SEMINOLE BASKETBALL STANDOUT TO ATTEND METHODIST COLLEGE

FAYETTEVILLE—Clarence Sippio, basketball standout for Seminole High School (FL), will attend Methodist College this fall according to coach Joe Miller.

Sippio, 6'-165lb. guard for Coach Bill Payne's team, received honorable mention All-Conference honors for his efforts this season.

"I am really happy to have Clarence Sippio attending Methodist College," says Coach Miller. "He has had an outstanding high school career and I feel that he will be a great addition to our school and our athletic program," quotes Miller.

Sippio is the son of Roxie Sippio of Seminole Gardens. He joins a young Methodist team who will have a chance to put the experience gained last year into effect next season in DIAC competition. Lane Whitlow, 6'10" center from Charlotte, will return as a sophomore as will James Green of New Bern and Fred Turrentine of Durham.

Methodist College is a member of Division III of NCAA and the Dixie Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. It is a four year liberal arts and sciences college located in Fayetteville, NC.

BLACKHAWK'S UNDEFEATED GOLFER WILL WILL ATTEND METHODIST COLLEGE

FAYETTEVILLE-Vaughan Vacar, undefeated in play on Blackhawk High School's golf team, will attend Methodist College this fall according to golf Coach Gene Clayton.

Vacar, top golfer for Coach Ed Johnson's team, was named Athlete of the Year for Blackhawk High School. He also played shortstop for the Blackhawk baseball team where he earned the Golden Glove Award.

"I am extremely pleased that Vaughn has decided to attend Methodist College," says Coach Clayton. "He is an outstanding golfer, and he has the potential to make our top 6 players as a freshman."

Vacar is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcella Vacar.

Methodist College golfers placed sixth in the NCAA Division III National Tournament this season after capturing the DIAC Conference title.

Methodist College is a four year liberal arts and sciences college located in Fayetteville, NC on a 600-acre campus overlooking the Cape Fear River.

GOLF-BASKETBALL STANDOUT
MONTROSE DOUBLE TALENT
CHOOSES METHODIST COLLEGE

FAYETTEVILLE-David Benninger, star athlete at Montrose Area High School in Montrose, PA, will attend Methodist College this fall according to athletic director Gene Clayton.

Benninger will bring double talent to the Methodist College campus, having won MVP honors in basketball at Montrose and #1 player in golf there for three years. At 6'6"-197 lbs., Benninger was named All-League center this past season for Northeast Athletic Conference basketball. Benninger also captained the Montrose golf team and won spots in both the district and state tournaments for three years. He was the only Susquehanna County player who qualified for the state tournament this season.

"A versatile athlete with Dave's talent is an exciting prospect for any college athletic program," says Coach Gene Clayton. "Methodist is pleased that Dave has chosen to further his education here. His natural talent will be welcomed on the basketball court and the golf course."

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Benninger of Montrose, David played his high school ball under Coach Tom Evans.

Benninger joins a young but experienced basketball team who will exercise their talents at next seasons DIAC competition. The Methodist College golfers placed sixth in the NCAA Division III National Tournament

SOLANCO GOLF STANDOUT
TO ATTEND METHODIST COLLEGE

FAYETTEVILLE-Phil Hershey, golf standout at Solanco High School in (PA), will attend Methodist College this fall according to golf Coach Gene Clayton.

Hershey played #1 on the Solanco golf team and led them to an undefeated 10-0 season. During his four years as first man, Hershey compiled a 40-3 individual record. The only two-time winner of the Lancaster Junior City-Country Championship, Hershey won the 1980 L-L League qualifying tournament.

"I am very pleased to have Phil join the varsity golf program at Methodist College," says Coach Clayton. "I feel he has the potential to be a valuable part of our team next year."

Hersey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hershey of Kirkwood, PA, played his high school golf under Coach Tom Brown.

Methodist College golfers placed sixth in the NCAA Division III National Tournament this season after capturing the DIAC Conference title.

Methodist College is a four year liberal arts and sciences college located in Fayetteville, NC on a 600-acre campus overlooking the Cape Fear River.
