NAMED SECOND RUNNER-UP ON HOMECOMING
COURT AT METHODIST COLLEGE

FAYETTEVILLE, NC -- Maria Penalver, daughter of Ms. Eugenia Penalver, 310 N.W. 16th Ave., Miami, FL, was recently chosen second runner-up of the Homecoming Queen court at Methodist College.

Penalver, a freshman at Methodist, was chosen to represent Weaver Residence Hall on the 11-member court. Della Raeford, a senior from Fayetteville, was chosen 1985 Homecoming Queen.

Penalver is a 1984 graduate of Miami Senior High School.

Methodist College is a private four-year residential college of liberal arts and sciences located on a 600-acre campus bordering on the Cape Fear River in Fayetteville, NC.

The annual Miss Methodist College pageant will be held Tuesday, Oct. 8, at 8:30 p.m. in Reeves Auditorium on the Methodist campus. Ten Methodist co-eds will compete for the title now held by Tammy Tolar, a junior business administration major from Fayetteville. The young women will participate in evening gown, talent and interview competition. Ramona Jackson, a senior business major from Fayetteville, third runner-up in the 1984 pageant, will act as mistress of ceremonies. The pageant is being coordinated by Calvin McDaniel, president of the Methodist Student Government Association (SGA). McDaniel is a junior from Fayetteville. In addition to an opening dance number featuring all 10 contestants, Jackson will present a musical number, "Get Into the Groove." A quartet will also perform and a "Miss Congeniality" will be chosen. The theme for the 1985 pageant is "A View With the Arts," part of Methodist's Homecoming Week, "Up, Up and Away With the Arts." For further details, contact the Office of Public Information at the college, 488-7110, ext. 246.

'UP, UP AND AWAY' WITH HOMECOMING
ACTIVITIES AT METHODIST COLLEGE

FAYETTEVILLE, NC -- It's Homecoming '85 at Methodist College and things are definitely looking "up." An incredible array of events has been scheduled for everyone this year -- alumni, students, faculty, community members, young, old, sports fans, arts enthusiasts and this year, even parents!

The theme for the three-day celebration, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 11-13, is "Up, Up and Away With the Arts," and the entire fine arts department has joined with the athletic department, student organizations and Parents' Weekend Committee to make this one of the busiest weekends ever at Methodist College.

The festivities begin with a rousing pep rally at 10 a.m. in the Student Union, led by the Methodist cheerleaders. A tennis tournament will get underway that afternoon at 3 p.m. on the campus courts with competition open to students, parents and alumni. Prizes will be awarded in men's singles, women's singles and mixed doubles.

Two performances of "A Medieval Romance" by Mark Twain will be held in the Snack Bar of Student Union on Friday at 4 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. This "popcorn theatre" presentation is just the beginning of a multitude of fine arts events slated throughout Homecoming Weekend. Later that evening, Ian Frost will portray poet Lord Byron in a one-man performance of "Byron in Hell" at 8 p.m. in Reeves Auditorium. Meanwhile, the excitement will be mounting for the big Homecoming soccer games on Saturday afternoon when the cheerleaders fuel the fires of student enthusiasm at a bonfire and pep rally at 8:30 p.m. on the outdoor basketball courts. A casual dance/disco will follow the bonfire at approximately 9:30 p.m. in the Student Union.

Things get rolling bright and early the following morning with the Methodist College Alumni Association holding its annual board of directors meeting on campus at 8 a.m. The Sidewalk Art Contest will also get underway at that time on the Bell Tower Plaza. Interest is already high for the second annual Alumni Golf Tournament which begins at 9 a.m. The spotlight remains on the arts with a student and faculty art exhibit in the Horner Administration Building and the third performance of "A Medieval Romance" in the Snack Bar, both events at 10 a.m.

A lecture by Alvin Reiss, "The Changing Business of Art in America," will be presented at 11 a.m. on Saturday in Reeves Auditorium. Reiss is a national leader in arts management and is editor of the first journal for cultural administrators, in addition to publishing the nation's first arts council newsletter.

