METHODIST COLLEGE RELIGION PROFESSOR TO AUTOGRAPH HIS NEW BOOK ON JOHN WESLEY

Fayetteville, NC--Dr. Kenneth J. Collins, associate professor of philosophy and religion at Methodist College, will autograph copies of his new book about John Wesley Oct. 11 at 2 p.m. The autograph session will be held in the lobby of the Horner Administration Building.

Entitled Wesley on Salvation: A Study in the Standard Sermons, Collins' book was recently published by Francis Asbury Press. Dr. Collins has written numerous journal articles and papers on the theology of John Wesley, the founder of Methodism.

Dr. Collins has taught religion and philosophy at Methodist since 1986, and he served as college chaplain from 1984-86. He holds a Ph.D. from Drew University, master's degrees from Princeton Theological Seminary and Asbury Theological Seminary, and a bachelor's degree from the State University of New York at Buffalo.

MC GRADUATE TO TRANSLATE LAFAYETTE LETTERS

FAYETTEVILLE, NC--Denise Guidotti, a 1989 graduate of Methodist College, has received a grant from the American Translators Association to translate three letters written by the French patriot Lafayette.

The letters were found in the archives of Metz, France and copies were forwarded to Martha Duell, president of Fayetteville's Lafayette Society. Mrs. Duell will present copies of the letters to the Lafayette Collection in Davis Memorial Library. In the letters (all written in the 1780's and 1790's), Lafayette describes his feelings of insecurity during the French Revolution and his love for the newly formed United States of America.

Ms. Guidotti, who graduated with honors in French, was encouraged to undertake the translation project by Mrs. Elaine Porter, associate professor of French at Methodist. Once completed, the translated letters and copies of the original French manuscripts will become part of the Lafayette Collection in Methodist's Davis Memorial Library.

NOTE TO EDITOR--The Lafayette Collection of letters and memorabilia about the Marquis de Lafayette would make a fascinating subject for a feature article in this bicentennial year of the French Revolution. For more information, contact Mrs. Elaine Porter, 488-7110, Extension 249.

COLLEGE SEEKING NOMINATIONS FOR BUSINESS AWARDS

FAYETTEVILLE, NC--The Center for Entrepreneurship at Methodist College is seeking nominations for business awards to be presented at the 16th annual Economic Outlook Symposium Nov. 15.

The Business Person of the Year Award recognizes an executive who has made outstanding contributions to a local business or industry and to the civic and cultural life of the community. David Wilson, vice president and general manager of Fasco Industries, won the award in 1988.

The Entrepreneur of the Year Award recognizes "a risk taker in the free enterprise system, a person who sees an opportunity and then devises strategies to achieve specific objectives." Vance B. Neal, president of Short Stop Food Marts, Inc., won the award in 1988.

Award recipients are chosen from nominees submitted to a committee appointed by the Center for Entrepreneurship. Anyone wishing to nominate a person for an award should send a nomination form and supporting material to: The Center for Entrepreneurship, Methodist College, 5400 Ramsey St., Fayetteville, NC 28311-1499.

METHODIST COLLEGE TO OBSERVE HOMECOMING

FAYETTEVILLE, NC--Raccoon coats and flapper dresses will be back in style as Methodist College celebrates "The Roaring Twenties" during Homecoming Weekend, Oct. 27-29.

This homecoming will be unique in several respects. For the first time ever, campus organizations have selected both male and female representatives to the Homecoming Court. A king and queen will be crowned during halftime of the Methodist vs. Maryville football game Saturday, Oct. 28.

A variety of sporting events is scheduled for Saturday--a men's soccer game, the football game, and a women's soccer game. Methodist is hosting the Dixie Conference Men's Soccer Championships Saturday and Sunday. (See enclosed schedule.)

The Student Government Association and the Methodist College Alumni Association have planned a wide range of activities for current students and alumni. Preliminaries will begin Wednesday, Oct. 25 with Charleston lessons, introduction of the homecoming contestants, and Casino Night followed by a Charleston contest. On Thursday evening, Jeff Dunham and Peanut (a ventriloquist act) will appear in the Student Union.

The Student Activities Council will sponsor a treasure hunt for a replica of Al Capone's vault that has been hidden on campus. Clues and a map will be handed out from various locations beginning Wednesday. The first team to find the vault will win prizes worth $50-$75.

--2-2-2--

On Friday morning, the student body and cheerleaders will gather for a pep rally in the Student Union. Members of the fall teams competing during Homecoming Weekend--football, men's soccer, women's soccer--will be introduced. A bonfire and second pep rally are slated for Friday night in O'Hanlon Amphitheater.

Saturday morning activities include: a carnival on the campus mall, a tour of the new Physical Activities Center, and a men's soccer game featuring Methodist vs. Christopher Newport (opening round of the Dixie Conference Tournament).

Afternoon activities include: a pre-game parade of homecoming contestants led by the Cary High School Marching Band, the Methodist vs. Maryville (TN) College football game (with halftime entertainment by the Cary Band), and a women's soccer game against Queens College.

Evening activities include: a reception for alumni in the Mallett-Rogers House, an alumni dinner, and a homecoming dance at the Holiday Inn.

Homecoming festivities conclude with two events Sunday--a worship service in Hensdale Chapel led by the Rev. Jack Hunter '64 and a library lecture by Parker Wilson entitled "The legacy of Lafayette."

METHODIST COLLEGE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION HONORS JACK LANGLEY

FAYETTEVILLE, NC--The Methodist College Alumni Association presented the Distinguished Alumnus Award to Rocky Mount native Jackson Lee Langley, Jr., Oct. 28.

Jack Langley graduated from Methodist in 1970, with a degree in business administration and economics. For the last six years, he has worked as a licensed real estate broker with Ruby Braswell Realty in Rocky Mount. In 1985, he was named Salesman of the Year after selling $2.5 million in real estate.

Mr. Langley has been a <sup>quadraplegic</sup> paraplegic since July 8, 1982 when he was critically injured in an auto accident in Virginia. Despite recurring medical problems, several operations, and confinement to a wheelchair, he has remained active in community organizations and in his church. The father of two sons has also found time to coach a basketball team.

Upon accepting the award, Mr. Langley thanked the members of his family for their support and encouragement throughout his ordeal.

The Methodist College Distinguished Alumnus Award is the highest honor bestowed by the Methodist College Alumni Association. It has been given only seven times in the last 20 years.
