DAVIS MEMORIAL LIBRARY FEATURES 'CAROLINA ECHOES'

FAYETTEVILLE, NC—The Special Collections Room of Davis Memorial Library currently features an exhibit entitled "Carolina Echoes" commemorating Carolina College, a women's college which operated in Maxton, NC from 1912-1926.

Comprised primarily of photographs but also including College memorabilia such as pins and banners, the exhibit materials were prepared by Methodist student Tracie McCarley, under the direction of Dr. Charles Briscoe, adjunct instructor of history. McCarley prepared the exhibit as part of her internship at Fayetteville's Museum of the Cape Fear.

Dr. Briscoe first came across the Carolina College archives in Davis Library two years ago and realized the pictures and other items could prove valuable in the study of North Carolina social history. He and McCarley patiently reconstructed the life of the College in its social setting, including school songs and rituals. One part of the exhibit deals with social life, and the other chronicles sports at Carolina.

Carolina College was founded by the North Carolina Methodists to provide young women from the region educational opportunities not readily available to many women of the era. The school offered a variety of programs, including a bachelor's degree program and teacher training. In 1919, Carolina became a junior college. Due to financial pressures, the school closed permanently in 1926. The site was later used by Carolina Military Academy, a preparatory school which burned in 1973.

"Carolina Echoes" can be viewed during the library's normal operating hours. Part of the exhibit will remain on permanent display in the Special Collections Room.

WINSON CLARK'S SENIOR ART EXHIBIT OPENS DEC. 7 AT METHODIST COLLEGE

FAYETTEVILLE, NC—Fayetteville native Winson Clark will present his senior art exhibit Dec. 7-15 in the Mallett-Rogers House Gallery at Methodist College.

Entitled "Self-Exorcism," the show consists of oil paintings, acrylic paintings, ceramic sculpture, prints and mixed media works. A graduate of Westover High School, Clark says his art was inspired by the experimentation of Pablo Picasso, primitive tribal sculpture, and the actions and emotions of everyday people.

Clark is majoring in art with a double concentration in ceramic sculpture and painting and will graduate Dec. 17. "I admire his abilities and willingness to experiment with so many varieties and combinations of materials," said Peggy Hinson, professor of art at Methodist.

The show opens with a public reception Dec. 7 from 6 to 9 p.m. Thereafter, Clark's show will be open from 1 to 4 p.m. Dec. 8-10 and again Dec. 13-15.

METHODIST COLLEGE THEATRE DEPARTMENT PRESENTS
'CHARLOTTE'S WEB' NOV. 18-21

FAYETTEVILLE, NC—The Methodist College Theatre Department presents Charlotte's Web, its annual children's theatre production, Nov. 18-21 in Reeves Auditorium.

Show times are 7:30 p.m. Thursday-Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday. Tickets are $7 for adults, $4 for students and senior citizens, and $3 for children 12 and under. Tickets will be sold at the door beginning one hour before each show.

Written by Joseph Robinette and based on the 1952 book by E. B. White, Charlotte's Web has delighted several generations of children with its tale of Wilbur the Pig learning of life's struggles and realities from Charlotte the Spider and other friends on the farm.

Cast members in lead roles include theatre veteran Stacie Bird as Wilbur and newcomer Melissa Ann Cain as Charlotte. The show also features Chuck Heaton, Colleen Harrington, Danny Harrington, Pat DeLapa, Rebecca Kiser, Jonelle Kimbrough and Heather Mills. Phoebe Hall, adjunct instructor of speech, is directing the show.

METHODIST COLLEGE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION HONORS THREE

FAYETTEVILLE, NC—The Methodist College Alumni Association presented awards to three individuals at its annual Homecoming Banquet Oct. 31.

J. Michael Rogers, Distinguished Professor of Music, received the Outstanding Faculty Award. An accomplished instrumentalist (woodwinds, string bass, organ) and composer, Rogers has taught at Methodist for the last 27 years. He has also directed the MC Wind Ensemble and the Stage Band. He was honored for his sincere interest in students and his strong support of music alumni.

A native of Gastonia, NC, Rogers holds bachelor's and master's degrees in music from Appalachian State University. He has taught a variety of music courses at Methodist, including "Music Appreciation," "Music Theory," "Composing " and "Introduction to Music Technology."

