A NEW BEGINNING

—Dr. M. Elton Hendricks—
Third Methodist College President

The primary focus of my leadership at Methodist College will be on the educational possibility for which we were created rather than the problems we are challenged to solve.

A New Beginning

Dr. M. Elton Hendricks has been unanimously approved by the Methodist College Board of Trustees to serve as the college's third president.

Hendricks, 47, was academic dean at Randolph-Macon College in Ashland, VA at the time of his appointment and continued in that capacity until September 15 when he assumed the Methodist College presidency.

A native of Savannah, GA, Hendricks was educated in his early years in Ridgefield, SC with a population of about 1140. After receiving a Phi Beta Kappa degree in history from Wofford College (SC) in 1957, he graduated magna cum laude in 1964 with a master's of divinity degree from Duke University. Dr. Hendricks received his PH.D. in physics from the University of South Carolina in 1971 and attended the Harvard University Institute for Educational Management in 1978.

"Methodist College has a mission of intellectual and ethical education," says Hendricks of the 27-year old college.

"The primary focus of my leadership at Methodist College will be on the educational possibility for which we were created rather than the problems we are challenged to solve."

An ordained elder in the United Methodist Church, Hendricks also served four years as a naval flight officer in the U.S. Navy.

He and his wife Jerry Ann have three children: Joyce Lynn 22; Leslie Patricia, 17; and George Elton, 11. Ms. Hendricks teaches high school social studies.

Dr. Hendricks succeeded Dr. Richard

W. Pearce as president. Dr. Pearce, who announced his retirement in April, completed his tenure at Methodist College on August 31.

Prior to his position at Randolph-Macon, Dr. Hendricks was Director of Admissions at Wofford College. He also taught at Eisenhower College in Seneca Falls, NY.

In announcing Dr. Hendricks' appointment, Ike O'Hanlon, chairman of the Methodist College Board of Trustees, described the new president-elect as "just the man we were looking for."

Statement of Acceptance

'I Believe Deeply In The Mission Of Methodist College' — Dr. Hendricks

A quarter of a century ago the inspiring vision of a certain type of education called for the creation of a special college. The liberal support of United Methodist people, along with the generous assistance of the citizens of Fayetteville/Cumberland County gave life to this vision through the establishment of Methodist College.

From the beginning, here was an institution committed to an open-minded search for the truth, eager to be a place where students learn to appreciate and support the needs and rights of others, where faculty teach by the example of excellence, demanding it of themselves as well as requiring it of their students.

As a product of a similar educational environment—liberal arts, church-related, community supported—I believe deeply in the mission of Methodist College. The intellectual and ethical education possible in the humane and caring community that such a College provides is and always will be required in our society. To be a part of this vision and to serve its fulfillment is both a challenge and a joy. To be asked to share this task with the Trustees, the Faculty and Administrators who have committed their lives to this vision is an honor.

Those who note that these are difficult times in education repeat the obvious. But the need for a community committed to ethical and intellectual excellence has not diminished albeit the problems of its achievement have increased. The primary focus of my leadership at Methodist College will be on the educational possibility for which we were created rather than the problems we are challenged to solve. We must, and we will, fashion creative solutions to these problems because our society needs the service—the quality of education—which Methodist College was created to offer.

Calvin Little Estate Names Methodist Largest Beneficiary

Methodist College has received over a quarter of a million dollars from the estate of Calvin Little in ceremonies held Thursday, September 8 at the United Methodist Building in Raleigh.

Little, a native of Mt. Gilead in Montgomery County, made two major bequests to Methodist College. The first bequest of $100,000 will establish a scholarship to be awarded to "a worthy person or persons of North Carolina" attending Methodist College. The scholarship will be known as the John P. Little, Julian H. Little, Albert J. Little and Calvin M. Little Scholarship.

The second bequest was $163,775.94 in unrestricted giving to Methodist College.

The Calvin Little estate totals in excess of $5.5 million dollars. Although Methodist College receives the largest gift for the estate, over 24 charitable organizations were also recipients of bequests.

The second distribution of funds from the Calvin Little Estate will be made in 1984. The amount Methodist College will receive at that time is still undetermined.

