for its high quality music and spirited rendition of a variety of musical styles. The chorus has sung regularly for church, civic clubs, military installations, conferences and rallies in eastern North Carolina. Their tours have taken them as far north as Manchester, Connecticut, and on three trips to Florida.

The Methodist College Chorus is a select group of twenty-eight students from North Carolina, New Jersey and Georgia with one student from Japan and one from Korea. They are chosen by audition for their personality, moral character and leadership qualities, as well as their musical talent.

Six student officers manage the chorus affairs: Valerie Houston, a junior religion major from Charlotte, N.C., serves as president; Tammy Hightower, a senior music major from Mebane, N.C., and Jo Tarkington, a junior music/business art major from Mamers, N.C. and Debbie Smith, a sophomore music major from Fuquay-Varina, N.C.

Mr. Porter is a native of McKeesport, Pennsylvania, and has been a member of the Methodist College music faculty for eighteen years. Holding a Bachelor of Arts degree in vocal music from Mount Union College in Alliance, Ohio, and a Master of Music (with performance honors) from the University of Illinois, he teaches voice, conducting, various other music courses and directs the Methodist Hand Bell Choir.

Mr. Porter, a lyric tenor, is a well-known recitalist and clinician in eastern North Carolina and serves as Choir Director at Hay Street United Methodist Church in Fayetteville and as Music Director for the Fayetteville Little Theater, the Fort Bragg Playhouse and the Dance Theater of Fayetteville.

On November 23, 1980, the Methodist College Chorus presented the eastern North Carolina premiere of King David, a symphonic psalm by Arthur Honegger. Besides selections from this powerful and moving twentieth century composition, the concert to be presented here will include great choral works from the various historical periods. In addition, the chorus will sing several contemporary periods. In addition, the chorus will sing several contemporary numbers in popular style. While some pieces will be sung a capella, the chorus will be accompanied at various times by piano and/or organ.

for eighteen years. Holding a Bachelor of Arts degree in vocal music from Mount Union College in Alliance, Ohio, and a Master of Music (with performance honors) from the University of Illinois, he teaches voice, conducting, various other music courses and directs the Methodist Hand Bell Choir.

METHODIST COLLEGE BEGINS INVESTMENT SEMINARS

FAYETTEVILLE--The Business and Economics Department of Methodist College will launch a new program of "Investments Seminars," on Thursday, Feb. 26. Seminars will be held twice per semester for students and community residents interested in investments.

The first investment seminar will feature guest speaker Charles B. Swatek, speaking on "The Outlook for Steel Industry Stocks."

As a Steel Fellow of the American Iron and Steel Institute, Swatek represents the steel industry and Bethlehem Steel in visits to college campuses. A native of Pittsburgh, Swatek joined Bethlehem Steel after his graduation.

The seminar will be held in the Alumni Dining Room on the Methodist campus at 7:30. The public is invited to attend.

METHODIST COLLEGE FOUNDATION REPORTS SUBSTANTIAL INCREASE IN COMMUNITY GIVING

FAYETTEVILLE--According to figures released by the Methodist College Foundation this morning, the Fayetteville community has increased its contributions to Methodist College by almost 10% over last year.

With 25% of the pledge cards returned, $67,359.00 has been given in contributions and pledges thus far in the 1981 College Loyalty Campaign. This figure reflects an increase of $6,149.00 over cards returned by the comparable date last year.

"The major part of our excitement over the first week results of the 1981 campaign," says Woody Bass, campaign chairman, "is the fact that 123 pledges have been substantially increased this year."

The Methodist College Loyalty Campaign began officially on Thursday, February 12th as 165 members of the Developmental Team canvassed Fayetteville businesses in an effort to solicit contributions for the operation of Methodist College.

"We are most pleased with the commitment demonstrated by the Developmental Team members, exemplified on Loyalty Day, and their continued commitment to completing the assigned contacts," said Bass.

FINE ARTS FESTIVAL
AT METHODIST COLLEGE
OFFERS EXCITING WEEK

FAYETTEVILLE--"Something for everyone" is a claim too often used and too seldom produced, but the Methodist College Fine Arts Festival is going to come dramatically close to doing just that during April 11-19.

In a week centering around the world premiere of Maxwell Anderson's Raft on the River, Methodist College has a schedule of movies, theatre, art exhibits, concerts and lyceum speakers that promises appeal across all ages and interests.

Events kick off with the Beaux Arts Ball in the Student Union Ballroom on Saturday evening, April 11 at 9 o'clock. The theme is "Hannibal, 1850," the setting of Raft on the River. Admission is by invitation only.

