WOMEN'S SOCCER ON THE RISE

FAYETTEVILLE -- "It looks extremely promising for 1985," said Methodist College women's soccer coach Joe Periera. "We had a great recruiting year."

The Lady Monarchs have brought in 12 freshmen to go along with four returnees from last year's Dixie Conference second-place team. Included among the veterans are All-Conference and All-South pick Brenda McKimens, a sophomore from Fairfax, VA. Michelle Quinones, sophomore from Arlington, VA, will share co-captain honors with McKimens this season. Quinones was also an All-Conference pick last season. Lori Silvasy also heads into her second season as a Monarch. The sophomore from Fairfax, VA, grabbed All-Conference honors last season too. Also returning for the Lady Monarchs is sophomore Rockie Stokes from Culpepper, VA.

Methodist College fans will be able to get a good look at the Lady Monarchs early this year, with their first two matches at home. The schedule will tune them up for conference competition, with the first two matches against the number one and number two ranked teams in NCAA Division I.

The Monarchs dropped their opener, 6-1, to George Mason University, the nation's number one team on Monday, Sept. 2, and will face number two UNC-Chapel Hill this Sunday, Sept. 8. Carolina and George Mason played to a 3-3 tie in their season opener Sunday, Sept. 1, at Chapel Hill. Methodist will face N.C. State, another Top 20 Division I team, on Sept. 11 at Raleigh.

WOMEN'S SOCCER

One of the major reasons for the increased recruiting is the tough schedule. This year MC will play 11 home matches out of their 21-game schedule and they will host their own tournament. The Monarchs will play seven Division I Top 20 opponents.

Although the Lady Monarchs are very young, they all have considerable experience. Periera believes that anyone on the roster can step in at any time and contribute a great deal to the team. There will be eight or nine freshmen starting, according to the Methodist coach, and all the key positions will be covered.

Katie Breman, a freshman goalkeeper from Palm Harbor, FL, was a high All-American pick last season and she will be vying for a starting nod with All-State pick Carrie Bennett, from Columbia, MD, who is also a freshman.

"We are right on the edge of something big," Periera explained. "We are young yet, but if we can keep our mistakes down, we have the talent to do very well."

The Lady Monarchs are in a very good position to steal the conference title from reigning champions NC Wesleyan and it should prove to be an exciting season for Methodist College women's soccer.

ATTENTION TEACHERS

Methodist College is offering teachers and amateur astronomers the chance to study and observe the appearance of Halley's Comet this fall.

Under the instruction of noted North Carolina astronomer Bob Melvin, Methodist College will offer three courses for renewal credit: Comet Halley Going Into the Sun; Comet Halley Going Out From The Sun; and Comet Halley and Solar System Astronomy.

Plan to make this once-in-a-lifetime visit of Halley's Comet a meaningful experience. Join the crowd at Methodist College as we study the comet. Call the Office of Special Projects at Methodist College, 488-7110 for further information and registration.

MONARCH NETTERS SET TO CHALLENGE FOR DIAC CROWN

FAYETTEVILLE, NC -- Head volleyball coach Dan Lawrence seems very happy as his Lady Monarchs head into another season. Lawrence, in his third year as coach at Methodist College, remarked on the extreme overall talent of his squad. "We have potential to be the best since I've been at Methodist." With last season's talent, coupled with the newcomers, the Methodist squad could put together an explosive combination and should contend for the Dixie Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (DIAC) crown.

Twins Ora and Audra Griffey are two freshmen who Lawrence expects to immediately help the team, along with Kim Floyd, another freshman.

Some of the key squad members from last year's very successful team include senior Barbara Allen and juniors Vivian Cullverhouse, who led the conference last season in attack percentage, and Sonja Mixon, who was second in the DIAC in blocks per game. Both were named to the All-Conference second team. Also back are two sophomores, Sharon Stone and Vivian Gurrera.

The schedule for the Lady Monarchs is very strong this season with 26 scholarship schools as opponents on the schedule. Conference play will once again be tough, with big games against league foes UNC-Greensboro and St. Andrews, along with Greensboro College.

Lawrence seems pleased with the team's progress so far and expects to fare well. The team's strengths certainly come from the hitters and setters.

"We need some work on our backline passing, and once we start playing together things should start to go very well," said Lawrence.

METHODIST TO HOST INVITATIONAL TOURNEY

FAYETTEVILLE -- The Methodist College Invitational Soccer Tournament will get underway at 2 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 13, when Elon meets Randolph-Macon followed by a 4 p.m. match between Methodist and Oglethorpe. The consolation game of the four-team tourney is slated for 1 p.m. on Saturday with the championship match to follow at 3 p.m.