"The revenue is wonderful," said vice-president Bill Lowdermilk, "but even more exciting is the faith Calvin Little had in Methodist College."

Lowdermilk went on to say that the money was "exciting and greatly appreciated."

MCAA Top Award

Lynn Gruber '72 Named Outstanding MC Alum

Lynn Gruber '72 of Absecon (NJ) accepted the prestigious Outstanding Alumnus Award for 1983 to a standing ovation during the Annual Alumni Banquet at Homecoming.

MCAA President Howard Lupton gave the following commendation to Lynn:

All Methodist College alumni are special because we chose to experience our college days here. All Methodist College alumni here tonight are outstanding because to a greater or lesser extent, we sacrificed some time and money and effort to be present. Yet, there is one Methodist College alum who stands head and shoulders above the rest of us. She has set a new standard for commitment and caring that will challenge Methodist College alumni for a number of years to come.

A member of the class of 1972, this alum single-handedly conceived and organized the highly successful 1983 Chorus Reunion. As a result of her efforts, 40 chorus members of years past returned to campus in March for a weekend highlighted by a concert on Sunday afternoon.

She has been an active member of the recruitment committee despite her job as one of the managers of a prestigious country club in New Jersey. She has redoubled her efforts to overcome the problems that distance creates.

She saw a need on the Methodist College campus when she returned for the Chorus Reunion in the spring. Rather than complain about the problem of sparse landscaping, she sought a solution. Generously, she has begun a landscaping fund for flowering shrubs to be planted on campus.

Her greatest contribution has been in her dedication to the full Methodist College community both past and present. When she learned of the Homecoming 1983 theme "New York, New York," she energized her contacts in the New York City area. The results of those contacts were a barrage of posters, brochures, menus, books and literature from the Big Apple that she had sent for the Homecoming Committee. From the New York Yankees to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, from the Waldorf-Astoria to the New York City Ballet...material arrived daily. The decorations you will see later tonight in the Union are largely the result of her initiative. The current student body now looks to her involvement as the personification of alumni commitment to the college.

It is with great personal pleasure and sincere appreciation for showing all of us a new dimension in caring, that I present Lynn Gruber with the Outstanding Alumni Award for 1983.

Alumni Headline Staff Positions On Campus

The president's office is not the only office on the Methodist College campus sporting a change in nameplate. Charlotte Coheley, 1983 graduate of Methodist College, has assumed the Director of Admissions position vacated by Tommy Dent. Joining Ms. Coheley in admissions is Phil McAllister, former Methodist College student and graduate of Glassboro State University, and Andrea Holtsclaw, 1983 graduate of Methodist College, who will serve as admissions counselors.

Dr. Robert Perkins has assumed the Dean of Students position at Methodist. Perkins is a former faculty member in the Methodist College history department.

Pat Clayton is the new Director of Alumni Affairs. Clayton is a 1968 graduate of Methodist College and a former teacher at Fayetteville Academy.

Faculty members joining the Methodist staff are Ms. Peggy Singletary in art, Dan Lawrence in physical education, Dr. Narendra Singh in chemistry and Captain Roland Baltimore in ROTC.

Singletary received her BA from Pfeiffer, a BFA from Winthrop and a Master of Fine Arts at East Carolina.

Lawrence is a 1981 graduate of Methodist College who received a Masters of Education at Campbell University.

Singh is a graduate of the University of Gorakhpur and Banaras Hindu University. Baltimore received his BA in Environmental Studies from the University of Detroit and his MS in architecture from the same institution.

Administrative restructuring has resulted in three new appointments at Methodist College, according to Dr. Fred Clark, Academic Dean.

Dr. Ted Jaeger has assumed the position of Assistant Dean of Academic Affairs. Jaeger has been at Methodist since 1977 as a professor of psychology.

Charles Lipe will serve as Registrar of the college after five years as Director of the Fort Bragg campus of Methodist College.

Dr. Lorace Thomas will serve both the main campus and the Fort Bragg campus as Director of Continuing Education at Methodist College.

Cliff Wells, 1982 graduate of Methodist College, has returned to Reeves Auditorium as Manager. Wells served as work-study assistant in Reeves while a student.

