METHODIST COLLEGE HONORS CHARTER MEMBERS OF ENDOWMENT SOCIETY

FAYETTEVILLE, NC--Charter members of the Methodist College Endowment Society were honored at a social gathering September 30.

College President and Mrs. Elton Hendricks were hosts for a reception at the president's home, followed by dinner in the Alumni Dining Room, Berns Student Center. Twenty-eight charter members of the Endowment Society received certificates of appreciation for making a planned gift of life insurance or a bequest to the college.

President Hendricks reported that 50 persons, including 21 alumni, had joined the newly formed Endowment Society and that Vice President for Development Bev Pankey had set a goal of 100 members by the end of this year.

Following the dinner, Mr. Alan Porter, tenor, and Mrs. Jane Gardner, pianist, entertained the group in Hensdale Chapel.

More than $350,000 in planned gifts was generated by the first 50 members of the Methodist College Endowment Society. The college endowment is currently valued at $3.2 million; interest earned on the endowment is used to support Methodist's Incentive Scholarship Program for deserving students.

NCATE ACCREDITS TEACHER EDUCATION PROGRAM AT METHODIST COLLEGE

FAYETTEVILLE, NC--The National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education has granted accreditation to the teacher education program at Methodist College.

The Washington, D.C. agency notified the college and state education officials October 8 that Methodist's teacher education program had met the national accreditation standards set by NCATE. Two teams--one from NCATE and one from the N. C. Department of Public Instruction--visited Methodist last April and reviewed the teacher education program.

"NCATE accreditation represents another step forward for Methodist College," said Dr. M. Elton Hendricks, college president. "I am proud of the excellent work of our faculty and staff which made this possible."

NCATE accreditation of the Methodist College program satisfies a 1990 requirement by the State Board of Education that North Carolina colleges and universities which train teachers meet national standards set by NCATE. Only two states--North Carolina and Arkansas--now have such a requirement. Methodist's teacher education program was reviewed and reaccredited by the N. C. Dept. of Public Instruction in 1988.

Methodist College currently trains 40-50 public school teachers each academic year. The college's eight-member Education Department is headed by Dr. Tony DeLapa.

FUTRELL, BRYANT TO DISCUSS ECONOMIC OUTLOOK FOR 1993

FAYETTEVILLE, NC-- J. Richard Futrell, Jr., chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Centura Bank, will deliver the keynote address at the Outlook for 1993 Symposium Thursday, November 5 at Methodist College.

Will the U.S. and North Carolina emerge from recession in 1993? "Mr. Futrell will give us the banking industry's answer to this question," noted Dr. Sid Gautam, economics professor at Methodist College.

Mr. Futrell is a graduate of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and the Graduate School of Banking of the South at Louisiana State University. He is the immediate past president and a member of the board of directors of the North Carolina Bankers Association.

Mr. Bryant, president of the Fayetteville Area Chamber of Commerce, will discuss the economic outlook for Cumberland County in 1993. He is the manager of Fayetteville's J.C. Penney store at Cross Creek Mall.

Methodist College will recognize outstanding business achievements in 1992 by presenting awards to: the Entrepreneur of the Year, the Business Person of the Year, the outstanding business student (Wall Street Journal Award), and Economic and Business Alumnus of the Year.

The Outlook for 1993 Symposium is sponsored jointly by the Fayetteville Area Chamber of Commerce, the N.C. Small Business and Technology Development Center, and the Center for Entrepreneurship at Methodist College.

Tickets for the symposium, including reception and banquet, are $12 per person, payable to Methodist College. Reservations and checks should be sent to: Dr. Sid Gautam, Director; Center for Entrepreneurship; Methodist College; 5400 Ramsey Street; Fayetteville, NC 28311 by October 30.

MC ALUMNI HONOR EDUCATION PROFESSOR

FAYETTEVILLE, NC-- The Methodist College Alumni Association presented its 1992 Outstanding Faculty Award to Dr. Tony DeLapa, professor of education, October 17.

Dr. DeLapa has chaired the Education Department at Methodist since 1989, also serving as director of the Division of Education and Physical Education. He is a specialist in reading instruction, writing processes, and competency-based testing. Under his leadership, the Education Department won a Reynolds Foundation Grant for its SPIRIT (Students and Parents Involved in Reading Instruction Together) program at Fayetteville's Pauline Jones Elementary School, started the Methodist College Teacher Education Alumni Association, and secured accreditation of the college's teacher education program by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education.

Dr. DeLapa has been very involved in campus activities, appearing with students in three theatrical productions, playing saxophone with the Methodist College Stage Band, and directing an October production of The Mouse That Roared. A native of Lockport, NY, Dr. DeLapa earned bachelor's and master's degrees at State University of New York at Buffalo and a doctorate in education at the University of Toledo.