The opening match Friday will feature Elon, the defending Carolina Conference co-champion, and Randolph-Macon, a Top 20 NCAA Division II team. Elon, with 14 players back, is off to a 2-0 start this year, taking a 4-0 win from Dixie league member Averett and dropping Morris Hill, 8-0. Elon took the Carolina league co-title last year with an 11-2-1 record. Randolph-Macon comes into the contest with a No. 14 ranking in Division II.

Methodist, the host school, is 0-2, after dropping two matches in the Mary Washington Tournament last weekend. The Monarchs fell to Franklin and Marshall in the opener, 4-2 in overtime, then were dropped 4-0 by VMI in the consolation round on Sunday.

Oglethorpe, an NAIA Division II school, will open its season against the Monarchs. They feature 10 returning players on their team roster.

Next weekend, Methodist will compete in the North Carolina Wesleyan Tournament against East Carolina. NC Wesleyan takes on Pfeiffer in the second game on Saturday with consolation and finals to be played on Sunday.

The Monarchs open league play on Sept. 25 with a home match against NC Wesleyan, followed by another league test at home against Averett on Sept. 28.

MC CHEERLEADERS MAKE SEASON DEBUT

FAYETTEVILLE, NC -- The Methodist College cheerleaders, two-time defending DIAC cheerleading champions, made their 1985-86 season debut at the Methodist College Invitational Soccer Tournament held Sept. 13-14 on the Methodist campus.

The 21-member squad helped the Monarchs to a 1-1 tie against Randolph-Macon, the 14th-ranked team in Division III, in the championship game.

Recently, 10 squad members attended the Universal Cheerleading Association (UCA) camp at Virginia Tech University in Blacksburg, VA. Members attending were co-captains Della Raeford, Jessica Hayes and Anthony Westbrook, and squad members Mona Conley, Todd Barber, Teresa Bowling, Winston Bryan, FeFe Walls, Ricky Hill and Paige Clawson.

Approximately 52 college squads attended the camp. They were evaluated nightly and awarded ribbons according to their performance: blue, red, white, and green (in order of importance). Although no list was provided, the cheerleaders saw only two colleges similar in enrollment to Methodist -- Winthrop College from South Carolina and Mars Hill College from North Carolina. Highly visible at Blacksburg were Ohio State, Kentucky, UNC-Chapel Hill, Penn State, Clemson, USC, Ball State, Pittsburgh and Florida State.

"Methodist College cheerleaders were awarded two blue ribbons, three red ribbons, and one white ribbon," said coach Gwen Sykes. "Additionally, each day the UCA staff honored the squads who exhibited outstanding spirit and cooperation and gave them a "spirit stick." The Methodist cheerleaders earned a "spirit stick" three of the four days they were awarded and, consequently, were given a "spirit stick" to bring back to the college. Most importantly, the squad was awarded the "Most Improved Trophy" and a gold ribbon during the final awards presentation."

Members of the 1985-86 squad include: Teresa Bowling, Natalie Burnette, Kim Cooper, ✓ Jessica Hayes, Ursula Pepper, ✓ Della Raeford, Mandy Vander Roest and Dean Downing, all of Fayetteville; ✓ Mona Conley, Forest City; Gina Pettit, Burgaw; Winston Bryan, Felicia Wall and Anthony ✓ Westbrooks, Greensboro; Susan Cox, Jacksonville; Todd Barber, Morrisville; Ricky Hill, Mt. Holly; Mary Ellen Anglin, Plainfield, NJ; Yvonne Burns, Newport News, VA; Paige Clawson, Manassas, VA; Christy Wolosenko, Dale City, VA; and Rahn Kersey, Richmond, VA.

Methodist is a private, residential four-year liberal arts and sciences college located in the Sandhills of North Carolina. The attractive, modern campus is located on a 600-acre tract that borders the Cape Fear River.

Fayetteville, named an "All-American City" in the spring of 1985, is located in Cumberland County, the fourth largest county in North Carolina with a metropolitan area population of over 275,000. Adjacent to Fayetteville is Fort Bragg, one of the largest U.S. Military installations in the country. Cumberland County is located 120 miles west of the North Carolina and South Carolina coastal resort areas.

METHODIST COLLEGE SPORTS UPDATE

FAYETTEVILLE, NC — The Methodist College women's volleyball team remains undefeated in league volleyball competition with a 5-0 record after dropping Averett College in three straight games Tuesday night at Danville, VA.