Hensdale Chapel

Although Hensdale Chapel on the Methodist College campus has become an increasingly popular site for weddings, a special wedding was held there on Saturday, July 21 as Ramona Anne Hensdale was married to Ronald Henderson Hudgens. Anne, a 1981 graduate of Methodist, is the granddaughter of Dr. John Hensdale, trustee emeritus of Methodist College, for whom Hensdale Chapel was named. (File photo)

Former Monarchs Playing Abroad

David Smith, Clarence Wiggins and Rick Walrond are not quite "Innocents Abroad", but they do classify as "Monarchs Abroad."

All three former basketball players at Methodist College are currently playing professional basketball in the European Professional League -- Smith and Wiggins for the Derby, England team, while Walrond is a player/coach for the Koping, Sweden team.

Walrond '75 is in his third season with the Swedish team and indicates that his Koping team has "an excellent shot at the National Championship." Since his graduation from Methodist, Rick has coached at West Brunswick High School and Coastal Carolina Community College. But his love for the game just wouldn't be killed.

"I'll play as long as someone wants me," says Walrond. "Basketball is growing so much in popularity over here in Europe -- I plan to capitalize on that popularity."

Rick's address in Barnhemsgatan 5, S-73100 Koping, Sweden.

David Smith '82 and Clarence Wiggins '79 played together on the 1978 and 1979 teams, forming a strong scoring duo for the Monarchs. They are back together again, playing on the Derby, England team.

"We are finally settling into our house in Derby," says Smith. He and Wiggins arrived in England in August of this year.

Both are employed by the city of Derby when they aren't practicing or playing.

"Clarence is conducting clinics for the underprivileged and unemployed members of the ethnic communities," says Smith, who is giving demonstrations and lectures on basketball to secondary schools and colleges in the region.

Smith, a 5'8" guard, has come on surprisingly well as the team's leading scorer with 18 points against the Birmingham team which sports Americans Russ Saunders of the University of New Mexico and Nick Owens, a 6'9" strongman. Wiggins scored 16 points in a close loss by 7 to West Bromich; Smith again led both teams with 22 points. Wiggins scored 14 and had "an outstanding defensive game guarding 6'7" Dale Shackleford of the University of Syracuse."

Both Smith and Wiggins will return to the states after the season to their respective careers. A physical education major, Smith completed his Master's degree in August at the University of North Carolina - Chapel Hill. Wiggins is a social work major.

Alums can write to David and Clarence at 69 Nax Road, Chaddesden, Derby, DE24GY, England.

MCAA President Energized

by Mark S. Powell

He handles garbage. As general manager of KABCO, Incorporated, Howard Lupton manages waste products.

Besides his duties in KABCO, Lupton is the president of the Methodist College Alumni Association.

Lupton was elected to his position as president of the Alumni Association in April 1983. He sees the organization as a vital part of Methodist College; that is her enormous potential.

"The purpose of the Methodist College Alumni Association is to keep the students who have attended Methodist College in touch with the school and their classmates, to improve the quality and atmosphere of the college and to give back part of what Methodist College has given," says Lupton.

Lupton is enthused about being a part of Methodist College and the Alumni Association. He feels that there are several areas in which the Association can be improved.

Lupton feels that the MCAA falls short in offering alumni something.

"We haven't offered our membership anything," says Lupton.

Lupton wants the Association to be able to offer tangible proof that they are a viable organization to alumni.

"This year we must seek out those persons within our association that are willing to give time to build for future years," says Lupton.

Lupton wants alumni to realize the potential that their organization has.

Through maintaining a close contact with the school, Lupton is aware of the changes in the school and its environs. Lupton, who is now studying for a Master's degree, sees the virtues of a small college.

Small colleges such as Methodist give individual contact with other students and professors -- a distinct difference from large universities.

Lupton also believes liberal arts is on the rise and specialization will continue to diminish. The liberal arts major will be ahead.

Another virtue Methodist college has according to Lupton is the amount of involvement that the schools allows. Students can be involved in student government as well as athletics.

"It gives students a chance to excel" says Lupton.

Lupton also sees areas where the college needs improvement and expansion.

"I think we have to look at graduate programs," says Lupton.

