CARY NATIVE WINS

TOP BUSINESS AWARD

FAYETTEVILLE--Regina McLaurin may well be the most powerful woman in the county that houses the capital of North Carolina. As Chairman of the Wake County Planning Board, McLaurin coordinates pivotal issues surrounding the ecological, environmental and economic climate of the Greater Raleigh area--issues like the development of subdivisions in the environmentally sensitive Falls Lake watershed and the establishment of regulations to limit developments along the corridor of Interstate 40.

McLaurin is also a prestigious business woman recently named Business Alumnus of the Year at Methodist College during the Outlook 1985 economic symposium held on the Fayetteville campus.

All this for a Southern-born English major from Cary, NC who is vice-president of the family-owned McLaurin Parking Company.

"Involvement just runs in the family," says McLaurin, whose father served on the Raleigh City Council and was also chairman of the Planning Board.

Martha McLaurin, Regina's mother, serves on the Cary Board of Adjustment.

ability to respect and enjoy people," says McLaurin.

"Another thing I learned at Methodist," the petite brunette told the audience of 250 attending Outlook 1985, "was to handle more than one responsibility at a time."

McLaurin learned that lesson well as she is currently chairman of the board of directors of the Southern National Bank in Cary, vice-president of the Cary Chamber of Commerce, a member of the board of directors of the Raleigh Merchants Bureau and a member of the N.C. Aeronautics Council. Additionally, she belongs to the Cary Historical Society and the Raleigh Merchants Bureau.

A 1970 graduate of Methodist College and a Dean's List student there, McLaurin has received recognition not only in the civic and political arenas but also in the professional world. She has served as secretary of the National Parking Association since May 1982 and a member of the association's executive committee for four years. Elected in December 1983 as vice-chairman of the Parking Industry Institute, Regina also heads the national association's publications committee.

McLaurin doesn't rule out future political activity on the municipal or state level.

METHODIST COLLEGE TO HOST FIFTH ANNUAL

FINE ARTS FESTIVAL IN FEBRUARY

FAYETTEVILLE—The Fifth Annual Methodist College Fine Arts Festival will be held February 14-22 on the Methodist College campus. The theme of this year's event is "France and Its Cultural Influences."

Opening the Festival will be a performance of the French playwright Moliere's comedy The Would-Be Gentleman at 8 o'clock in the evening on Thursday, February 14 in Reeves Auditorium. The performance will be followed by a salon with cast members and the audience.

Three festival exhibits will open on February 14 and will remain open throughout the Festival dates. At the Gillespie Street Library, French periodicals and books will be on display. In the LaFayette Room in the Davis Memorial Library on the Methodist College campus, French artifacts will be displayed. In addition, French Embassy exhibits furnished by the Fayetteville Museum of Art will be on display in the Horner Administration Building at Methodist.

On February 15, a second performance of The Would-Be Gentleman will be held in Reeves Auditorium at 8 o'clock in the evening.

February 16 marks "French Culture Saturday." All exhibits will be open until 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and French films will be shown from 11 o'clock in the morning until 2 o'clock in the afternoon. A French lunch will be available in the Methodist College cafeteria from 12 noon until 1 o'clock at the cost of $2.75 per person.

At 10 o'clock Friday morning, February 22, Madeline will be performed by the Literature for Children and Youth class under the direction of Methodist education professor, Dr. Kenneth Calvert. The oral and visual interpretation will be performed in Hensdale Chapel.

At 7 o'clock that evening, Mr. Howard Scherry will speak again in the Band Room. His lecture will be followed by a cabaret of entertainment at 9 o'clock in the Student Union Building on the Methodist College campus. Featured at the cabaret will be a performance of Ionesco's "The Leader," a rendition of the "can-can" by the Methodist College Performance Jazz Team, and several musical selections from "Jacques Brel." There will be a $2 charge for this event which will include French refreshments.

Closing the Fine Arts Festival Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Reeves Auditorium will be a performance of the North Carolina Dance Theater. Internationally renown for its energy, style, and diverse repertoire, the NC Dance Theater based in Winston-Salem returns to Fayetteville for an encore of its 1984 performance. Tickets for the performance are $7 for adults and $3.50 for students and senior citizens.

There is no charge for any other Fine Arts Festival events unless noted above. The public is invited to attend all the events of the eight-day festival.

EXHIBITS PART OF THE METHODIST COLLEGE

FIFTH ANNUAL FINE ARTS FESTIVAL

FAYETTEVILLE—The Fifth Annual Methodist College Fine Arts Festival begins February 14 and lasts until February 22. Throughout the Festival entitled "France and Its Cultural Influences," three exhibits will be open to the public.

The North Carolina Foreign Language Center, Cumberland County Public Library and Information Center, 328 Gillespie Street, will exhibit a selection of current popular French books, records, and periodicals. Included in the magazines are Marie France, a glossy woman's monthly, Paris-Match, a colorful general news and weekly features magazine, and Sélection du Reader's Digest, the French version of Reader's Digest.

On the Methodist College campus, French artifacts will be displayed in the LaFayette Room in the Davis Memorial Library. A "pewter taste vin" from Bourgogne (a wine tasting cup) and "Boules de Petanque" (a French outdoor game) are among the articles on exhibit. In addition, a collection of French dolls in regional costumes will be displayed.

Horner Administration Building on the Methodist College campus will also host an exhibit of French Embassy articles, furnished by the Fayetteville Museum of Art. The Embassy exhibits include illustrations of scenes from the French playwright Moliere's plays, as well as photographs and articles related to two other French writers, George Sane and Nadar, and the French composer Maurice Ravel.