Art Exhibits

The prestigious Methodist College Juried Art Show is only one of five exhibits which will be available for viewing during the Fine Arts Festival.

Opening with a formal reception in Horner Administration Building at 4 o'clock, the Juried Art Show will exhibit over 50 accepted entries with award-winning selections appropriately noted.

The Juried Art Exhibit will be on display daily from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m. in the Horner Administration Building at no charge.

Metropolitan Museum of Art and the British Museum of Art. Of particular interest in this exhibit is the Coventry Cross, made after a World War II air raid in Europe. The timbers that fell around the altar contained large metal nail studs from which the workmen fashioned a cross as a reminder of the bombed church.

A photographic exhibit of scenes from Raft on the River will be on display in the lobby of Reeves Auditorium during all performances of Raft on the River scheduled to run April 15-18.

In connection with the Saturday Crafts Fair, an outdoor exhibit of Methodist College student art will also be presented. All exhibits are open to the public at no charge.

Music

Two major concerts are scheduled during the Methodist Fine Arts Festival, the first being the Annual Spring Choral Concert on Sunday afternoon, April 12 at 4:00 in the Davis Memorial Library. The Methodist College Chorus, under the direction of Alan Porter, will present a program of both sacred and secular music, highlighted by selections from King David.

The Methodist College Stage Band will hold an outdoor concert in the Central Mall at 11:00 on Saturday, April 18. The band will offer interpretations of numerous jazz and Top 40 compositions.

The final event of the Fine Arts Festival will be the production of A Man and His God, a trilogy of religious drama starring Mark Mooney in his senior acting recital. A Man and His God is scheduled for Sunday, April 19 at 8:15 in Hensdale Chapel on the Methodist College campus.

Lyceum

A series of five lectures to be presented in the Lyceum will offer participants in the Fine Arts Festival an opportunity at hearing noted speakers on topics of related interest. Methodist College Oral Interpretation classes will present the first Lyceum entitled "Maxwell Anderson: Dramatic Prophet," an analysis of Anderson's impact on the style and delivery of contemporary dramatists. The first Lyceum will occur on Monday, April 13.

Bill Fields, renowned artist, will offer the second Lyceum on Tuesday, April 14. The subject will be "The Art of Thomas Hart Benton, Grant Wood and John Stewart Curry." These artists are frequently associated with the depicting of Americana closely aligned with Mark Twain's local color writing.

Dr. Laurence Avery, UNC Chapel Hill professor and accepted authority on Maxwell Anderson's drama, will appear on campus in the third Lyceum on Wednesday, April 15. Dr. Avery will offer biographical and literary information on the author of Raft on the River. Dr. Avery has authored two books on the topic of Maxwell Anderson: Dramatist in America: Letters of Maxwell Anderson.

All Lyceum lectures will be held in Hensdale Chapel at 3:30 on the respective afternoons.

Holy Week Observances

Because the Fine Arts Festival runs concurrent with Holy Week preceding Easter Sunday, a number of religious observances are planned on the Methodist campus. On Thursday evening, April 16, Rabbi David Mark will preside at a Seder Supper in the Alumni Dining Room at 6:00. Good Friday church services will be held on April 17 in Hensdale Chapel at 10:00 a.m.

Religious observances will culminate with the celebration of Easter at a sunrise service on Sunday April 19 at 5:45 a.m. in the O'Hanlon Amphitheatre. All services are open to the public.

Added Attractions

The world premiere of Raft on the River will be preceded by a Patron Banquet and Celebrity Auction to be held at 6:00 on Wednesday evening, April 15, in the Alumni Dining Room. Lee Yopp, Art Director of the Fort Bragg Playhouse and Guest Director of Fayetteville Little Theater and the Pinehurst Outdoor Theater, will speak to selected patrons of the Fine Arts program at Methodist College and special invited guests. The FCCYC Theater Workshop will also be held on Saturday, April 18 in Reeves Auditorium.

A Maxwell Anderson film festival will set the stage for Raft on the River activities. Three films, based on Maxwell Anderson's best known plays, will be shown at Methodist: one on March 18, one on March 25 and one on April 1. Showings will be at 3:30 p.m. in the Materials Center of Trustees Classroom Building and at 8 o'clock in the Student Union ballroom. All films are free and open to the public. For further information, call 488-7110, ext. 262 for Nancy Bleakley.

The Fine Arts Festival at Methodist College is a celebration of the arts for both the college community and the greater Fayetteville community. All of the events offered are open to the public at no charge as part of the Methodist College commitment to provide a cultural center for the community.

Further information on any of these events is available by writing or calling Methodist College at 488-7110, ext. 212 or 245.