Alumni, parents, students, guests and other Homecoming visitors will gather for a picnic lunch under the Yarborough Bell Tower between 11:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. They will be entertained by the annual outdoor concerts presented by the Methodist College Stage Band at noon and by the college's chorus at 12:30 p.m.

The arts will be featured again at 1 p.m. with an arts forum in Reeves Auditorium. An impressive line-up of representatives from all areas of the arts -- theatre, dance, music, painting and literature -- will participate in "The Business of Helping North Carolina's Culture Thrive." Forum participants represent various arts groups and organizations throughout the "Tar Heel" state.

Also at 1 p.m. the annual Homecoming parade gets underway at the main soccer field. A special guest in this year's parade will be Joni Parker, the reigning Miss Fayetteville and Miss North Carolina.

At 2 p.m. the Methodist Monarchs take to the field to battle the University of South Carolina at Aiken in the annual Homecoming soccer game. The Homecoming queen will be crowned at halftime by Miss North Carolina, who will also introduce the players before the game. Miss Parker, a Fayetteville resident, will also be available to sign autographs throughout the afternoon.

After the men's game, the Lady Monarchs, currently leading the Dixie Conference, will take on rival North Carolina Wesleyan at 4 p.m. At that same time, the alumni soccer game will get underway at the upper soccer field.

The high point for the MC alumni will be the annual dinner and awards banquet set for 7 p.m. that evening at the Holiday Inn at Interstate 95 and Cedar Creek Road (N.C. Highways 210 and 53), which is this year's "Alumni Homecoming Headquarters." Special honors include the presentation of the "Distinguished Alumnus Award," "Outstanding Alumnus Award," and "Faculty Member Award." Following the dinner, there will be a Hospitality Suite for alums at the Holiday Inn or they may join in with the current MC students at the annual Beaux Arts Ball -- the 1985 Homecoming Dance, which will be held from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the ballrooms of the Holiday Inn.

Theatre lovers may opt for the Saturday evening performance of "Byron in Hell" at 8 p.m. in Reeves Auditorium.

Sunday events include breakfast at 8:30 a.m. in the college cafeteria, an 11 a.m. worship service in Hensdale Chapel on campus, completion of the tennis tournament at noon and a trip to Morehead Planetarium at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill arranged by Dr. Jack Peyrouse, professor of theatre and

The Annual Alumni Baseball Game will begin at 2 p.m. on the Monarch diamond, with a Bar-B-Q immediately following. Former Monarch diamond stars will square off against one another in the annual event.

Other Homecoming activities include a guided tour of Olde Fayetteville, from 2-5 p.m. on Saturday, a performance of "Presenting Anne Hathaway," (Tea with Mrs. William Shakespeare), at 3 p.m. on Saturday in Reeves auditorium, to be followed by a North Carolina Composer Recital, with a guest artist, at 4 p.m., also in Reeves.

Homecoming '85 -- "Up, Up and Away With the Arts" -- is also Parents' Weekend at Methodist. Special invitations have been sent to parents of all MC students, welcoming them to all the activities throughout the three-day extravaganza. Special events for parents include a reception in the President's Home on the Methodist campus, hosted by President Elton Hendricks and his wife, Gerry, at 9 a.m. on Saturday, and academic open houses which will follow at 10 a.m. Parents will have the opportunity to visit with the professors and instructors in their campus offices.

Soccer, art exhibits, a parade, tours, picnics, dances, dinners and reunions -- it's all part of Homecoming 1985 at Methodist College... "Up, Up and Away With the Arts!"

ALICE PATTERSON NAMED 'MISS METHODIST'

FAYETTEVILLE, NC -- Alice Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Patterson, Fayetteville, was chosen "Miss Methodist" for 1985-86 at the annual pageant held Tuesday evening, Oct. 8, in Reeves Auditorium on the Methodist College campus.