Also on the Methodist College campus February 21-22 will be an exhibit begins February 14 and lasts until February 22. Throughout the Festival entitled "France and Its Cultural Influences," three exhibits will be open to the public.

The North Carolina Foreign Language Center, Cumberland County Public Library and Information Center, 328 Gillespie Street, will exhibit a selection of current popular French books, records, and periodicals. Included in the magazines are Marie France, a glossy woman's monthly, Paris-Match, a colorful general news and weekly features magazine, and Sélection du Reader's Digest, the French version of Reader's Digest.

On the Methodist College campus, French artifacts will be displayed in the LaFayette Room in the Davis Memorial Library. A "pewter taste vin" from Bourgogne (a wine tasting cup) and "Boules de Petanque" (a French outdoor game) are among the articles on exhibit. In addition, a collection of French dolls in regional costumes will be displayed.

VAUGHAN ATTENDS METHODIST COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIP COMPETITION

FAYETTEVILLE—Fort Bragg resident Joseph Vaughan recently participated in the 1985 Scholarship Competition at Methodist College in Fayetteville, NC.

The competition, designed to recognize academic achievement, has been held at Methodist for more than twenty years. Students selected to participate in the competition week-end were given two CLEP tests and interviewed by a panel of Methodist College personnel. Scholarships varying from $750 to full tuition Presidential Scholarships valued at approximately $16,000 each (for four years) will be awarded by totaling test scores with interview results.

During the week-end of activity, the fifty visiting high school seniors were given a campus tour, dined in the college cafeteria, entertained at a dorm reception, and breakfasted at the home of college president Dr. M. Elton Hendricks. In addition, they were addressed by Dr. Hendricks, Academic Dean Dr. Lynn V. Sadler, Vice-President William P. Lowdermilk, and Athletic Director Gene Clayton.

Vaughan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Viodella Kendricks of Fort Bragg, NC.

Methodist College is a four-year private college of liberal arts and sciences located on a 600-acre campus bordering the Cape Fear River in Fayetteville, NC.

SCHOLARSHIP COMPETITION

HELD AT METHODIST COLLEGE

FAYETTEVILLE-Methodist College recently held its 1985 Scholarship Competition, hosting fifty high school seniors from North Carolina and states along the East Coast vying for scholarships amounting from $750 to two Presidential Scholarships valued at approximately $16,000 each.

To recognize academic achievement, Methodist College has held scholarship competition for more than twenty years. Last year, the monies awarded varied from $750 to $1500. In 1984, a total of $630,000 was awarded in scholarships. In addition, the two full tuition Presidential Scholarships awarded through the annual competition are renewable for four years, contingent upon maintenance of a 3.0 grade-point average.

During the competition week-end activities, students were given a campus tour, dined in the college cafeteria, entertained at a dorm reception and breakfasted at the home of Methodist College president Dr. M. Elton Hendricks.

The actual scholarship competition consisted of taking two CLEP tests, one required in English and one of each contestant's choice from the fields of social studies, natural sciences, mathematics, or humanities. In addition, each student was interviewed by a panel

FAYETTEVILLE-Methodist College recently held its 1985 Scholarship Competition, hosting fifty high school seniors from North Carolina and states along the East Coast vying for scholarships amounting from $750 to two Presidential Scholarships valued at approximately $16,000 each.

To recognize academic achievement, Methodist College has held scholarship competition for more than twenty years. Last year, the monies awarded varied from $750 to $1500. In 1984, a total of $630,000 was awarded in scholarships. In addition, the two full tuition Presidential Scholarships awarded through the annual competition are renewable for four years, contingent upon maintenance of a 3.0 grade-point average.

During the competition week-end activities, students were given a campus tour, dined in the college cafeteria, entertained at a dorm reception and breakfasted at the home of Methodist College president Dr. M. Elton Hendricks.

The actual scholarship competition consisted of taking two CLEP tests, one required in English and one of each contestant's choice from the fields of social studies, natural sciences, mathematics, or humanities. In addition, each student was interviewed by a panel consisting of one Methodist College administrator, two faculty members and one current Methodist student.

Scholarship winners will be determined by totaling interview

ANGLIN ATTENDS METHODIST COLLEGE

SCHOLARSHIP COMPETITION

FAYETTEVILLE-Mary Ellen Anglin of Avenel, NJ recently participated in the 1985 Scholarship Competition at Methodist College in Fayetteville, NC.

The competition, designed to recognize academic achievement, has been held at Methodist for more than twenty years. Students selected to participate in the competition weekend were given two CLEP tests and interviewed by a panel of Methodist College personnel. Scholarships, ranging from $750 yearly to full tuition Presidential Scholarships valued at approximately $16,000 over four years, will be awarded by totaling test scores with interview results.

During the weekend of activity, the fifty visiting high school seniors were given a campus tour, dined in the college cafeteria, entertained at a dorm reception, and breakfasted at the home of college president Dr. M. Elton Hendricks. In addition, they were addressed by Dr. Hendricks, Academic Dean Dr. Lynn V. Sadler, Vice-President William P. Lowdermilk, and Athletic Director Gene Clayton.

Anglin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Anglin of Avenel, NJ.

Methodist College is a four-year private college of liberal arts and sciences located on a 600-acre campus bordering the Cape Fear River in Fayetteville, NC.
