DR. TED JAEGER RECEIVES NSF GRANT

Dr. Ted Jaeger, associate professor of psychology at Methodist College, has received a $9,522 grant from the National Science Foundation for a project entitled "Developing Scientists in Psychology".

The NSF grant and a matching amount from the college will fund a year-long Developing Scientists Program for senior psychology majors.

The program will use a new psychology lab equipped with five Apple IIGS computers and an interfaceable biofeedback system.

Students will receive instruction in hypothesis formulation, design, and execution of experiments, and in data analysis and interpretation. Participants will be expected to conduct one experiment per semester for two semesters and prepare reports in journal form describing their projects.

BUTLER RECEIVES GRANT FOR RESEARCH PROJECT

Fayetteville, NC -- Richard Butler, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Butler of 711 Hilton Dr., Fayetteville, NC, a music/French major, has been awarded a $500 grant from Phi Sigma Iota, an international foreign language honor society. The rising senior will use the grant for a comparative study of the requiems of the French Romantic composers Hector Berlioz and Gabriel Faure.

In the spring of 1988, as the culmination of his senior research project, Butler will conduct a performance of the Faure Requiem by the Methodist College Chorus and a small orchestra. An honors student at Methodist, Butler is a member of three honorary societies, is immediate past president of the college chorus, and serves as the student representative on the Academic Affairs Committee.

Methodist is a fully accredited four-year college of liberal arts and sciences. Located on a 600-acre campus bordering the Cape Fear River, the college has a fulltime enrollment of just under 1,100 students.
