HARLEY NAMED DIRECTOR OF B.S.N. DEGREE PROGRAM

FAYETTEVILLE, NC -- Dr. Lynn Sadler, vice president for academic affairs at Methodist College, has named Dr. Ann Harley as director of the Methodist College Bachelor of Science in Nursing (B.S.N.) degree completion program.

Since 1980, Harley has been chairperson of the Western Washington University Department of Nursing, which she established. The nursing department there was accredited by the National League of Nursing (NNL) in April 1983. She was also on the faculty of Western Washington as professor of nursing.

Previously, Harley had been director of the College of Nursing Graduate Division at the University of Nebraska-Omaha, curriculum coordinator at the Presbyterian School of Nursing Presbyterian-University of Pennsylvania Medical Center in Philadelphia and associate director of the nursing school at Pennsylvania Hospital, also in Philadelphia.

Additionally, Harley has served on the nursing faculties at Nebraska-Omaha and City College of the City University of New York City. Her nursing experience includes staff positions at Columbia University, Cornell University-New York Hospital in New York City, Rolling Hill Hospital in Elkins Park, PA, the University of Pennsylvania, and Abington Memorial Hospital in Abington, PA.

(More)

Harley graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1960 with a B.S.N. Two years later she earned her master of science in nursing degree from the University of Pennsylvania with a clinical major in rehabilitation nursing and a functional major in educational administration in nursing schools. Her master's project was "The Understanding and Application of Certain Principles of Body Mechanics as Tested and Observed in a Selected Group of Second-Year Nursing Students."

Harley was awarded a doctor of education degree from Columbia University in 1978. Her major was curriculum and instruction in higher education and nursing of the adult in health and illness. Her dissertation focused on "Biorhythm Theory and Its Application to Nursing Practice."

Harley is a member of Sigma Theta Tau, Honorary Nursing Society Xi Chapter, University of Pennsylvania, Phi Delta Kappa, Pi Lambda Theta, Kappa Delta Pi, and has been named to Who's Who in the West (1982, 1983), Who's Who in American Women (1985-86) and Who's Who in American Nursing (1985). Western Washington honored her in 1982 with its Merit Award.

She has flourished in a number of other professional areas, among them book review writer for several publishers, a curriculum consultant, an accreditation team visitor, and an expert witness on the issues of nursing practices.

Harley is active in various regional and state nursing activities. She is currently affiliated with the American Nurses Association, the National League of Nursing and the International Society of Chronobiology. Harley is licensed to practice professional nursing in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Nebraska and Washington.
