WOMACK ENDOWED CHAIR ESTABLISHED

FAYETTEVILLE, NC -- Methodist College has announced the establishment of the Samuel J. Womack Endowed Chair in Religion and Philosophy. The chair has been named in honor of Dr. Samuel J. Womack, longtime faculty member at Methodist College.

Over $25,000 has been pledged towards a goal of $100,000. The pledges were made by members of the of the project's steering committee, headed by Woodrow V. Register, a former trustee of the college.

The endowed chair will allow Methodist to attract prominent scholars in religion and philosophy for research and teaching.

Womack, who retired in 1984, was one of eight original faculty members when Methodist opened for instruction in 1960. His first positions were college chaplain and chairman of the religion and philosophy department. He served for 14 years as academic dean. His retirement concluded 24 years of teaching religion, sociology and journalism.

A native of Georgia, Womack graduated from Florida Southern College with an A.B. degree in English and sociology. He earned a master of divinity degree in 1957 and a doctor of philosophy degree in 1961, both from Duke University.

Before joining the faculty at Methodist, Womack served in a variety of positions. After college, he was a staff member with the Ledger, a newspaper in Lakeland, FL. He served from 1942-46 as an officer in the U.S. Army and served again during the Korean conflict, 1951-52.

After his World War II duty, Womack worked as managing editor of the Ledger. In 1955, he was admitted on trial to the Florida Annual Conference of the Methodist Church. He was ordained a deacon in 1957 and ordained an elder in 1962. He was admitted on trial to the North Carolina Conference of the United Methodist Church in 1960 and two years later was granted full membership.

Womack has been honored with inclusion in the Who's Who in the South and Southwest, Who's Who in North Carolina, Who's Who in the Methodist Church, Director of American Scholars, Outstanding Scholars of America, and Biographical Directory of American Education. He was honored last fall with the Methodist College Alumni Association Outstanding Faculty Award.

He and his wife, Norma Clark Womack, are the parents of two children, Alan Womack and Lynda Womack Fisher. His wife and both children are graduates of Methodist College. Norma Womack has served on the college library staff since 1965 and has been director of Davis Memorial Library since 1979.

HARTMANN TO PLAY BASKETBALL AT METHODIST COLLEGE

FAYETTEVILLE, NC -- Bill Hartmann, 5'11" guard from Bishop Moore High School in Orlando, Florida, will attend Methodist College this fall according to Methodist basketball coach Joe Miller.

Hartmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hartmann, 2224 Woodwind Ave., Orlando, was the MVP in scoring. In 1984-85, he was named to the Great Florida Shoot-Out Honor Roll team, was second leading scorer on the Bishop Moore team and had the best free throw shooting percentage. Hartmann was named all-conference honorable mention both years.

"Bill had an outstanding high school career at Bishop Moore," said Miller. "I am happy that he has decided to attend Methodist College."

GOODWIN TO ATTEND METHODIST COLLEGE

FAYETTEVILLE, NC -- Methodist College basketball coach Joe Miller has announced that John Goodwin of Edenton, NC, will play basketball at Methodist College next year.

Goodwin, son of Elizabeth R. Goodwin of 15 Westover, Edenton, was a point guard for coach Robert Woodley at John A. Holmes High School.

"I am really glad that John is planning to attend Methodist College next fall," said Miller. "He is an outstanding shooter and also passes the ball real well. He averaged six assists a game which is very good. I am looking forward to working with John next year."