Patterson, a sophomore music major, was chosen by a panel of judges from among 10 contestants. The young women were judged in talent, evening gown and interview competition.

Sponsored by Eastover Auto Sales, Fayetteville, Patterson presented a vocal solo, "Don't Cry Out Loud," during the talent portion.

Two other Fayetteville residents took runner-up honors in the pageant. Dedra Tart, Wade, was named first runner-up and Susan Bulla, Fayetteville, was chosen second runner-up. Tart, a sophomore music major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Tart. Bulla, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bulla, is a junior majoring in economics and marketing.

ENROLLMENT UP AT METHODIST COLLEGE

FAYETTEVILLE, NC -- Officials at Methodist College have announced the enrollment figures for 1985-86. Total enrollment is at 1,250 with 900 students in the regular day program and 350 students enrolled in the evening program.

The day enrollment reflects an increase of 135 students from last year's 765 students, a 17.6 percent increase. The evening program has nearly doubled from 180 in Fall 1984 to 360 in Fall 1985.

Combined, the college enrollment has grown 32 percent from 945 last year to 1,250 in 1985-86.

The number of Methodist students living in the residence halls has also risen. Last year there were 280 resident students, compared to 325 in Fall 1985. That represents a 14 percent increase, which follows a 10 percent growth in the number of on-campus students from 1983-84 to 1984-85.

The college has reflected considerable growth in all areas the past few years. Regular day enrollment has grown from approximately 630 students in the Fall of 1983 to 765 students in the Fall of 1984 to the present enrollment of 900.

"We are delighted in the increased enrollment at Methodist College," said President Elton Hendricks, "especially when it comes at a time when many institutions are experiencing declining enrollments."

Hendricks cited increased efforts in admissions, the addition of several new majors and the expansion of the school's athletic programs as some of the reasons for the enrollment increases.

METHODIST COLLEGE SPORTS UPDATE

FAYETTEVILLE, NC -- Athletic teams from Methodist College capped off a successful week with Homecoming victories in both men's and women's soccer on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 12. The Methodist men downed non-conference opponent University of South Carolina-Aiken, 2-0, while the Lady Monarchs blasted North Carolina Wesleyan, 5-0, to keep their record perfect in the Dixie Conference. Methodist leads the league with a 2-0 mark and a win over Virginia Wesleyan this weekend will clinch the championship.

Monarchs Get Back Into The Win Column

Saturday's 2-0 win moved the Monarchs' season record to 3-6-4. Earlier in the week they faced Greensboro College and forged a 2-2 tie. That put their conference record at 0-3-1 and moved them out of the league cellar.

Against USC-Aiken, Methodist broke a 0-0 game late in second half with goals by Steve Wade (Freshman, Norfolk, VA) and Cidel Gill (Sophomore, Arlington, VA). Wade leads the team with four goals and three assists for 11 points followed closely by Gill's four goals and two assists for 10 points.

Monarch goalie Steve Springthorpe (Junior, Ballground, GA) picked up his second shutout this year. A first-team all-Dixie Conference choice in 1985, he is fourth among all goalies in the league with 175 shots on goal, 98 saves and 18 goals for a 1.70 goals per game average (through games played prior to Oct. 7).

Springthorpe had three saves and six shots on goal to move his games per goal average to 1.56 through 12 games this season. Wade, Mike Serino (Freshman, Winter Park, FL) and Herbie Bascome (Freshman, Pembroke, Bermuda) lead Methodist in the assists category with three apiece.

This week, Methodist faces St. Andrews in Laurinburg on Tuesday, Oct. 15, and on Saturday, Oct. 19, they travel to Salem, VA, to face Roanoke in a non-conference match.