Lupton feels that post graduate courses of study should be offered in the Education Department and in Business Administration.

Computers represent a technological advance which should be more involved with all aspects of Methodist college curriculum.

"Computers are very much a part of everyday business and education," says Lupton. The addition of computers at Methodist and graduate programs will get the third, and most important, item.

"Get students," says Lupton. He feels that students are crucial to everything.

Looking back after almost ten years away from Methodist, Lupton sees the good points of the college with greater clarity than as a student.

Lupton thinks the family at Methodist is great. He applauds their dedication in teaching and to Methodist College, says Lupton.

Lupton remembers several of his professors fondly. Dr. Gautam, Mr. Bruce Pulliam and Gene Clayton. He feels that these people are at Methodist College simply because they are dedicated to the school.

Bill Lowdermilk, Methodist College's vice-president, influenced Lupton more than any other individual or organization at Methodist College.

"His total dedication and professionalism, his ability to analyze any situation cause me to admire Bill Lowdermilk," says Lupton.

Lupton wants to double the number of contributors to the Methodist College Alumni fund. But he stresses that this does not mean a doubling of the amount of the Alumni fund. He just wants increased participation from Alumni.

"We must remind Alumni of their school; we must have personal involvement," says Lupton.

Howard Lupton considers Methodist College as home.

"Each time I go back I have a feeling of going home," says Lupton.

Did We Make A Mistake?

- DID WE MISS YOUR NAME? HERE'S WHY...
- WE MADE A MISTAKE! We're sorry if this has happened. In processing, some errors do occur.
 - YOU DIDN'T MAKE YOUR GIFT DURING THE 1982-83 FISCAL YEAR! This is sometimes confusing. Our year runs from July 1 to June 30. Check to see if you made your gift during that period.
 - ARE YOU SURE YOU GAVE? With the many appeals from worthy causes that we all receive, it is easy to miss one.
- Send all inquiries to the office of Alumni Affairs, Methodist College, Fayetteville, NC 28301, or phone (919) 488-7110, ext. 238.

Percentage of Alumni Giving

Ambitious Goals Set By Alumni

by Pat Clayton, Alumni Director

The 1983-84 fiscal year goal for the MCAA is an ambitious and record-breaking $38,000.00. That amount is a one hundred and fifty percent increase over last year's giving. At first glance, this may seem an impossible goal, but we are confident it can be reached. The key to its success lies in the number of alumni who support Methodist College.

As the charts on these pages show, the percentage of alumni giving has dropped dramatically -- almost 60% -- in the last five years. How, then, can this ambitious goal be met? The obvious answer is to increase the number of alumni who give. We are confident that you, the alumni, can raise your percentage of giving not only to where it was five years ago, but even higher. It is our hope that all of you who contributed in the past will realize how important your contributions were -- regardless of their size -- to the total life of Methodist College.

Many of you have consistently increased the amount of your giving, and we encourage more alumni to join you. "Painless" ways of doing this are through smaller, monthly gifts and through the "Matching Gifts Companies" program. Millions of dollars are given to colleges all over the country each year through the almost 1,000 corporations who now match employees' and spouses' gifts. Check with your company to see if they are a matching gift company, or let us know where you work, and we'll check for you.

Your alumni association will be contacting you this year. We hope you will respond. Alumni support is vital to the life of any college -- and to Methodist College, it says that you care.

Methodist College Foundation Headed By Dennis Jackson

Local veterinarian Dennis L. Jackson was installed as president of the Methodist College Foundation for 1983-84 during the October luncheon meeting for Foundation directors.

Serving with Dr. Jackson are Charles Michael Uzzell, senior vice-president of United Carolina Bank, as first vice-president; Russell C. Crowell, chartered life underwriter, as second vice-president; Billie Alphin, civic volunteer, as secretary; Milton "Jack" Smith, president of Guaranty Savings and Loan, as treasurer; and I.B. Julian, consultant for First Citizen Bank and Trust Company, as 1984 campaign chairman.

Ten new directors of the Methodist College Foundation were also installed for three-year terms. They are Robert G. Byrd, Murray O. Duggins '66, Gary Eissing, John F. Holmes, Larry Ingram, Mitchell A. Nance, Marie Stewart, Anthony Stickland, Norman Suttles, and Jack Watson.

