MAULDIN, CAVINESS TO DISCUSS ECONOMIC OUTLOOK IN 1989

FAYETTEVILLE, NC--Robert R. Mauldin, chairman and chief executive officer of Peoples Bank and Trust Co., will deliver the "Outlook for 1989" address at the Economic Outlook Symposium Thursday, November 17 at 7 p.m.

"In this election year, there is a great uncertainty about the future course of the American economy," said Dr. Sid Gautam, economics professor at Methodist.

"Mr. Mauldin is in a good position to know what we can expect in 1989."

Mr. Mauldin joined Peoples Bank and Trust Co. in 1969 as executive vice president. He became president in 1981 and chairman and CEO in 1985. He holds a B.S. in business administration from the University of North Carolina of Chapel Hill and has done postgraduate work at the University of Oklahoma and Louisiana State University.

Mauldin has been active in the civic and business life of Rocky Mount. He is currently a director of Downtown Renaissance, Inc.; Triangle East; and the Nash County Industrial Development Commission. He is past president of the Rocky Mount Chamber of Commerce, the United Way, and the Rocky Mount Kiwanis Club.

Dr. William Robert Caviness, president of the Fayetteville Area Chamber of Commerce, will deliver the second keynote address, entitled "Outlook for Cumberland County."

Dr. Caviness is a local dentist. He is a graduate of the UNC School of Dentistry and served his residency at Duke University Medical Center.

Methodist College will recognize outstanding individual achievements in 1988 by presenting awards to: the Entrepreneur of the Year, the outstanding business

METHODIST COLLEGE TO HOLD FORUM ON CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUES

FAYETTEVILLE, NC--Methodist College will hold a forum entitled "Life, Death, and the U.S. Constitution" Wednesday, Nov. 16 at 6:30 p.m. in the Student Union. The public is invited.

A panel of medical, legal, and ethical experts will discuss the U.S. Constitution in relation to issues of individual choice such as "allowing" a life to end, reproductive rights, and other biomedical issues.

Panel members will include: Gerald Beaver, an attorney with the Fayetteville law firm of Beaver, Thompson, Holt and Richardson; Dr. Charles Ellenbogen, Director of Internal Medicine, Fayetteville Area Health Education Center; and the Rev. Randy Hillman, Clinical Care Chaplain, Forsyth Memorial Hospital in Winston-Salem, N.C.

Ms. Wendy Riddle, WFNC radio news personality, will serve as moderator of the panel discussion. Members of the audience will have the opportunity to ask questions and contribute to the discussion.

The forum is the latest in a series of events being held at Methodist to commemorate the bicentennial of the U.S. Constitution.

DRAMA CLUB AT METHODIST TO STAGE "EQUUS"

FAYETTEVILLE, NC--Green and Gold Masque Keys of Methodist College will present the Peter Shaffer play "Equus" Friday, Nov. 18 and Saturday, Nov. 19 at 8 p.m. and Sunday, Nov. 20 at 2 p.m. in Reeves Auditorium. Admission is free.

The modern tragedy will be directed by Mary Rowland, a senior fine arts management major at Methodist. Written by the author of "Amadeus," "Equus" explores the tortured psyche of a 17-year-old stable boy who has blinded six horses with a steel spike. As a psychiatrist treats the boy, a shattering confrontation occurs between the passionate spirit of the life force and distortions forced on this spirit by "civilized" society. The play is not recommended for children.

The cast of "Equus" includes: Scott Enerson as Martin Dysart (the psychiatrist), Daniel Covell as Alan Strang (the young boy), Charles Pasacantando as Frank Strang (the boy's father), Linda Welch as Dora Strang (the boy's mother), Kimberly Chastek as Jill Mason (the young girl), Chris Laning as Harry Dalton (the stable owner), and Nadine Sheridan-Gerig as Heather Salomon (a counselor), Patrice Spangler as the nurse, and Rahn Kersey as the horseman. The horses are played by: Robin Westbrook, Jeff Gilpin, Ben Van Etten, Michael Taylor, Patrick Deery, and Rahn Kersey.

PUBLIC INFORMATION

11/17/88

The following persons will receive awards at the 1989 Economic Outlook Symposium. Dr. Gautam was unable to give me advance profiles on these, but this will at least give you the correct spellings of their names.