Milligan's 10 Goals Pace Lady Monarchs

Saturday's Homecoming win capped off a successful week in women's soccer for Methodist. Paced by Lisa Milligan's (Freshman, Philadelphia, PA) 10 goals, MC went 3-1 with victories over Dickinson, Erskine and NC Wesleyan, all by shut-outs. Methodist downed Dickinson, 5-0, in the George Mason Tournament at Fairfax, VA. The Lady Monarchs suffered their only setback of the week in the GMU Tourney, a 4-0 loss to Radford University.

They came back to drop Erskine, 4-0, on Thursday, Oct. 10, and then picked up their second victory over NC Wesleyan, 2-0, on Saturday.

Milligan scored four goals against Dickinson, three goals against Erskine and three more goals against NC Wesleyan.

"She has had a dream week," said Joe Pereira, coach of the Lady Monarchs. "It was a soccer player's dream. I've been playing soccer all my life, and in four years of college (at Appalachian State in Boone, NC) I had a total of six goals, so you can see how fantastic it is to score 10 goals in one week!"

Brenda McKimens added two goals to round out scoring against NC Wesleyan and was voted the MVP of the Homecoming game. McKimens was also chosen, by a vote of the student body, as first runner-up for Homecoming Queen. Della Raeford, a senior from Fayetteville and co-captain of the cheerleading squad, was chosen as 1985 Homecoming Queen at Methodist.

Pereira also cited the play of goalkeeper Teresa Estes (Freshman, Dunwoody, GA). "Teresa has recorded three shutouts this week from her goalie position," said Pereira. "She has total of six shutouts so far this season and a goal per game average of 1.1."

The Lady Monarchs will host Guilford on Wednesday and then face two opponents on the road in Virginia this weekend. Saturday's match will be against conference foe Virginia Wesleyan, currently 0-1-0 in the league. On Sunday, MC will face William and Mary in Williamsburg, a Division I opponent.

Currently 8-6 on the season, Methodist is undefeated against Division III opponents and has suffered only one loss to a Division II team. Next Tuesday, Oct. 22, Methodist will face North Carolina State on the Monarch field. NC State, another Division I power, is currently ranked in the Top 20.

It was announced by the Dixie Conference last week that Jill Starke (Freshman, Malvern, PA) had been named "Freshman Player of the Week" in the conference for her play the previous week. Starke had a three-goal week for Methodist, scoring twice in a 6-0 win over Sweet Briar and notching her team's lone goal in a 5-1 setback to the University of Maryland.

Netters Down Area Opponents, Fall to Christopher Newport

The Methodist volleyball team earned the right to call themselves the champions of North Carolina's "Cape Fear Region" as they downed three area opponents last week in addition to splitting two conference matches.

Methodist opened the week with a 3-1 win over North Carolina Wesleyan on their home court, 15-2, 12-15, 15-6 and 15-12, on Tuesday night. The following night, they trounced crosstown opponent Fayetteville State, 15-4, 15-2, 15-11, on the Broncoes' court.

Then, on Thursday Methodist beat Campbell University 15-3, 15-4 and upset Pembroke State University 10-15, 16-14, 15-12. It was only the fourth loss.

for Pembroke State, which is ranked nationally by the AIAW. The win avenged a loss earlier in the season and dropped Pembroke's season mark to 22-4.

Tuesday's win over NC Wesleyan moved the Lady Monarchs to 6-1 in the conference and in first place. But a long road trip to Newport News, VA, worked against them as they fell to Christopher Newport -- a team they defeated on the Methodist court -- in three close games, 16-14, 15-13, 15-12, on Friday, Oct. 11.

The loss dropped Methodist into second place in the league with a 6-2 mark while Christopher Newport takes over first place with a 9-2 record. CNC's only remaining league match is against UNC-Greensboro, which is tied for second with the Lady Monarchs at 6-2. St. Andrews is in in fourth with a 6-3 record.

Methodist has a tough match remaining against UNC-Greensboro and three matches against second division teams NC Wesleyan, Greensboro and Averett. Methodist downed all three in earlier matches.