The Methodist College Foundation coordinates the Fayetteville/Cumberland County fund-raising for Methodist College.

Greatest Need PE Complex

At their fall meeting the MCAA Board of Directors unanimously agreed that the greatest need on the MC campus, in addition to the raising of scholarship funds, is the building of a physical education complex. Any student, past or present, who has ever changed clothes in the locker rooms of the current Methodist "gym" could attest to this fact.

The MCAA Board of Directors therefore sets before the Alumni Association the following challenge: Let us lead the way! Designate your gift for one of these great areas of need.

Matching Corporations Will Double Your Dollars

Over 900 companies throughout the United States currently offer a matching gift program for their employees. The Corporate Matching Gift Program is vital to private colleges today. We would like to take this opportunity to thank the companies who match their employees' gifts during the 1982-83 fiscal year. Won't you see if your employer is a "matching gift" company and double your gift.

MCAA Awards MVP Homecoming

Denny Laird, senior from Crisfield (MD), received the 1983 Most Valuable Player -- Homecoming trophy for his performance in the Homecoming game against Christopher-Newport. Methodist lost the game, 2-1. Judges were former MVPs Karl Molnar, Greg Black and Billy Thomas. (Photo by Ayers)

Denny Laird, senior forward on the Methodist College soccer team, was named Most Valuable Player for the 1983 Homecoming game against DIAC rival Christopher-Newport.

The MCAA established the Homecoming MVP award in 1975 and it has been presented annually since that time.

Judging for the 1983 award were former Most Valuable Players who were honored at pre-game activities: Karl Molnar '75, Greg Black '78 and Billy Thomas '81. Assisting were David Radford '76, Larry Buffaloe '77 and Bill Estes '69.

Laird, a three-time All-Conference player from Crisfield, MD, controlled the offensive thrust for the Monarchs all season. He was disappointed in the 3-2 loss to Christopher-Newport, but gratefully accepted the MVP trophy from Billy Thomas during intermission of the Homecoming Dance.

"We play as a team," said Laird. "This trophy belongs to all of us."

Laird completed the 1983-84 season with a total of 26 points to be the sixth leading scorer for the Dixie Conference.

Alumni Battle Students To 5-5 Deadlock

A strong Methodist Alumni team battled the current Intramural soccer champions to a 5-5 tie during the third annual Alumni Bowl on Homecoming weekend.

Karl Molnar '75 coached the alumni team, who at one point led the game 5-2. Playing for the Monarchs were David Waddell, Dennis Vass, Greg Black, Charles Hill, Bucky Douthit, David Radford, Bill Estes, Chuck Sullivan, Billy Thomas, Tony Cothran, Larry Buffaloe, Shahin Tahmassibi, Ron Curt, Joe Peirera, and Paul Eaglin.

Molnar called the game "a super time -- a lot of fun."

"I won't even mention the fact that the score was 5-2 for the alumni when I came out of the goal and the All-Conference goalie Billy Thomas went back in the goal!" he added with a smile.

The intramural champions, the Tastebuds, were captained by senior Fred White of Orlando, FL and returning Tastebud captain Norman Paytes '83 of Fredericksburg, VA.

Although members of the Tastebuds seemed far more at home on the baseball diamond than the soccer field, the guys put on an exhibition of "never-say-die" attitude.

Goalie Ronnie Proctor and captain Fred White were assisted by students Kevin Sidwell, John Scoutak, Dennis Forbes, Ray Matheu, Normas Paytes, Cal Violette, Steve Rangel, Rich McNeill, Ronnie McNeill, Cliff Richards, Rennie Stack, John Carley, Greg Pickett, Roger May and Doug Garner.

Alums and students alike are making plans for a return match at Alumni Bowl IV in 1984.

Monarch Schedule

'Challenging' With Div. I

The 1983-84 season for Methodist College could show more improvement. Although the final record in 1982-83 was only 7-18, the 7-7 conference final record and a fourth place tie with Greensboro showed a marked improvement over 1981-82. With the returning players and a little consistency, this year could be a good one.