The Lady Monarchs completely dominated the match, taking the first two games by scores of 15-6 and 15-7 and then drubbing Averett 15-0 in game three. Following the Averett match, Methodist beat Lynchburg College in a best-of-three non-conference match, 15-3, 16-14. Averett, winless on the season, falls to 0-5 in the conference and 0-7 overall. Lynchburg drops to 3-5.

The Monarchs' earlier wins in the conference came over UNC-Greensboro, Greensboro College, St. Andrews and Christopher Newport. Methodist, 10-6 overall, hosted Francis Marion and Meredith on Thursday, Sept. 26. On Saturday, Sept. 28, Methodist will travel to Rocky Mount to participate in the North Carolina Wesleyan College Volleyball Tournament. On Monday, they face Francis Marion again on the road and on Tuesday, they resume play in the Dixie Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (DIAC) when they travel to Laurinburg, NC, for a rematch with St. Andrews.

HARRIERS DOWN ST. ANDREWS

meet, 17-44, Saturday, Sept. 21, at Laurinburg. Brian Cole led the Monarchs with a first-place time of 26:38 over the five-mile course. He was followed by teammates John O'Rourke, 27:02, and Jerry Shank, 28:10, in second and third places, respectively. St. Andrews' Dan Whitmore took fourth with a time of 28:13. Gerald Davis and Greg Coleman rounded out the sweep for Methodist in fifth and sixth with times of 28:17 and 28:29.

Earlier, Methodist participated in the Campbell Cross Country Carnival and a meet at Pembroke State University. The Monarch harriers will face St. Andrews and Christopher Newport on Saturday, Sept. 28, and again on Oct. 5, before hosting St. Andrews in a dual meet during Homcoming at Methodist on Saturday, Oct. 12.

MONARCHS HOST INVITATIONAL, TAKE SECOND PLACE

Led by medalist Brian Conners, the Methodist Gold team took second place in the Methodist College Invitational Golf Tournament held Monday and Tuesday at Cypress Lakes Golf Course. Conners, who led the first day's round with a 73, followed with a 70 on Tuesday to lead Methodist Gold to a 613 finish, three strokes behind champion Pembroke State. Tommie Holdsworth led the Methodist White squad with a third-place finish at 149. Robert Tamblyn, also of Methodist White, finished with a two-day total of 152 to tie for seventh. Methodist White finished fifth in the team standings and Methodist Green placed 13th in the 19-team field.

Team results from the tourney: Pembroke State, 613; Methodist Gold, 616; UNC-Asheville, 618; Campbell, 620; Methodist White, 625; South Carolina State, 625; Francis Marion, 627; Greensboro College, 627; Appalachian State, 628; Catawba, 629; Mt. Olive, 630; Gardner Webb, 635; Methodist Green, 638; Livingstone, 643; St. Augustine's, 666; Fayetteville State, 675; Hampton University, 725; and Averett, 796.

Individual results: Brian Conners, Methodist Gold, 73-70 -- 143; David Quinn, Catawba, 73-74 -- 146; Tommie Holdsworth, Methodist White, 73-76 -- 149; Gary Hobgood, 72-78 -- 150; Chris Koon, UNC-A, 73-77 -- 150; Jay McMillian, Pembroke, 74-77 -- 151; Robert Tamblyn, Methodist White, 75-77 -- 152; Scott Tuttle, UNC-A, 76-76 -- 152; Darryl Campbell, Campbell, 77-75, 152; Joey Cagle, Mt. Olive, 79-74 -- 153.

Before hosting their invitational, the Monarch golfers participated in meets at Greensboro and Mount Olive earlier this month. On Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 28-29, they will participate in a meet at Harrisonburg, VA, and on Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 7-8, at a meet in Ferrum, VA.

WOMEN'S SOCCER UPS MARK TO 4-3

With a league win over North Carolina Wesleyan and a non-conference victory over Guilford, the women's soccer squad is now 4-3. The three losses were all to Top 20 NCAA Division I teams — George Mason, North Carolina and North Carolina State.

The Monarchs win over North Carolina Wesleyan, the defending Dixie champion, gives them a 1-0 conference record. After the Wesleyan victory, Methodist hosted an invitational tournament on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 20-21, and took championship honors with victories over Warren Wilson, 5-0, in the first round, and Erskine, 3-0, in the finals.

Resuming action on Wednesday, Sept. 25, the Lady Monarchs drilled Guilford, 2-1. This weekend, Sept. 28-29 (Saturday-Sunday), Methodist will travel to Ashland, VA, to participate in the four-team Randolph-Macon Tournament. Rounding out the field are Barry College and the University of Maryland. On Wednesday, Oct. 2, Methodist will host Sweet Briar College. The following weekend they will participate in a tournament hosted by top-ranked George Mason University.
