Elmo Zumwalt Heads List Of New Methodist Trustees

Admiral Elmo Russell Zumwalt, Jr., former Chief of Naval Operations, is one of six new members elected to the Methodist College Board of Trustees and approved during the 1984 session of the Annual Conference of United Methodists in North Carolina.

A graduate of the United States Naval Academy, Zumwalt now serves as Public Governor of the American Stock Exchange and as president/chief executive officer of American Medical Buildings, Inc. He co-authors the syndicated "Zumwalt-Bagley Report" and published ON WATCH in 1974, a factual recounting of his Navy career. A native of California, Zumwalt now lives in Arlington (VA).

Albert W. Dunn, president/chief executive officer of Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, will join Zumwalt on the Methodist College Board of Trustees. A Durham (NC) native, Dunn is a graduate of Duke University and has served in numerous capacities with the Goodyear Corporation since 1946. Currently, he resides in Cumberland (MD) and sits on the Board of Trustees of Maryland State Universities and Colleges.

Frank Barragan, Jr., president of North Carolina Natural Gas Corporation, was also named a Methodist College Trustee. A graduate of Armstrong College and Johnson School of Law, Barragan had previously served as vice-president of Savannah Gas Company. He lives in Fayetteville and is a native of Savannah (GA).

Bobby Allen returns to the Methodist Board which he served from 1975-1981. He is associated with D.R. Allen & Son, Inc., Concrete Service Company, and Fay Block Company. The VPI graduate has received numerous honors including the Distinguished Service Award of the Fayetteville Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Realtors Cup for outstanding community service.

Another newcomer to the Methodist Board of Trustees is Ms. Terri Union, vice-president of Union Corregating Company. Ms. Union is a graduate of Ohio State University and currently serves as a trustee of the Cumberland County Public Library. She is a native of Washington, DC and resides now in Fayetteville.

The sixth addition to the Board is the Reverend Sid Huggins, minister of Hay Street United Methodist Church in Fayetteville. Huggins, a native of Rockingham, is a member in full connection with the North Carolina Conference of the United Methodist Church and has previously served parishes in Fayetteville, Clinton, and Raleigh. He also served two years as Conference Evangelist.

A graduate of UNC-Chapel Hill and Duke University School of Divinity, Huggins resides in Fayetteville.

Little Estate Results In $118,000 For MC

Methodist College will receive $118,000 as its share of more than $700,000 from the second distribution of the estate of Calvin M. Little of Mt. Gilead.

Other institutions also receiving $118,000 are N.C. Wesleyan and Louisburg colleges and the Methodist Home for Children in Raleigh. The recipients shared in an earlier distribution of estate funds in 1983.

Methodist College president M. Elton Hendricks said the money will be used as an endowment in the college's cash operating reserve.

Methodist College Hosts Fullbright Visiting Professor

By Dr. Sue Kimball

For Senora Maria Luisa de Pittaluga, August 17 is a significant day. She first came to the United States as a Fullbright scholar from her native Uruguay on August 17, 1967, and went home on August 17, 1969, after her fellowship was renewed for one year. As Methodist College's first visiting professor, she has been teaching on the campus this summer and will return to Venezuela, where she now lives, on, of course, August 17.

If Professor Elaine Porter's dreams come true, the engaging senora will return to our campus in 1985, and August 17 seems to be a good target date. The College is applying for Fullbright for Sra. Pittaluga for the academic year 1985-86, so that she will spend a year teaching, doing research, conducting faculty seminars, and visiting nearby campuses.

Father Virgil Miller of Fayetteville first discovered Sra. Pittaluga's talents when he was visiting Spanish instructors as part of his duties with the State Department of Education. Then the Superintendent of the Foreign Language Institute, he literally "dropped in" on the senora's first-year class. At the end of the period, he congratulated the students on three things: "learning the language God uses when he speaks to the angels, having a good instructor, and being accomplished third year students." Astonished to find that he had been listening to beginners, Dr. Miller realized that he was in the presence of a master teacher, and his continued admiration for Sra. Pittaluga's ability resulted in his arranging her trip to Fayetteville this summer.

As he told the vivacious Sra. Pittaluga then, "You can't leave. We need you to teach in our colleges." His sentiments are echoed by the Methodist College students Sra. Pittaluga has taught this summer--although "led" seems a better word.