Perhaps the toughest out-of-conference schedule ever played by a Methodist College team will be the only reason that the Monarchs might not improve on their record. Four Division I schools make for a tough enough schedule. The four schools are the University of Jacksonville, Western Carolina, UNC-Wilmington, and Campbell University. Also on the conference schedule are Division II powers Lynchburg, Liberty Baptist, and Radford. NAIA schools scheduled include powerful Catawba, Pembroke, Atlantic Christian and Coker College.

The conference again should be exceptionally strong. N.C. Wesleyan returns all but one starter and should be the preseason favorite. Conference champ St. Andrews should again be strong and, with improvement from Greensboro, Christopher Newport, and Averett, it should be a tough race from top to bottom in the Dixie Conference.

The chance for improvement at Methodist rests on two all-conference players from last year's team. Donald Stewart, a junior from Polkton, NC averaged 20 points a game with 8-5 rebounds and led the team field goal percentage at 51.9. The all-conference performer should get help from senior James Green from Vanceboro, N.C. The 6'3" guard averaged 17 points a game and shot 85 percent from the foul line on his way to a second team all conference spot. Other players expected to help this year are Durham native Dennis Roberts, Keith Turiff of Fayetteville, Eric Harris of Newport News, Va. and Leonard Goffigan of Virginia Beach.

Several new players could make their presence felt for this year's Monarchs. Among those are Brian Chappell, Northern High School; Terrence Flood, E.E. Smith High School; Scotty Garner, a 6'3" guard from Cape Fear Academy; Jeff Gore, from Foad High School; Craig Hopes of Warner Christian Academy in Daytona Beach, FL; and Donald Russell from Bunn High School.

With a nucleus of experience returning and a good group of young players, it could be a pivotal year for the Methodist College cagers. With more consistency and fewer mistakes, the Monarchs could move up in the conference standings and win a few of the close games they lost in 1982-83.

from Pat

Dear Alumni,

My sincere thanks to all of you who returned to Methodist College for Homecoming and to all those who worked so hard to make it a success. It was a wonderful weekend!

I want to call your attention to the information on pages and ask for your careful study of these facts and figures. They will speak for themselves, and I think you will be surprised. We need to turn this situation around -- and I know we can.

This year is a "new beginning" for Methodist College. Our new president cares deeply about alumni and recognizes our importance within the total Methodist College community. We need to respond positively to this recognition. When Dr. Hendricks solicits funds from foundations and other resources, (vital for the growth and strengthening of college programs) the first question he is asked, "How do your alumni support you?"

Today is a particularly challenging time for colleges such as ours. The small, private, church-related college continues to grow in importance by providing the place for leadership training, academic excellence and the development of traditional American values. Fund raising is essential for colleges such as these.

We are extremely grateful to alumni who have continued their support of the College over the years. While the number of contributors has decreased by more than 50% in the last five years, the amount of money raised has remained essentially the same. They have been generous indeed! We need to increase the percentage or number of alumni who support the College to at least 30%, comparable to alumni associations of the better institutions in our area and nation. This may seem an impossible dream, but I know we can do it.

I'm excited about the future of Methodist College. We have an outstanding leadership team to guide the College over the next decade and a very capable, dedicated faculty. Won't you join us in making this year a "new beginning" for the Methodist College Alumni Association?

Pat Clayton
Alumni Director

from Howard

Dear Alums,

What a real pleasure to be at MC for Homecoming 1983! A chance to visit old friends, make new ones and enjoy the College Atmosphere. It is truly amazing the memories that come back as you look out over the campus and think that just a few short years ago we were there. And yet, a part of us is still there today!

Homecoming Saturday was a full and exciting day for the Alumni Association. We began at eight o'clock in the cafeteria with an inspiring meeting of the Finance Committee. Betty Neill Parsons and her committee members need each of us to look forward and beyond where we have been. Betty Neill's report to the Board of Directors at our ten o'clock meeting was received with enthusiasm and dedication. These folks are working hard for our Association and we need to support our Loyalty Fund drive for this year.

