METHODIST COLLEGE PRESENTS 'THE WHITE HOUSE'

FAYETTEVILLE, NC -- How did the men who served as president of the United States live and act in their private moments? For surprising answers and an exciting evening of entertainment, Methodist College presents "The White House" on Nov. 20-22 at 8 p.m. in Reeves Auditorium.

Playwright A. E. Hotchner has taken personal anecdotes and interests from the lives of our presidents, their ladies and important personages from John Adams through Woodrow Wilson, to meld them into a panorama of American life, laughter, music and history.

The events depicted -- comic and dramatic, relevant and irrelevant -- are based upon letters, diaries and documents written by our First Families or their contemporaries. The original Broadway production in 1964 starred such theatre luminaries as Helen Hayes, James Daly and Gene Wilder.

Jane W. Berry, guest director, has gathered an ensemble cast of experienced and versatile actors to perform the 60 or more colorful characters who appear during the action.

Harlan Duenow, music director, provides the marches, ballads and campaign songs which tie the sequences together, while the lighting director, David Castenada, applies his skill to create a visual atmosphere to match the content of
