AREA RESIDENTS SERVE AS

METHODIST COLLEGE RESIDENT ADVISORS

FAYETTEVILLE—Several area residents are serving as resident advisors in Methodist College dormitories for the current school year. Natalie Denise Burnette, Donna Suzanne McNeill, and Terri Sue Moore serve in Weaver and Garber dormitories, the two female residence halls on campus. Ivan Perez, originally of Panama, and Andreas K. Winston, originally of West Germany, serve in Cumberland dormitory, one of the two male residence halls.

Resident advisors at Methodist College are chosen on the basis of leadership traits, personality, faculty recommendation, and campus involvement. "RA" responsibilities include freshman orientation, counseling, explaining and enforcing campus policies and regulations, and planning dormitory activities with dorm officers. After application for the position, resident advisors are selected by the Dean of Students and the Dean of Women.

Natalie Burnette, a psychology major who is minoring in biology, is a Monarch cheerleader, a senator in the Student Government Association and, secretary to both the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and Koinonia, the student-based campus religious organization. In addition, the Dean's List student is president of the Pi Kappa Phi Little Sisters, a pledge to Alpha Xi Delta sorority, and a student assistant to a faculty member. A sophomore,