Our goal for this year for our Loyalty Fund is $38,000.00 and we intend to reach it. Some new and exciting approaches to fund raising have been discussed by the Finance Committee and your Board of Directors. Some of the ideas being considered and implemented include phonathons, class agents and yes, the re-organization of area chapters. Meetings have already been planned for the Richmond and Norfolk, Virginia areas. Others will be arranged in the near future.

We were most fortunate to have Dr. Hendricks give our keynote address at the Alumni Banquet on Saturday night. He certainly brings an exciting new dimension to his office and to Methodist College. He fielded questions for the audience on a wide variety of subjects and responded with an optimism that kept each of us focused on the issues. It was an exciting Banquet for all of us. It was my honor to present the Outstanding Alumni Award for 1983 to Lynn Gruber (72). Her outstanding work for the Alumni Association and the Chorus have produced the kind of results we need. I am sure that all of us thank Lynn for her efforts.

Another great item of news is Pat Clayton. She is now our full-time Alumni Director. What we have needed for so long is now a reality. Pat worked many tiring hours for Homecoming and the results were seen by everyone-good scheduling, excellent arrangements and an atmosphere of positive thinking. We are happy to have Pat leading us in our Alumni adventures.

Before I close out my space for this newsletter, let me challenge each of you to become involved. The MCAA needs you, needs your support and most of all needs your involvement. I believe there are many of us who have forgotten our memories, our friends and the growth we experienced at Methodist College. Take a few minutes and think about it--don't you want to be a part of this new era in the MCAA--don't you want to help us build a sports complex--don't you want to be involved? I think you do, but the first step seems difficult. Well, let me tell you that all of us will help you make that step--so step forward and BE A PART OF SOMETHING GOOD.

Howard Lupton
MCAA President

from Mason

Dear Alumni,

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you, the alumni, for helping me in recruiting student-athletes. This past year was the most productive year ever for the soccer and tennis programs in regards to recruitment. I am sure your phone calls to these young people were very instrumental in getting them to attend Methodist College. With your help, I look for an even more productive year in 1983-84.

Thanks again.

Dear Friends,

For someone who doesn't like change, I certainly seem to be in the middle of a bunch of it. This change is an exciting one, however--the combining of the General Bulletin and the Alumni News into a new publication Methodist College Update. The purpose is obvious: to provide you with the most comprehensive update of the Methodist College campus happenings. What you have in front of you is the result of combined creative efforts from Pat and I. What we need now is your feedback--What have we left out? What do you like? What do you find unnecessary? What do you want to know that we aren't telling you? Flexibility is the buzz word here. We want to give you what you need and what you want. Let us hear from you.

Homecoming '83 was terrific--weather was 80° and sunny; friends were everywhere; atmosphere was warm and spontaneous. For me, Homecoming is the "best of times and worst of times," as Dickens would say. Having so many people back on campus is terrific and yet having so little time to spend with you is frustrating. At the risk of forgetting someone, I must tell you that seeing Donna Davis Sandusky after four years was fun. She hasn't changed at all, I swear it! I know, I know . . . people always say that, but in Donna's case, it's true! We sat on the sidelines of the soccer field talking during the alumni game, and the years melted away. Conversation was lively and confidences were shared. Both of us have grown professionally and emotionally -- we found that growth only deepened a mutual affection.

At one point during the soccer game, I thought it was SGA election time again -- through the throngs of people, I saw Milo McBryde and Steve Hopkins shaking hands with alumni. Speaking of not changing, those two are just as witty and just as sharp as ever -- and did I mention prosperous? I tried to capture their imaginations with a vivid description of a brand new gym bearing the name "The Hopkins-McBryde Physical Education Complex." No luck. If you missed Homecoming '83, catch up on the news by checking the photos on pages 8-9.

Jeff Deitz missed Homecoming by three weeks, but it was super to see him anyway. It was the "last fling" for the Palmyra (NJ) resident who gets married in the spring.

There is significance in the fact that this letter is shorter than my usual manuscripts. I don't have time to slow down for a long letter; Dr. Hendricks has energized the campus! All of us have caught his enthusiasm and are in the midst of a dozen different projects. Know that my thoughts are with all of you, wherever you may be. I wish for you a holiday season that has more sentiment and less stress, more quiet and less quandy, more peace and less pressure. God bless you.