PAUL SANDERFORD NAMED DISTINGUISHED ALUMNUS

FAYETTEVILLE, NC--The Methodist College Alumni Association awarded its Distinguished Alumnus Award to Paul L. "Buster" Sanderford Jr., Class of 1972, October 17.

The Zebulon, NC, native is the women's basketball coach at Western Kentucky University in Bowling Green. Last spring his team finished second to Stanford in the NCAA Division I National Championship game. Sanderford previously coached women's basketball at Louisburg College, a United Methodist junior college.

Sanderford's 10-year record at Western Kentucky stands at 248-77 for a winning percentage of .763. During six seasons at Louisburg, he led teams to a 163-19 record (.900), collecting a national championship along the way. Sanderford majored in sociology at Methodist and was a member of the Monarch baseball team.

Gene Clayton, vice president for business affairs at Methodist, accepted the award on behalf of Sanderford and read an acceptance message sent by the recipient. In his thank-you message, Sanderford said "caring, patient, and understanding people"--people like Bill Lowdemilk, Gene Clayton, and Bruce Shelley--made his years at Methodist special. He continued, "I am indeed proud to sing the praises and advantages of Methodist College. It was a perfect blend of academics and athletics. I accept this award knowing that Methodist College and its people are responsible for all my successes in life."

JOANNA CHERRY PALUMBO RECEIVES ALUMNI SERVICE AWARD

FAYETTEVILLE, NC-- The Methodist College Alumni Association presented its 1992 Alumni Service Award to Joanna Cherry Palumbo, Class of '69. The Charlotte resident received the award at the college's homecoming October 17.

Mrs. Palumbo has been a loyal and involved alumnus, organizing many reunions for her college classmates. She has served on the alumni association board of directors and the college board of visitors, and was recently appointed to the Methodist College Board of Trustees. She received the college's Outstanding Business Alumnus Award in 1988.

Joanna Palumbo is co-owner and vice-president of Carolina Made, Inc.--a wholesale distributor, Cherry Casuals, Inc.--a retail clothing store, and Jim Cherry Interest, Inc.--a firm which builds and leases commercial buildings in Charlotte.

Mrs. Palumbo and her husband Jim are the parents of two daughters--Tiffany Alicia, 12, and Monica Michelle, 10. Mrs. Palumbo is president of the Medearis Woman's Club and is active in the PTA and Booster Club for First Ward Elementary School and McClintoch Jr. High. She has coached cheerleading for eight years for the South Park Youth Association. The Palumbos attend Purcell United Methodist Church.

METHODIST COLLEGE TO OFFER 17 COURSES DURING INTERIM TERM

FAYETTEVILLE, NC--Registration is now open for the second annual Interim Term at Methodist College. A total of 17 courses are scheduled for the two-week term which begins January 4, 1993.

Three "travel-study" courses are planned. Dr. Michael Colonnese, assistant professor of English, will take a class to Key West, Florida for a seminar on the poetry of Elizabeth Bishop. Mrs. Elaine Porter, associate professor of French, will lead a study-tour of Montreal and Quebec--a seminar on French Canada. Mr. Bob McEvoy, instructor of physical education, will teach an interdisciplinary course in Miami, Florida entitled "Volunteer Experience: The Aftermath of Hurricane Andrew."

Dr. Suzan Cheek, associate professor of political science, will team teach a seminar on mediation and dispute resolution, which will enable students to become certified mediators. Richard Spell, director of the Cumberland County Dispute Resolution Center, will assist Dr. Cheek.

Interim Term courses will meet every weekday and carry varying amounts of credit, from one to three semester hours. Tuition is $95 per credit hour. A student may register for only one course during the Interim. Food, lodging, and transportation (where required) are not included in tuition and must be provided by the student.

Current students living in the residence halls may reside on campus at no charge during the Interim Term, but meals will be available only in the college snack bar.

"TWO BY TENNESSEE" TO FEATURE METHODIST COLLEGE SENIOR AMY CURRIE

FAYETTEVILLE, NC--The Methodist College Theatre Department presents "Two by Tennessee," the senior project of Amy Elizabeth Currie, November 13-15.

Miss Currie will play two distinctly different types of women from plays by Tennessee Williams. First, she will portray the youthful Flora Meighan in "Baby Doll." After a short intermission, she will reappear as Miss Lucretia Collins, a septuagenarian, in "Portrait of a Madonna." She will be directed by Glenn Herrin.

The plays will be staged "onstage, backstage" in Reeves Auditorium. Show times are November 13 and 14 (Friday and Saturday) at 8 p.m. and Sunday, November 15 at 3 p.m. Admission is $2 for adults and $1 for senior citizens and children.

Miss Currie is a biology major from Elizabethtown. Last season she received the Outstanding Actress Award given by the Methodist College chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, a theatre honorary. She is a member of Circuit Players (a touring group) and recently played Queen Gloriana the 12th in "The Mouse That Roared." She has appeared in or helped stage a dozen Monarch Playmaker productions. She has made the Dean's List and the President's List at Methodist.
