METHODIST COLLEGE ACCOUNTING STUDENTS WIN REGIONAL CONTEST

FAYETTEVILLE, NC -- A team of accounting students at Methodist College will compete with four other college teams in a national competition sponsored by the Institute of Management Accountants.

The Methodist team won a regional competition by submitting on videotape their analysis of a problem in cost accounting. The team members, all students in Mr. Robert Cooper's "Cost Accounting II" class, are: Chrissy Babb, Heather Dean, Adam Hall, Carrie Perkins, and Rose Powers.

"The students were required to solve the problem on their own, without direct assistance from faculty," said Mr. Cooper. "They will now compete with three other regional winners at IMA's national convention in Atlanta June 20."
