METHODIST COLLEGE SEEKS APPLICATIONS FROM TEACHER EDUCATION SCHOLARS

The Methodist College Teacher Education Research Institute is now accepting applications for its first class of Teacher Education Scholars. Persons selected will participate in a public forum Tuesday, Aug. 6, do follow-up research, and publish their findings in a special issue of the North Carolina Journal of Education.

Applicants must be currently employed as teacher educators and have a desire to pursue research in the area of teacher education for the purpose of publishing. They should also be willing to serve as change agents in confronting current problems and issues affecting school teachers and those who train them.

The scholars selected will be honored at an awards luncheon Aug. 6, sponsored by the college. Winners will be notified by July 15. Applications can be secured by phoning Mrs. Jaunita Heyward (910) 630-7051 or Dr. Elizabeth Belford (910) 630-7054. The deadline for applying is June 28.

The Aug. 6 forum or "think-tank" will be free and open to the public. Persons from all walks of life will be invited to participate in discussions about the professional preparation of teachers and ways to ensure safe, high quality, and morally-governed education.

Teachers will have an opportunity to receive two continuing education units by attending the forum and two follow-up sessions. There is a $35 fee for processing the paperwork needed to obtain the two C.E.U.'s of teacher certification renewal credit.

METHODIST COLLEGE TO HOLD GROUNDBREAKING FOR JOE W. STOUT HALL

FAYETTEVILLE, NC—Methodist College will hold a formal groundbreaking ceremony Friday, June 28 at 10 a.m. for Joe W. Stout Hall.

Located on the front part of the campus between Lowdermilk Drive and Ramsey Street, the new building will house the college admissions and financial aid offices and will bear the name of one of the college's major benefactors. Dr. and Mrs. Frank Stout made a major gift toward the building in memory of Dr. Stout's father, Joe.

Joe Stout developed Eutaw Shopping Center and Bordeaux Motor Inn in Fayetteville and was a strong supporter of the college. In 1956, he and his wife donated 120 acres of land for the Methodist College campus. Joe Stout died in 1988 at the age of 72.

Joe W. Stout Hall totals 4,500 square feet and will cost approximately $600,000. Player, Inc. of Fayetteville, the general contractor, started construction the first week in June. Completion is slated for January of next year.
