METHODIST GRADUATES

ELEVEN WITH HONORS

FAYETTEVILLE--Eleven of the eighty-one graduates receiving degrees in Methodist College's annual spring commencement May 5 graduated with academic honors.

Receiving the distinction of summa cum laude for achieving a cumulative grade-point average of 3.9 out of a possible 4.0 were Donna Kim Jenkins of Fayetteville and Roger Durham Pait of Bladenboro.

Graduating magna cum laude for achieving a cumulative grade-point average of 3.7 were Lisa Ann Buck of Fayetteville; Dorothy L. B. Hubbard of Stedman; Anita Rose Carroll of Willow Springs; and William Kevin Holden of Roseboro.

Cum laude graduates who achieved a 3.4 cumulative grade-point average were Laureen Anne Bach, Elaine Jean Fleming, Bianke R. L. Kroos, and Kim U. Watkins, all of Fayetteville, and Betty Jean Massengill of Dunn.

In addition to academic honors, Roger D. Pait, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wade D. Pait of Bladenboro, received the Lucius Stacy Weaver Award from current Methodist College president Dr. M. Elton Hendricks. The Award was established in 1964 by the family of Dr. Lucius Stacy Weaver to honor Methodist College's first president. An engraved plaque is presented annually to an outstanding member of the graduating class adjudged by the faculty to have best exemplified in personality and performance the qualities of academic excellence, spiritual development, leadership and service.
