COMMENCEMENT SUNDAY AT METHODIST COLLEGE

FAYETTEVILLE, NC -- Methodist College will confer 66 bachelor's degrees and 31 associate's degree in commencement ceremonies on Sunday, May 11, at 2 p.m. in Reeves Auditorium on the Methodist campus. Baccalaureate services will be held that morning in the auditorium at 10:30 a.m.

Lt. Gov. Robert B. Jordan III will deliver the commencement address. Jordan, baccalaureate speaker Dr. F. Belton Joyner and Joel Fleishman will be awarded honorary doctorate degrees.

Joyner is executive director of the North Carolina Conference Council on Ministries of the United Methodist Church. Fleishman, a Fayetteville native, is vice president of Duke University.

Three Methodist students will present flags from their home countries to the college: Jesus Chacon, Venezuela; Sima Ali Azimi, Iran; and Bounkeo Boualavong, Laos. This brings Methodist's international flag collection to 11 countries. This new tradition began at last year's May commencement. Flags were added at the August 1985 and December 1985 commencements.

Another new tradition at Methodist is the hooding ceremony. Each bachelor's candidate selects a family member or friend to accompany him or her across the auditorium stage. Along with a college diploma, each Methodist graduate is presented with a bachelor's hood, draped by the selected honoree.