Freshman Aura Griffey (Woodbridge, VA) was named "Player of the Week" in the Dixie Conference last week. Her selection was based on her previous week's performance, which included a .394 hitting percentage on 44 kills, six service aces, 31 blocks and 57 digs. As the setter, she had 307 assists.

Women's Golf Team Fifth At Yale Invitational

Led by Joy Bonhurst's (Freshman, Melville, NY) total of 85, the Methodist women's golf team finished with a fifth place total of 353 at the 13-team Yale University Golf Tournament in New Haven, CT, held Oct. 3-6.

Penn State and James Madison tied for first with a 332 and Penn State won a sudden death playoff to take home the team honors. Hope Kelly, from the University of Hartford was medalist with a 76.

Rounding out the team scores for Methodist were Holly Anderson (Freshman, Cumberland, ME) and Darcy Krumme (Freshman, Stuart, FL), both with an 88; Lisa Wymer, a sophomore from Culpeper, VA) with a 92; and Rose Turner (Freshman, Salisbury, MD) rounded out the scores with a 94.

Coach Darci Wilson said she was pleased with her team's performance noting that 10 of the 13 teams were Division I schools. Longwood College, a Division II team, placed fourth, and Mt. Holyoke, the only other Division III school, came in eighth.

Methodist travels to Durham, NC, for the Duke University Invitational on Thursday, Oct. 17. The four-day meet concludes on Saturday, Oct. 20.

Cole Paces Monarch Harriers At Francis Marion

Brian Cole led the Methodist cross country team to a fourth place finish in the Francis Marion Invitational on Saturday, Oct. 12. Cole, a freshman from Tiffin, OH, paced the Monarchs with a 27:08 effort over the five mile course.

He was followed by teammates John O'Rourke, 15th, 27:35; Gerald Davis, a freshman from Sumter, SC, 18th, 27:55; Jerry Shank, 21st, 28:18; and Greg Coleman, 31st, 30:50.

The Citadel took first place with a team score of 26, followed by Pembroke State, 32; Francis Marion, 84; Methodist, 87; and Coastal Carolina, 137.

Methodist To Host H.S. Cheerleaders, Volleyball Rankings

Methodist College has been selected as one of 18 sites around the nation to host a regional competition of the National High School Cheerleading Championships. Methodist will host the Atlantic Coast Regional on Saturday, Nov. 9, in the school's gymnasium.

In the latest rankings in NCAA Division III volleyball, the Methodist Lady Monarchs are ranked 11th. The team sports an overall record of 18-17 and has competed against several Division I and II teams in addition to several tough invitational tournaments. MC's next match is at Greensboro College on Oct. 15 followed by a match at NC Wesleyan on Oct. 17.

TWELFTH ANNUAL MEETING OF CAPE FEAR
RIVER RESEARCH INSTITUTE AT METHODIST COLLEGE

FAYETTEVILLE, NC -- "Nongame and Endangered Wildlife in North Carolina" will be the topic of discussion at the 12th Annual Meeting of the Cape Fear River Research Institute to be held Thursday, Oct. 17, at 4 p.m. in the Student Union.

Registration will begin at 4 p.m. and the symposium gets underway at 4:30 p.m. The speaker will be John M. Alderman of the North Carolina Wildlife Resource Commission and Roy Parker, Jr., editor of the Fayetteville Times, will serve as moderator.

A banquet will be held in the college cafeteria from 6-8 p.m. Charles B.C. Holt, president of the Cape Fear River Research Institute, will present the group's J.W. Pate Award and conduct the business meeting. The featured speaker is William de Buys, director of the North Carolina Nature Conservancy. His topic will be "Heritage and Preservation of the Carolina Bays."

The Cape Fear River Research Institute is an independent, non-profit organization dedicated to enriching the physical, social, cultural and spiritual life of the inhabitants of the Cape Fear River Valley. The Institute offers programs as diverse as the environmental challenges we all face.