- < Wall Street Journal Award - Patric Zimmer, a senior business major from Fayetteville. He is president of the Student Government Association at Methodist. He graduated from Terry Sanford High School.
- < Economics and Business Alumna ^{the Year} of (1988) - Jo Anna Cherry Palumbo, a 1969 graduate of Methodist. A native of Charlotte, ^{NC,} she started her own business in that city.
- < Entrepreneur of the Year (1988) - Vance B. Neal
- < Business Person of the Year (1988) - David Wilson

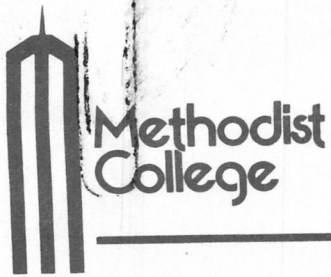

Recipients of the Wall Street Journal Award are selected by the business faculty. The same goes for the Economics and Business Alumnus/Alumna of the Year, except that nominations are solicited from business alumni.

(given to the outstanding business major at Methodist)

The recipients of the other two awards are chosen by a college committee from a pool of nominees submitted by the business community. persons in The college sends out nomination forms annually, in the fall.

The Entrepreneur of the Year Award recognizes a risk taker in the free enterprise system, a person who sees an opportunity and then devises strategies to achieve specific objectives.

The Business Person of the Year Award, instituted in 1987, honors a business executive who has made outstanding contributions to local business and industry and to the civic and cultural life

LIVING THEATRE PRODUCTION RESCHEDULED

FYAETTEVILLE, NC--The Methodist College Theatre Department has rescheduled "The Living Theatre Collection" from December 6, 1988 to January 24 and 25, 1989. Performances are slated for 8 p.m. in Reeves Auditorium.

The production combines drama and fashions from five historical periods to illustrate the importance of costuming in the theatre. The student cast will present scenes from "Antigone," "Bilora" (a Renaissance farce), "Sganarelle" by Moliere, "A Doll's House" by Ibsen, and "Cats" by Andrew Lloyd Weber.

Admission is free and the public is invited.

Dr. Sadler, Dr. Lowdermilk, Mr. Safley, Mr. Billings, Mr. Porter,
Mrs. Howell, Mrs. Cohen, Direction Class Members

Living Theatre postponement

Things some times get hectic in theatre--and right now we are peaking out.

Because of too ambitious a schedule for the Fall semester we are finding it impossible to do The Living Theatre program on December 6th as scheduled.

By checking with the grand school calander and Dr. Lowdermilk's "Reeves" scheduled we found the dates of January 24 and 25th at 8:00 as alternate dates. If I do not hear otherwise we will plan on these dates.

MORAVIAN LOVE FEASTS SLATED AT METHODIST COLLEGE

FAYETTEVILLE, NC--Methodist College will celebrate Christmas with two Moravian Love Feasts Sunday, Dec. 4 in Hensdale Chapel. Both the 6 p.m. and 8:15 p.m. services are open to the general public.

The Rev. Phillip Baugess, pastor of Covenant Moravian Church in Wilmington, will be the worship leader. Paul Tamblyn of Fayetteville will play the organ and Tammy Hightower Edens of Mebane will sing "Morning Star."

The traditional Moravian Love Feast celebrates the birth of Christ through scripture reading and prayer, the singing of hymns, the lighting of candles, and the serving of Moravian bread and coffee.

Admission to each Love Feast is by ticket only. Tickets are free upon request. Persons desiring tickets should send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Rev. William Green, Methodist College, 5400 Ramsey St., Fayetteville, NC 28311 by Dec. 1, specifying which service--6 p.m. or 8:15 p.m.--they wish to attend.

VISITING PROFESSOR TO SPEAK ON CONFLICT IN NORTHERN IRELAND

FAYETTEVILLE, NC--Dr. John Wilson, professor of chemistry at the University of Ulster in Northern Ireland, will be the guest speaker at the fall dinner of the North Carolina Southeastern Consortium for International Education Wednesday, Nov. 30 at Methodist College.

The dinner will be held at 7 p.m. in the Alumni Dining Room (Student Union) and is open to the public. The cost is $6.25 per person. Those interested in attending should phone Mrs. Lynda Beard at 488-7110, Extension 225, to make reservations. The reservation deadline is 4 p.m. Monday, Nov. 28.

A visiting professor at Pembroke State University, Dr. Wilson will speak on the topic "Northern Ireland: Human Nature At Work." He will discuss the war between the Protestants and Catholics in Northern Ireland.

The North Carolina Southeastern Consortium for International Education is an intercampus association linking Pembroke State University, St. Andrews College, Methodist College, and Fayetteville State University.
