BEN RUFFIN TO SPEAK AT METHODIST COLLEGE

FAYETTEVILLE, NC--Ben Ruffin, one of America's leading experts on Afro-American issues, will speak at Methodist College's spring convocation January 22. His topic will be "The Black Male Crisis."

Designed to commemorate Black History Month, the lecture will be held at 11 a.m. in Reeves Auditorium. It is free and open to the public.

Mr. Ruffin is vice president of corporate affairs for R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. in Winston-Salem. A graduate of North Carolina Central University and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, he is nationally known as an orator and an expert on Afro-American issues. He previously worked as a special assistant to North Carolina Governor James B. Hunt Jr.

In his position with R. J. Reynolds Tobacco, Mr. Ruffin is responsible for developing partnerships with minority business, civic, and professional organizations. While serving under Governor Hunt, he was responsible for increasing the number of black judges in the state and expanding the number of blacks employed in state government.

METHODIST COLLEGE TO PARTICIPATE IN SEARS TEACHING EXCELLENCE PROGRAM

FAYETTEVILLE, NC-Methodist College has been selected to participate in the Sears-Roebuck Foundation's 1990-91 Teaching Excellence and Campus Leadership Award Program.

"At Methodist College, our primary emphasis is on quality teaching, with the student as our central focus," said College President Elton Hendricks. "We are especially pleased that the Sears-Roebuck Foundation has maintained its long-standing partnership with independent higher education by continuing this teacher recognition program."

Methodist received a $2,000 grant from the Sears-Roebuck Foundation in 1989-90 for the recognition of teaching excellence. Dr. Linda Sue Barnes, professor of biology at Methodist College, won the college's first Sears Foundation Teaching Excellence Award in 1990. She was selected by a student/faculty committee.

"This award is a great honor," said Dr. Barnes, "and I deeply appreciate Sears' commitment to education. The 1990 grant enabled the Methodist College Science Department to acquire its own VCR with TV monitor."

The foundation supports awards programs at nearly 700 of the nation's leading independent liberal arts colleges and universities. Each winning faculty member receives $1,000 and the institution receives a grant of from $500 to $1,000 based on student enrollment. The Sears award program is administered nationally by the Stamford, Connecticut-based Foundation for Independent Higher Education and regionally by the Independent College Fund of North Carolina.

--2-2-2--

"We salute Sears in recognizing one of society's most fundamental needs, excellence in teaching," said John P. Blessington, F.I.H.E. president. "These awards will honor some of our nation's best educators and encourage others to emulate them."

"In the second year of this program," said Paula A. Banks, president of the Sears-Roebuck Foundation, "we have the opportunity to demonstrate our commitment to recognize campus leadership and outstanding teaching at the undergraduate level."

METHODIST COLLEGE TO OFFER SPRING GOLF RETREAT FOR UNITED METHODIST WOMEN

FAYETTEVILLE, NC-Methodist College will offer a unique golf retreat for United Methodist women May 26-30, 1991.

The retreat will utilize Methodist College's new on-campus golf facilities -- driving range, practice green, and five-hole golf course. The five-day, four-night retreat will allow women from across the conference to learn and work together with the staff to improve their golf proficiency and increase their spiritual awareness.

Bill Lowdermilk, the college's vice president for church/community relations, explains, "This retreat is an opportunity for United Methodist women to develop their golf game, enjoy Christian fellowship, participate in focused devotions, and hear inspirational and challenging speakers."

Jerry Hogge, PGA professional and Director of the rapidly growing Methodist College Golf Management Program, has assembled a staff of quality golf clinicians for a rewarding week. Mr. Hogge has 18 years' experience conducting golf camps for youth and women. He believes that the golf retreat concept, as opposed to the golf camp experience, has the potential for the most rewarding teaching experience of his career.

Each day will begin with a devotional. After breakfast, the morning program will include a video analysis of each lady's golf swing and viewing of the video "Golfing for Women." The afternoon will be reserved for playing time on the college golf course and a retreat golf tournament.

-MORE-

Each participant will receive individual as well as group instruction in golf fundamentals, mental preparation, and various aspects of the game. The evening program will feature programs on women in sports and the Christian experience. Socials are scheduled at the historic Mallet-Rogers House and the home of President and Mrs. Elton Hendricks.

For further information and registration forms, write Bill Lowdemilk or Jerry Hogge, Methodist College, 5400 Ramsey Street, Fayetteville, NC 28311.

MONARCH THEATRE TO PRESENT "UNIVERSITY"

FAYETTEVILLE, NC--Monarch Playmakers at Methodist College will present the play "University" February 1, 2, and 3.

"University" consists of 10 mini-plays depicting universal aspects of college life. Written by Jon Jory, director of Actors Theatre of Louisville, it is intended for mature audiences.

Florence Cohen will direct a cast of 13 students, with several playing multiple roles. Scenes from the play include: "Freshman Orientation," "Stopwatch," "Blondes," "The Budapest String Quartet," "Pressure Defense" and "The Quadrangle."

"University" will be staged "on-stage, backstage" in Reeves Auditorium at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 3 p.m. Sunday. Tickets are $3 for adults and $1 for high school students and senior citizens. For reservations, call 488-7110.

TROY HOWARD TO CHAIR METHODIST COLLEGE LOYALTY FUND DRIVE

FAYETTEVILLE, NC--Troy Howard, executive vice president of Belk Department Stores in the Fayetteville area, will chair the Methodist College Loyalty Fund Drive for 1991.

James Cherry, president of the Methodist College Foundation, announced that Howard will direct a team of 150 volunteers during the college's 34th annual fund drive Feb. 19. The goal for this year's fund drive is $175,000.

"We are grateful to Troy Howard for accepting this challenge," said Cherry. "I am confident he will give strong leadership to this effort and will help us reach or exceed our goal for the fifth year in a row."

Howard moved to Fayetteville last year from Gastonia, where he held leadership roles in the United Way, the Gaston County Arts and Science Council, and the Private Industry Council. He and his wife Dottie and their daughter Crystal attend First Baptist Church in Fayetteville.

"This community has watched Methodist College grow and strengthen," said Howard, "much as the students who have attended have grown and become stronger from its influence and knowledge. This growth would not have been possible without the support of the Fayetteville/Cumberland County community."

Mr. Howard continued, "Education is the very basis of our future and this education is the future of our community. Investing in Methodist College is more than supporting a school, it is supporting our community and our future. For this reason, I am proud to have the opportunity to be part of its growth."

The annual loyalty fund drive is the means by which the Methodist College Foundation fulfills the community's original pledge to provide at least $50,000 in annual sustaining funds for the college. Since 1957, the foundation has raised more than $5.6 million in sustaining funds for Methodist.

Methodist College has a current operating budget of $9.7 million. Its revenue sources are: tuition and fees, 70 percent; auxiliary enterprises, 18 percent; United Methodist Church, 5 percent; endowment earnings, 5 percent; gifts and grants, 2 percent.

Public Service Announcement

This year, America will celebrate the 200th anniversary of its Bill of Rights. Methodist College would like to invite all local citizens to join in the celebration by attending a series of forums designed to commemorate this event. The forums will be held three consecutive Tuesdays in February.

Entitled "The Bill of Rights In Everyday Life," this series will feature: a panel discussion of personal freedoms by local citizens, a mock trial staged by the Cumberland County Bar Association, and a commentary on the future of the Bill of Rights.

Citizens who attend these forums will receive a replica of the Bill of Rights suitable for framing. Show your pride in America by attending the Bill of Rights Forum February 12, 19, and 26 at Methodist College. Each forum will be held at 7:30 p.m. in Reeves Auditorium.