For ticket information, call 919-488-5237. Tickets for the symposium and banquet are $10 per person.

Dr. Bobby L. Crisp, associate professor of education, has been appointed to the Five-Year Interim SACS Review Team for Terry Sanford High School in Fayetteville.

Bruce Pulliam, associate professor of social science, recently attended a meeting in Raleigh of the Board of the Directors of the Museum Association of North Carolina. Along with Parker Wilson, associate professor of history, Pulliam attended a meeting on Sept. 29 of the North Carolina Museum of History Associates. They have both been invited to serve as members of the Regional Advisory Committee for the Museum of the Cape Fear to be located in Fayetteville.

Walter Swing, associate professor of business and economics, has been active in enlisting the aid of the Methodist College English Department to discuss the growing concern in his academic area concerning the lack of writing skills among accounting graduates in our colleges and universities. He is now making the handbook, Effective Writing: A Handbook for Accountants, a requirement in all his classes.

Earlier this month, Bruce Pulliam (see above entry for teaching area) attended a Native American conference at the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D.C. The conference was sponsored by the Newberry Library of the University of Chicago and made possible by grants from the National Endowment for the Humanities and the Lloyd A. Fry Foundation.

Dr. Garland Knott, professor of religion at Methodist, recently attended the meeting of the United Methodist Association of Professors of Christian Education Executive and Research Committees in Nashville, TN.

Methodist was represented at the Student North Carolina Association of Educators meeting by Helen Matthews, associate professor of education, and five education students: Cathy Poprick, S-NCAE president-elect; Julie Marlowe, Methodist chapter president; Sherri Hall, Methodist Chapter secretary-treasurer; and chapter members Alvena Haney and Cynthia Rowland.

Mississippi Conference from 1952-60. Knott then served for two years at First Congregational Church in Braintree, MA, as minister of Christian education.

He was then appointed chaplain and professor of education at Wood Junior College in Mathiston, MS, in 1962. He held that position for four years until he joined the faculty at Methodist as chaplain and assistant professor of religion.

Knott is currently serving his second two-year term as president of the United Methodist Association of Professor of Christian Education (UMAPCE). He was elected in November 1984.

More than 50 members, representing United Methodist colleges and seminaries throughout the nation, form the UMAPCE. The association has an annual meeting in addition to a week-long consultation held every two years which allows members to discuss issues and developments in Christian education. UMAPCE provides a network of information and sponsors research in the area of local church education.

In addition to a variety of church activities, Knott has also had several articles published in church and religious magazines. He wrote a one-act play, "One To Grow On," which was published in The Progressive Farmer. He is also an amateur radio enthusiast and enjoys home gardening in his leisure time.

VIETNAMESE STUDENT AT METHODIST COLLEGE TO BECOME AMERICAN CITIZEN

Residents of Fayetteville, the "All-America City", and personnel from Fort Bragg and Pope Air Force Base will want to be on hand for the ceremony marking the naturalization of Methodist College student Cu Phung. Under the promotion and planning of Cu's fraternity brothers from Lambda Chi Alpha at Methodist, a host of dignitaries will be on hand at 10 a.m. on Friday, Nov. 8, to mark the ceremony that will ^{make} Cu Phung an American citizen. Cu, a Vietnamese national of Chinese extraction, was smuggled out of Vietnam by his mother when he was 14 years old. His mother remains in Vietnam.

The Honorable Wallace W. Dixon, United States Magistrate, will administer the oath of allegiance to Cu Phung. According to organizers of the event, this is one of the few, if not the first, times that a naturalization ceremony has been held beyond the confines of a U.S. Court Office.

The Nov. 8 ceremony will be held on the central mall of the Methodist campus, directly behind the Horner Administration Building. The ceremony and reception following are open to the public at no charge.