I visited a class that met every week night--including Fridays--from 6:30 to 9:30; apparently they don't take breaks South of the Border, because instructor and students chatted at high speed for two hours after doing an hour and a half of verb exercises on the blackboard. I could hear the interchange as I entered the building, their enthusiasm evident.

Sra. Pittaluga describes the conversational course--in which no English is allowed--as something "new under the stars, a 'trip' from Columbus to today."

While most Spanish courses emphasize Iberian Spain, this one deals with Central and South American history, culture, and politics. The only textbooks are Geographic-style magazines that Sra. Pittaluga brought with her from Venezuela. "I paid one hundred dollars extra because they were so heavy," she laughs.

In addition to fifteen hours weekly of rapidspeaking Spanish conversation, the students enjoy such Saturday and Sunday extras as a trip to Newton Grove to visit Spanish-speaking migrant workers; a visit to the Veteran's Administration Hospital to hear Dr. Juan Franco talk about the accomplishments of Spanish medical doctors; a visit to Father Miller's home, where he talked about the White God of the Aztecs, served them authentic South American food, and conducted a mass in Spanish; a lecture and a piano recital by a lady from Cuba; and on the night before the final examination a party at student Jim Costello's home featuring Spanish foods and beverages.

Costello, who has been in the service and who already has a degree, is attending Methodist College to become certified to teach both French and Spanish.

Sitting beside Costello was Rosanne Elson, who has studied at the Defense Language Institute in Monterrey, and who plans to graduate with a Business major and a Spanish minor that will equip her to work in international business.

The third native English speaker in the class was Marilyn Ellerby, a student at UNC Chapel Hill; she will spend next year in Spain and has found this class a good preparation for the trip.

Gustavo Perez of Panama is a Methodist College senior majoring in Political Science. Three members of the class hail from Puerto Rico: Orlando Martinez, who contributed a great deal to the lively discussion, is attending Methodist College on a military option, majoring in Business, minoring in Spanish, and hoping that his diligence as a student will influence his superior officers to renew his option.

Anna Maria Morino is a military dependent who plans to study English at Methodist College, and Carlos Tores is himself in the military.

Two other students, Manuel Costillo and Carlos Puello, graduates of colleges in the Dominican Republic, are now serving in the Army at Fort Bragg.

No one glanced at the clock as Sra. Pittaluga queried them on such varied subjects as money, sugar, Simon Bolivar, the Incas, the Andes, and the "perimetro cefalica," literally the circumference of the head. She talked with her hands, killed an insect without a hiatus, and obviously charmed her students, who actually seemed to regret saying "Buenos Noches."

Dr. Fred Clark Succumbs To Cancer

Dr. Fred Clark, academic dean of Methodist College, died on May 25, 1984 after a lengthy illness. He was 51.

A memorial service was held at Snyder Memorial Baptist Church, the Rev. Dr. James Cammack officiating.

Dr. Clark was named academic dean at Methodist College in April 1979. He had been named a special assistant to the president of the college, to become effective July 1.

Previously, Dr. Clark had taught biology at the University of Miami and at Stetson University. He was a army veteran and a National Institutes of Health Fellow.

Surviving are his wife, JoAnn Davis Clark; three daughters, Karen Clark of Brussels, Belgium, and Patricia and Alison Clark, both of the home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Clark of Montgomery, Ala.; and three brothers, Richard Paris Clark Jr. of Atlanta, Ga., Jean A. Clark of Memphis, Tenn., and Norvelle G. Clark of Montgomery, Ala.

In Loving Memory

New Staff And Faculty Begin 1984 Year

Changes have marked the Methodist College campus during the first year of presidency for Dr. M. Elton Hendricks and evidence of more change will be found as the 1984-85 academic year gets underway.

In addition to the appointment of Dr. Mary Lynn Sadler as Academic Dean, a number of administrative additions and changes have taken place.

Dr. Kenneth Collins assumed the position of Campus Minister on July 1 and will be teaching two classes during the fall semester in addition to counseling duties and chapel duties. Dr. Collins will also coordinate some of the church relations activities between Methodist College and the North Carolina Conference of the United Methodist Church. Dr. Collins is a native of Brooklyn, NY. He is a graduate of S.U.N.Y. at Buffalo, Asbury Seminary, Princeton Seminary and received his Doctor of Philosophy degree from Drew University.