Patric Zimmer '89 of Eden, NC, received the Distinguished Alumni Award. He is the owner/president of Development Advisors, Inc., a location consulting and industrial real estate brokerage firm which he formed in 1997.

Before starting his own business, Zimmer was director of the Rockingham County Economic Development Commission (1992-97) and director of economic development/planning director for Hoke County (1989-91). In 1996, he received his M.B.A. from the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. He is a Certified Economic Developer.

Zimmer majored in business administration at Methodist and was president of the Student Government Association his senior year. After graduating, he served as a director and first vice president of the Methodist College Alumni Association.

METHODIST ALUMNI HONOR THREE

John B. Lipscomb, Jr. '68 of Sanford, NC, received the Outstanding Alumni Service Award. A 7th grade teacher at Albritton Jr. High School, Fort Bragg, Lipscomb has served on the Alumni Association board since 1992. For the last five years, he has chaired the Homecoming Committee, doing extensive research for class reunions and writing scores of MC alumni to invite them to homecomings.

Lipscomb holds a B.A. in History from Methodist and an M.Ed. from Western Carolina University. While a student at MC, he was a member of the wrestling and bowling teams, the Young Democrats and the Student Activities Committee. He was also treasurer of the Student Government Association.

METHODIST COLLEGE MUSIC DEPT. PRESENTS 'A SPECIAL HOLIDAY
CONCERT' NOV. 30

FAYETTEVILLE, NC—The Methodist College Music Department will present “A Special Holiday Concert” Tuesday, Nov. 30 at 7 p.m. in Reeves Auditorium. Admission is free and the public is invited.

The concert will feature vocal and instrumental groups and four student soloists in a varied program of Christmas music. The program includes well-known popular and sacred works, including “The Christmas Song,” “’Twas the Night Before Christmas,” “Break Forth, O Beauteous Heavenly Light” and “Go Where I Send Thee.”

Soprano Svetlana Kurs will open the concert by singing “O Holy Night.” Other soloists and the songs they will perform are: mezzo-soprano Brenda Vandervort, “Sweet Little Jesus Boy”; tenor Andy Dickerson, “I Wonder As I Wander”; and soprano Angalie Quinn, “Gesù Bambino.”

To close the concert, music alumni will join the Methodist College Concert Choir in a performance of the Mendelssohn anthem “There Shall a Star Come Out of Jacob.” Alan Porter, professor of music emeritus, will serve as guest conductor.

Methodist’s choral groups are: Rainbow’s End (11 members), the Show Choir (46 members) and the Concert Choir (43 members). The Chamber Ensemble includes four flutists and a clarinetist, often accompanied by two violinists, a harpsichordist, and a bassoonist. Betty Neill Parsons directs the vocal groups and Mary Frances Boyce directs the Chamber Ensemble. The soloists in this concert are voice students of Sue Snyder.

METHODIST COLLEGE TO OFFER MORAVIAN LOVE FEAST

FAYETTEVILLE, NC—Methodist College will celebrate Christmas with a Moravian Love Feast Sunday, Dec. 5 at 7 p.m. in Hensdale Chapel.

The traditional Moravian Love Feast celebrates the birth of Christ through scripture reading and prayer, the singing of hymns, the lighting of candles, and the serving of Moravian bread and coffee. The Love Feast has been an annual tradition at Methodist since 1974, when Rick Wilson, a Methodist College student reared in the Moravian Church in Winston-Salem, NC, organized the first such service.

The first love feast in Wachovia (the region now known as Winston-Salem, NC) was held Nov. 17, 1753, on the evening of the arrival of the first Moravian colonists in North Carolina. John Wesley, the founder of Methodism, took part in a Moravian Love Feast in 1837 and introduced it to his fellow Methodists the following year, making provision for it in the ritual of the church.

The Rev. Carl King, campus minister at Methodist College, will be the liturgist for Methodist's Love Feast. He will be assisted by student servers, a guest soloist and a guest organist.

