NCAICU PRESIDENT URGES METHODIST'S WINTER GRADS TO 'MAKE A DIFFERENCE'

FAYETTEVILLE, NC—Celebrate your accomplishments and thank those who helped you. Continue to learn and ask yourself at the end of each day, "Did I make a difference?"

That was the message given to Methodist's winter graduates Dec. 17. The speaker was Dr. A. Hope Williams, president of the North Carolina Association of Independent Colleges and Universities.

Dr. Williams said new technology and new job requirements will force workers in the new millennium to continue learning throughout their lifetimes. She also observed that the liberal arts foundation and the values received at Methodist College should enable its graduates to adapt and make wise decisions.

The speaker challenged the 120 degree candidates to remember those who had helped them succeed at Methodist and those who had supported the College over the last 40 years. "Do what you can to help the College continue to grow and remain strong, so others can be helped the same way you have been," she said.

Quoting from advice given by the late Terry Sanford, the first chairman of the Methodist College Board of Trustees, Dr. Williams challenged the graduating seniors to make a difference in the lives of others.

"Be unwilling to settle for less than your best and expect the same of others," she said. "As you go forward, make every day count and count every day a blessing."

In the morning baccalaureate sermon, the Rev. Rodney G. Hamm of Burlington, NC, urged members of the winter class to look beyond life's pacifiers or "golden calves"—material goods—to a life based on God's commandments.

His sermon was based on Deuteronomy 30: 15-20, in which Moses tells the people of Israel that choosing God means choosing an abundant and everlasting life. "We are called to live like the godhead—Father, Son and Holy Ghost—in perfect harmony," he said.

Citing modern examples of misplaced values and bigotry, as well as recent professions of religious faith by political and entertainment figures, Hamm urged Methodist's latest degree candidates to choose God and a life of faith and to seek an answer to the question, "How can we get along?"

In other commencement activities:

—College President Elton Hendricks awarded an honorary Doctor of Divinity degree to the Rev. Rodney Hamm for 25 years of exemplary service as a minister in the North Carolina Conference of the United Methodist Church.

—Jose Hodgson presented the flag of his native Nicaragua to the College.

—Tracy Kassell received the Sam Edwards Award, denoting her selection as the outstanding Evening College graduate in the Class of '99.

—Akinfemiwa Akintewe, an Army ROTC cadet, took the Oath of Allegiance and was commissioned a second lieutenant.