Ms. Catherine Shuford, who has taught as an adjunct instructor of religion, has assumed fulltime duties in the classroom. The teaching responsibilities of Dr. Collins and Ms. Shuford will fill the vacancy left by the retirement of Dr. Samuel J. Womack.

Dr. Janet Cavano, professor of English, has taken a one-year's leave of absence and her replacement is Ms. Nancy Bosher. Ms. Bosher is a former member of the Methodist College English department having taught from 1967-1977.

Dr. Dwight House will return to the Methodist College campus after a two-year absence to serve as chairperson of the Math and Computer Science Department and to teach the computer science courses. Dr. House is a graduate of Carleton College in Kentucky and Duke University.

Also in the Math Department, Ms. Patricia Jones will become a fulltime instructor in math, filling a vacancy left by the retirement of Mr. Robert Ambrose.

Ms. Martha Waring has joined the faculty as a fulltime instructor in Spanish and in English as a Second Language.

In the Physical Education Department, two instructors have assumed teaching duties and coaching duties. Joe Pereira will coach women's soccer and women's tennis while Ms. Darcie Wilson will coach women's golf and women's basketball. Both coaches will teach in the physical education curriculum.

Ms. Tinnie Lambert is the new Assistant to the Director of Publications. A graduate of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, Ms. Lambert will also serve as dance coach for the newly-formed Methodist College Jazz Team.

Mr. Paul Eaglin is the Director of Special Services for the Title IV Grant program instituted on campus for the 1984-1985 year. Eaglin, a lawyer from Fayetteville, will be assisted by counselor Jan Anderson and secretary Sue O'Toole.

Sid Huggins Addresses Graduates

Methodist College will hold Summer Graduation Exercises for 32 seniors on Friday, August 24 at 2 o'clock in Reeves Auditorium on the Methodist College campus.

The Reverend Sid Huggins, minister at Hay Street United Methodist Church in Fayetteville, will deliver the Graduation Address to the August graduates. Huggins is a newly-elected Methodist College trustee and a native of Rockingham (NC). A member in full connection of the North Carolina Conference of the United Methodist Church, Huggins has previously served parishes in Fayetteville, Clinton and Raleigh in addition to serving two years as Conference Evangelist. He is a graduate of UNC-Chapel Hill and Duke University.

Scheduled to receive Bachelor of Arts degrees are Leslie Kahl Capell, Kelley T. Colson, Julia Faircloth Cooper, Ruthell S. Dukes, Michael Leon Flood, Michael Wane Gonella, Mark C. Goslee, Lawrence Leon Harrow, Calvenia Murchison Kromer, Elizabeth Jones Lewis, Sharon Marie McDonald, Elizabeth Ellen Odegard, Shane J. Parkinson, Lori L. Simmons, Rocky Dean Stone, Leigh Ann H. Tari, and Loreley Joy Taylor.

Bachelor of Science degrees will be awarded to Randall James Egsegian, Robert Wayne Godwin, Cassandra Ray Sellers, and Keith Allen Turriff.

Bachelor of Applied Science degrees will be given to Linda Archer, Richard Dennis Pollard, and Jeanne Reed.

Receiving Associate of Arts degrees will be Ronald S. Greenip, James Walls Killough, Jr., Jeanette Stangle, Robert Mitchell, Jr., Roxanne C. Rodriguez, and John McRainey, Jr.

The public is invited to attend the Summer Graduation Exercises at Methodist College.

Dr. Lynn Sadler To Lead Faculty

Dr. Mary Lynn Veach Sadler has been named Academic Dean at Methodist College, succeeding the late Fred Clark.

Dr. Sadler assumed her duties on August 15. A native of Warsaw, NC, she comes to Methodist from Bennett College where she served as head of the English Department and director of the Division of Humanities. She has previously held faculty positions at A&T University, Drake University, Agnes Scott College and the University of Illinois.

A noted scholar of Renaissance and Seventeenth-Century Literature, Dr. Sadler is a 1962 magna cum laude graduate of Duke University and holds graduate degrees from the University of Illinois. She has also done postdoctoral study at UCLA, Bryn Mawr and Balliol College of Oxford University.