Admission to the Love Feast is by ticket only. Tickets are free and can be obtained by sending a request, along with a stamped, self-addressed envelope to: Rev. Carl King, Methodist College, 5400 Ramsey Street, Fayetteville, NC 28311 by Nov. 30.

METHODIST COLLEGE DEBATERS WIN SIX ROUNDS IN TWO OUTINGS

FAYETTEVILLE, NC—The Methodist College Debate Team of Susanne Graves and Ron Berry performed well in debate tournaments this fall at Wake Forest University and Liberty University. Graves and Berry competed in the Junior Varsity Division.

In the Wake Forest University Dixie Debate Tournament Nov. 20-22, Graves and Berry defeated teams from Cornell, West Virginia and Louisville, nearly making the semifinal rounds. The pair won three of five rounds. In the Liberty University Debate Tournament Nov. 12-14, the MC team advanced to the partial octo-finals by winning three of six rounds. Next semester they will compete in tournaments at the U. S. Naval Academy and George Mason University.

First-Year Debate Coach Todd Lyden said he felt the MC debaters had gained valuable experience in their last two outings. "I think we learned where we can improve and be even more competitive next semester," said Lyden. "I am proud that we performed well against some nationally-ranked teams. There is no conference system in debate as there is for NCAA sports, so we have to argue against teams from larger schools like Duke, Southern California, Pepperdine, James Madison, and South Carolina."

This year all collegiate debate teams are required to debate both sides of the national topic: "Resolved: That the United States Federal Government should adopt a policy of constructive engagement, including the removal of all or nearly all economic sanctions with the government (s) of one or more of the following nation-states: Cuba, Iran, Iraq, North Korea, Syria." On the affirmative side, Methodist advocates that the U. S. lift sanctions against Syria and give the country monetary assistance.

RE: Confirmation & Publicity Release

Dear Dr. DeLappa,

Your nominations for WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES have been received and approved by the national office. Campus and local publicity on these students should be released as soon as possible. We would appreciate copies of any publicity given these students.

Our organization will contact each nominee in about ten days to secure biographical material for publication in the current book, information for our student reference files, and other pertinent data.

Certificates of membership will be mailed directly to you and should be presented to the nominees at graduation or on some other appropriate occasion during the school year

Enclosed please find a list of the nominees we received from your committee. Carefully examine the names to be sure they are accurate. If there are any changes or corrections in your list of nominees, please notify this office immediately, at our toll free number 1-800-633-5953 or fax your corrections to (205) 345-0258.

Sincerely,

Darlene Wilson
Associate Director

NEWS RELEASE

November 4, 1999

The 2000 edition of WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES will include the names of 44 students from Methodist College who have been selected as national outstanding campus leaders.

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory have included the names of these students based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential for continued success.

They join an elite group of students from more than 2,300 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations.

Outstanding students have been honored in the annual directory since it was first published in 1934.

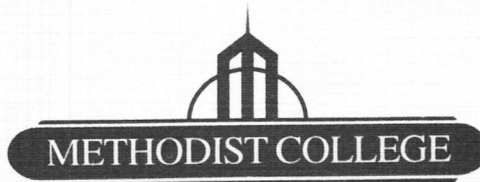

Students named this year from Methodist College are: (See attached list)

METHODIST COLLEGE YOUTH CHORALE ANNOUNCES CONCERT

FAYETTEVILLE, NC—The Methodist College Youth Chorale will present a Christmas Concert Monday, Dec. 6 at 7 p.m. in Reeves Auditorium. Admission is free and the public is invited.

The Youth Chorale is made up of 18 young people ages 10-17 who attend a weekly choral music class offered by the Methodist College Performing Arts School. Mrs. Ronda Spena, adjunct voice instructor at Methodist, teaches the class. She directs the chorale and accompanies the group on the piano. She is also the pianist for Village Baptist Church and teaches music at Village Christian Academy.

Mrs. Spena said the program includes 11 Christmas selections—some traditional and some contemporary. Three students will sing solos. Andrew Spena will perform “Jesus Gift”, Kathleen Fair and Katie Dourte will each sing a verse from “What Child Is This?”, and Joey Cook will sing “Shine On Us.”

The concert will end with the chorale and the audience lighting candles and singing several familiar Christmas carols.