LADY MONARCHS IN SHOWDOWN FOR LEAGUE VOLLEYBALL CROWN

GREENSBORO -- A conference title will be on the line tonight when the Lady Monarchs of Methodist College take on the University of North Carolina at Greensboro in a Dixie Conference volleyball match.

Both teams head into the match with 8-3 records. St. Andrews' 15-8, 15-5 11-15, 15-3 win over UNC-G on Monday night clinched a tie for first place for St. Andrews with Christopher Newport. Both teams have finished the conference season with 9-3 marks. A Methodist win over UNC-G would move them to 9-3 and a piece of the title. A loss to the Spartans would leave UNC-G, Christopher Newport and St. Andrews as tri-champions at 9-3 and Methodist would fall to fourth place with an 8-4 mark.

Not only is the regular season league championship on the line, but the Lady Monarchs will be going for a first round bye in the conference tournament this week at Laurinburg. Conference teams are seeded by their standings in the league for the tourney and through a tie-breaker system, should Methodist down UNC-G, -- a team they beat earlier in the season in Fayetteville -- they would earn the first round bye (based on head-to-head matches with the other league co-champs).

At the tournament, hosted by St. Andrews, the No. 2 team will square off against the No. 7 team on Friday night, followed by matches between No. 3 and No. 6, and No. 4 and No. 5. The winner of those three matches, along with the team who received the bye, will meet in the semifinal round Saturday at noon with the championship game scheduled for approximately 3 p.m. The winner receives an automatic berth in the NCAA Division III post-season regional playoffs. A victory over UNC-G would give Methodist its first Dixie Conference championship in volleyball as would a first place finish in this weekend's tourney.

Win Four Straight Last Week; Fall to UNC-W Monday

Last week's play saw the Lady Monarchs resume to the level that earned them an 11th place ranking earlier in the season. The team moved its league mark to 8-3 on Tuesday night, Oct. 22, with a 15-5, 15-3, 15-7 sweep of Averett and followed that match later in the evening with a 16-14, 15-3 win over Coker College of Hartsville, SC.

The following evening, Methodist hosted East Carolina University and Bennett College and took both matches: 17-15, 16-14, a squeaker over ECU, and a 15-0, 15-6 drubbing of Bennett. (non-conference matches are the best two out of three and Dixie Conference matches are the best three out of five). The four wins moved MC's season record to an impressive 31-18.

Prior to the match wins on Tuesday and Wednesday, the Lady Monarchs travelled to Longwood College in Longwood, VA, and came home with the Longwood Invitational Championship Tournament trophy. Methodist won seven straight matches and won 14 out of the 15 games it played.

Methodist opened with a win over Sweetbriar, 15-4, 15-1, and successive wins over Randolph-Macon Women's College, 15-4, 15-6; Longwood, 15-7, 15-7; Ferrum, 15-2, 15-13; and league rival Christopher Newport, 15-5, 15-7, put them into the semifinal round. The Monarchs faced Ferrum and topped them a second time, 15-9, 15-4, and then faced Christopher Newport and dropped them 15-4, 9-15, 15-10 for the tourney title.

After fall break on Thursday and Friday last week, Methodist resumed action Monday, Oct. 28, with a loss to Division I opponent UNC-Wilmington, 14-16, 15-8

MC VOLLEYBALL

10-15, 15-5, 15-6. Methodist coach Dan Lawrence said his team looked sluggish against the Seahawks and he attributed that to the four-day layoff for fall break.

"We played our last match Wednesday night and then sent the girls home," Lawrence explained. "We didn't practice again until the night before when we had a late afternoon to early evening practice. The girls have playing very well lately and I'm hoping they'll bounce back to the form they displayed at the Longwood Tourney and in the matches last week,"

Lawrence pointed out that his team easily defeated UNC-G at Fayetteville earlier this season but noted the Spartans have improved throughout the season. He expects a tough match at Greensboro but is confident the Lady Monarchs will win and tie for the league crown. He feels his team has an excellent chance to go down to Laurinburg and win the conference tourney this weekend.