The 1971 recipient of the Drake University Extraordinary Undergraduate Teaching Award, Dr. Sadler is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi, National Council of Teachers of English, Modern Language Association and numerous other professional societies.

Dr. Sadler has authored four books and over twenty-five articles. Her books include John Bunyan, Thomas Carew, Consolation in "Samson Agonistes," and Margaret Drabble. She is currently involved in the development of a new software program called "Basic Skills" for Bell and Howell, and she frequently serves as a consultant in micro-computers.

As Academic Dean at Methodist, Dr. Sadler will coordinate all academic activities, develop new academic programs and evaluate the academic progress of students.

Dr. Sadler is married to Dr. Emory Sadler. They will reside at Carolina Trace while maintaining a home on Figure Eight Island.

Bruce Pulliam To Review Grants

Professor Bruce R. Pulliam, chairman of the Division of Social Sciences at Methodist College, has been appointed recently to serve as a Field Reviewer for the 1984 Discretionary Grant Program of the Office of Community Services, Department of Health and Human Services in Washington, DC.

As a reviewer, Pulliam will review and score grant applications and recommend requests for funding for the 1984 Discretionary Grant Program of the Office of Community Services. This is his third year serving as a Field Reviewer.

This program is part of the grassroot efforts of the current Administration to solicit input from qualified citizens at the local level in the awarding to Discretionary Grants.

Pulliam is the senior faculty member at Methodist College and is a native of Roxboro, NC.

FROM THE VICE-PRESIDENT

Dear Friends of Methodist College,
The year of 1984 has been an excellent Foundation year. Over the past few years contributions have increased consistently and additional workers have been added to the Developmental Team.

Contributions from the Fayetteville/Cumberland County area are running $25,000 ahead. To me, this is nothing short of miraculous. A vast majority of the persons who support Methodist College through the Foundation are already supporting two or more colleges or universities. The contributor is loyal to his/her college, to the college attended by the spouse and the children. In spite of all these commitments, however, there is a faithful and generous support of Methodist College.

There were three persons who called the college this year and requested to work as a Developmental team member. When one of the 1984 Developmental Team members returned the assigned cards, there was a note saying, "Thanks for the opportunity of working on behalf of Methodist College." Another team member was returning the cards to the downtown office on campaign day and wondered if a business by which he was driving was on the solicitation list. When it was determined that the business had not been assigned to anyone, he made a call and received a five hundred dollar contribution. Another person looked over the list of businesses in the inactive file and selected ones to be brought back into the active column. These calls resulted in almost a thousand dollars. Another Developmental Team member led his civic club in making a five thousand dollar contribution to establish a scholarship. The list of persons who have gone the second and third miles goes on and on, but these serve to note why I am so proud and grateful for the meaningful way in which Methodist College is supported by the people of Fayetteville/Cumberland County. Without the support of these concerned persons, Methodist College could not reach its desired goals.

I like to make the financial support personal, and when you do this it is saying that the people of Fayetteville/Cumberland County gave each student a three hundred dollar scholarship. Wow! That speaks.

As good as 1984 has been, bigger plans are underway for 1985.

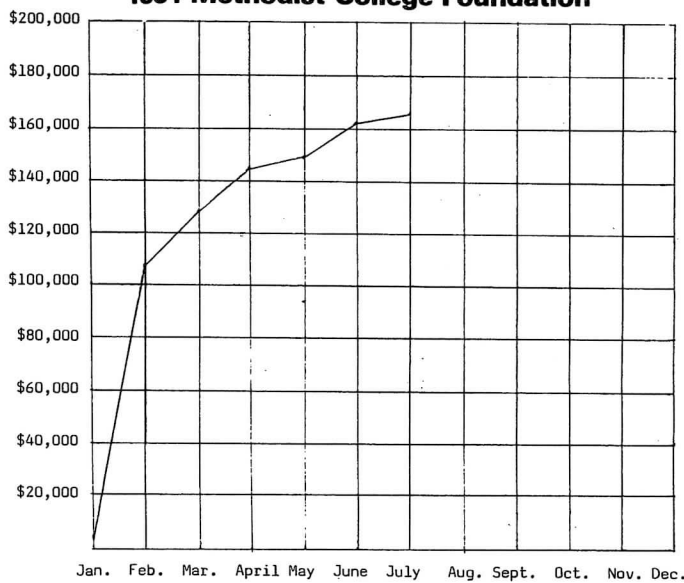

Bill Lowdermilk

In addition to the personal solicitation, a direct mail campaign is planned. At the May Foundation meeting, the size of the three classes of Directors was increased from ten to eleven. In addition to providing more Directors, this will allow us to have more Development Team members. A great deal of discussion has been held with the Directors about increasing the goal. As you know, we have a goal of $120,000 to meet the community pledge - $70,000 as payment on the $1,000,000 loan and $50,000 for the operating budget. The payment of the loan remains constant. Should the fifty thousand be increased to reflect the effects of inflation since 1959? The Board of Directors will decide on this in the Fall.

Nineteen eighty-four has been an exciting year. Nineteen eighty-five is filled with promise and enthusiasm. From year to year, I never cease to be amazed and grateful for the faithful and loyal support given Methodist College by the people of Fayetteville/Cumberland County.

1984 Methodist College Foundation

Foundation Directors Named

The Methodist College Foundation Board of Directors is a group of Cumberland County concerned citizens who plan and execute the Annual Community Loyalty Campaign. There are three classes with eleven members each in addition to the officers.

The Directors are the eyes and ears of the college in the community. They help evaluate what the college is doing well and new directions needed in order to meet student and community needs. At the Foundation meetings the Directors hear college reports so they can have a better understanding of the college and better interpret it to the community.

Enrollment Figures Boast Large Increase

Dr. Hendricks has visions of freshmen dancing in his head as Methodist College anticipates a banner growth year according to registration statistics.

Increases in freshman enrollment are obvious in every category, but the largest increase, according to applications on file and reservations paid, is in dormitory women.

"We are currently showing 34% increase in enrollment over all and 35% increase in residential female students," says Hendricks.

Resident male students will increase also, if statistics are any indication. College officials are expecting 90-100 new men in the dorms.

With anticipated 175 new transfer students and 225 to 235 new freshmen, Methodist College could have as many as 400 new students joining the returning upperclassmen on campus when classes begin on Thursday, August 30.

Methodist Places Seventeen Athletes On All-American Team

A total of 111 student-athletes have been named to the Dixie Intercollegiate Athletic Conference All-Academic Team for the 1983-84, according to the DIAC office. Seventeen Methodist College athletes received All-Academic honors.

To qualify for selection to the All-Academic team, a student-athlete must earn at least a "B" average during each semester of the academic year and participate in a conference-sponsored intercollegiate sport.

The Dixie Conference is comprised of Averett College, Christopher Newport College, Greensboro College, Methodist College, St. Andrews Presbyterian College, University of North Carolina at Greensboro, and Virginia Wesleyan College.

Methodist College athletes on the All-Academic team are Richard Bicoy, Victor Campbell, Mark Powell, Franklin Sessoms, and Cal Violette, all of Fayetteville; Eddie Dalton and Mandy VanderRoest of Hope Mills; Don King of Spring Lake; Robin Baxley of Tarheel; Evelyn Derreth of Beaufort; Ronnie McNeill of Broadway; Todd Roberts of Durham; Paul Smith of Cary; Phil Hersey of Kirkwood, PA; William Howard of Chester, West Virginia; Mitchell Morgan of Georgetown, SC; and Mickey Sokalski of Coopersburg, PA.

Small Talk Wins Top Award

Small Talk the Methodist College student newspaper was awarded the First Class Award from the Associated Collegiate Press for the Fall Semester of 1983-84. This is the thirteenth consecutive honor rating for the publication.

Small Talk was given two marks of distinction, one in coverage and content and in photography, art and graphics. The paper's total score was 3,650, 550 points above the low score for first class newspapers.

Judge Bernon Peacock of the University of Minnesota School of Journalism said, Small Talk evidences a number of sound achievements in several areas of journalism which attest to the skill, diligence and ability of its staff."

Small Talk was edited by Patty Smith, a senior from Fayetteville and Mark Powell, a sophomore from Fayetteville in 1983-84.

FROM THE PRESIDENT...

M. Elton Hendricks
President

Dear Methodist College Alumni,
I am elated over your increased support of Methodist College during the 1983-84 year. Alumni contributions reached an all-time high, setting new records in total giving and in participation. Total giving increased 100% while participation increased an incredible 203%. I don't know of another college whose alumni have TRIPLED their participation in just one year.

Almost every class increased their participation by at least 100%. More than half the classes increased theirs 200% or better. The Class of '80 led the way with an increase of 425% while the Class of '69 had the most donors with a total of 58. The highest percentage of participation honors went to the Class of '64 with 37.7%.

These accomplishments did not just happen. They are the results of your generosity and your commitment to Methodist College. We owe thanks to so many people - the staff, the Phonathon workers, the Board of Directors, the Finance Committee -- but most of all TO YOU, THE DONORS.

Your investment in the future of this College has made a difference. You have helped us pay the bills, maintain and repair buildings, pay salaries and fund scholarships. We are deeply grateful to you for your support and will continue to do everything possible to be worthy of that support.

Did We Make A Mistake?

DID WE MISS YOUR NAME
HERE'S WHY...

1] WE MADE A MISTAKE! We're sorry if this has happened. In processing, some errors do occur.

2] YOU DIDN'T MAKE YOUR GIFT DURING THE 1983-84 FISCAL YEAR! This is sometimes confusing. Our year runs from July 1 to June 30. Check to see if you made your gift during that period.

3] ARE YOU SURE YOU GAVE? With many appeals from worthy causes that we all receive, it is easy to miss one.

Send all inquiries to the office of Alumni Affairs, Methodist College, Fayetteville, NC 28301, or phone [919] 488-7110, ext. 238.

Clayton Named District Coach Of The Year

Coach Gene Clayton

Gene Clayton, coach of the Methodist College golf team which finished second in NCAA Division III national play, has been named NCAA Golf Coach of the Year for NCAA District III.

NCAA District III is composed of thirteen states including North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Mississippi, and Arkansas. Clayton's team sported a 43-4 record against NCAA Division III teams this season before losing to California State University/Stanislaus for the National Golf Championship for NCAA Division III. Their overall record was 128-38.

Clayton has been at Methodist College since 1963, serving as its athletic director since 1966 and as golf coach since 1977. He has been DIAC Golf Coach of the year for the past four years.

A graduate of Catawba College, Clayton holds a Master's of Education from UNC-Chapel Hill. Under his leadership, the Methodist College golf team has won the DIAC Conference championship four of the past six years and finished third in the NCAA for 1982 and 1983.

A native of New London (NC), Clayton is the son of Ms. Christine Clayton and the late Dewey Clayton. He is married to Patricia Bracewell Clayton and they reside in Fayetteville with daughters Christy and Cathy.

Methodist Adds More All-Americans

All-American honors fell to five Methodist College athletes this summer based on their performances during spring baseball and golf seasons.

Golfers Mike Baker, Mitchell Morgan, and Mickey Sokalski are 1984 NCAA All-American golfers. Sokalski, 1984 graduate from Coopersburg (PA) is a three-time All-American (1982, 1983, 1984) while Baker, senior from Bangor (MA), is a two-time All-American (1983, 1984).

Mike Currie, 1984 graduate from Laurel Hill (NC), was named to the NCAA All-American Baseball team as was senior teammate Ronnie Proctor of Fayetteville. The two All-American Monarchs led the 1984 team to the finals of Regional Playoffs.

Methodist golfers finished second in the NCAA National Tournament in May.

FROM HOWARD...

MCAA
President

It is a real personal pleasure for me to serve as your President again this year. The rewards far outweigh the efforts and time given to Methodist College. Last year was the beginning of a NEW ERA for our Alumni Association as we proved our worth to other segments of the College community and more importantly to ourselves. We are grateful to everyone who supported our efforts last year and hope that '84-'85 will show continued success.

Don't forget that HOMECOMING will be here in just a couple of months. Our annual Meeting will be held Saturday night of Homecoming along with our banquet. Not only is it a good time to transact Alumni business, but it gives all of us a chance to be with old friends and meet new ones. Go ahead now and set your schedule for Homecoming at M.C.

We owe a great deal of thanks to the members of our Board of Directors for their foresight and hard work during '83-'84. These people gave of their time because they believe in our Association and Methodist College. This year's Board has even more enthusiasm and will help to make '84-'85 a great year for MCAA. But we need your help, your ideas, your time and your support. Be willing to serve when you are called or, even better, be willing to volunteer.

Be looking for information on MCAA Chapters being formed in your local areas. Your local involvement will help to strengthen our whole Association. AND be sure to be here for HOMECOMING - '84. I'll see you then.

Howard Lupton

FROM PAT...

Director

To Methodist College President, Dr. Elton Hendricks, who told us how important alumni are in the life of every college. We're sincerely grateful for his energy, enthusiasm and support, and we are fortunate that he's among us.

To the multitude of volunteers - to MCAA President Howard Lupton for his excellent leadership and tireless commitment to Methodist College - to the Alumni Officers and Board of Directors and all alumni committee members.

To the volunteers who participated in the 1984 PHONATHON - students, faculty, staff and alumni - goes a special note of thanks. Your efforts, in large measure, brought about the success of this year.

To the support staff of the Alumni Office and Public Relations Department - to Bill Lowdermilk, Gwen Sykes, Dottie Cassanova, Irene Raynor, Helen Barbee, Sherree Cherry and to student workers Deanna Swanson, Mike Mitchell, Kim Cooper, Karen Taylor and Felecia Davis, without whose help we could not operate.

And to Gene, Christy and Cathy for learning to be self-sufficient.

While this issue of MC TODAY recaps many of the alumni accomplishments for this past year, it also marks the beginning of a new year and new possibilities. We're dreaming again -- dreaming that the year ahead will be even more successful than the year past.

Dear Friends,

To say this has been a good year for the Methodist College Alumni Association would be an understatement. IT HAS BEEN AN INCREDIBLE YEAR! You TRIPLED the number of alumni contributions over the previous year, with a total of 564 donors and a 203% increase (165 of these were "first time" donors).

Please take time to read your Honor Roll of Donors and Loyalty Fund Report, noting the accomplishments of individual classes. THE SUCCESSSES ARE YOURS AND YOU HAVE OUR ETERNAL GRATITUDE.

Many of you have been on campus and are aware of the large network of people who have given so generously of their time to make this year a success. Others of you are too far away to return to campus frequently and cannot know unless I tell you of those people who have earned my respect and gratitude for their efforts:

FROM GWEN...

MC
of Publications

Dear Friends:

Christmas has come early to the Methodist College campus -- at least in the Office of Alumni Affairs and the Office of News and Publications. The success of the Alumni Loyalty Fund, tripling the number of contributors and doubling the amount of contributions, is documented elsewhere in the publication. Please don't miss the point here -- that credit goes to you, not to us on the college staff. You are the alums who responded with enthusiasm and excitement to the 1984 Phonathon and you are the people behind the numbers you see on pages 8 and 9. Congratulations!

As for the Publications Office, we have increased the staff by one fulltime Assistant to the Director of Publications and one parttime Student Sports Information Director. I have been blessed with the best student workers on campus every year and I don't mean to minimize their importance, but I am so excited about a fulltime assistant who won't graduate in four years! Tinnie Lambert (soon-to-be Salzano) is a graduate of UNC-CH in English and a talented dancer. Her assistance in the area of publications is already being felt; her challenge as coach of the newly-formed jazz team begins when the freshmen come on campus in the fall.

Kyle Frost, freshman golfer from Torrington, CT, joins the staff on August 27 as student Sports Information Director working fifteen hours a week out of this office. Kyle has hosted his own television sports show in Connecticut and has done play-by-play for the University of Connecticut. He will give to the college athletes the media attention they have so long deserved and he will provide a central source of information for sports reporters statewide.

These changes and others all over campus indicate a commitment to progress and the determination to make Methodist College one of the top private colleges of liberal arts and sciences in the nation. Please make plans to come to Homecoming '84 and check out these changes for yourself. Meet Dr. Hendricks -- the catalyst in this progress toward capacity enrollment, enhanced image, and continued academic excellence.

This Homecoming, I plan to be relaxed and free of responsibility so that I can visit you! I hope to see you in October. Have a happy harvest moon and a fabulous fall!
