Church Leader Addresses Summer Graduates

Addressing summer graduates of Methodist College August 30, the Reverend Dr. Roger W. Ireson of Nashville, TN challenged them to "become servants of the mind and heart for a new generation."

Dr. Ireson is general secretary of the Board of Higher Education of the United Methodist Church, which supports 125 colleges, universities, and seminaries in America.

"Church and society are seen as places best served by the mind and the heart," said Dr. Ireson. "We believe that religion opens to us the heart and mind of God. We believe an education that is complete also has a religious dynamic."

College President Elton Hendricks awarded 52 degrees to 51 students during the 16th summer commencement. Dr. Hendricks also presented a Methodist College Medalion to Dr. Ireson in recognition of his service to Christian higher education.

Ms. Denise A. Guidotti presented the flag of France, her native country, to the college, bringing to 20 the number of flags given by international students.

Monarch Theatre To Stage Four Productions

Methodist College's Monarch Theatre will stage four major productions during the 1989-90 season.

The season opens with activities celebrating the bicentennial of North Carolina's ratification of the U.S. Constitution, which took place November 21, 1789 in Fayetteville. The North Carolina Commission on the Bicentennial, the Fayetteville Cumberland County Bicentennial Committee, and Methodist College will present Sidney Kingsley's The Patriots October 12-15. Directed by Jack Peyrouse, the Pulitzer Prize-winning play dramatizes America's formative years and the philosophical differences between Thomas Jefferson and Alexander Hamilton.

Performances are slated for October 13 and 14 at 8 p.m. and October 15 at 2 p.m. Matinees for school children will be offered at 9 a.m. October 12 and 13. The charge will be $4.00 for adults and $2.00 for children.

Other events scheduled in conjunction with The Patriots include a touring fashion show featuring 18th century clothing, a French dinner with Georges Washington Lafayette telling of his father's activities in the French Revolution, a colonial supper with Martha Washington, Patsy Jefferson and Dolly Madison telling of their husbands' activities for the constitution. There will also be a Gift Shop open in the Reeves lobby selling coloring books, paper dolls, tussy mussels, and other gifts of the revolutionary period.

Other major productions will be Waiting for Godot by Samuel Beckett, November 10-12, directed by Robert Bloodworth; "Cabaret of Contemporary One Acts," February 23-25, directed by Florence Cohen; and finally an outdoor extravaganza, April 6-8, directed by Methodist College's new technical director Paul Wilson. Season tickets for all four major productions are available at $12 for adults and $6 for children and senior citizens. The season ticket buys three shows for the price of four.

Two Monarch Youth Theatre Productions are scheduled this season. One is a Halloween production directed by Patrice Spangler and the other is a British Christmas Pantomime co-sponsored by the local British Club.

Two Circuit Players touring shows will be available for churches this year. Scott Enerson will direct "Riders to the Sea" and Robin Westbrook will direct a collection of humorous scenes entitled "The Total Church Body Workout."

Histrionic Histories is the name given to touring, one-person shows which bring to life historical characters. John Marshall Jones' "The Tocsin Stilled" has Georges Washington Lafayette recalling his father's contributions to the French Revolution. Linda Welch is writing a one-woman reminiscence of "Marie Prescott: Actress/Manager" who performed late in the 19th century.

The Methodist College Theatre Department will sponsor a New York Theatre Trip November 17-19 which takes a group to New York for two days. The cost of the "Do what you want tour!" including round-trip air fare from Fayetteville and two nights at the Milford Plaza is $285 per person. Deposits must be paid to Dr. Jack Peyrouse by September 15. For more information, phone (919) 488-7110, Ext. 212.

Methodist Enters Fourth Decade Building For The Future

Methodist College enrolled 1,461 students for the fall semester, a decrease of 4 percent over last year.

The college began its 30th academic year with 994 students in the day program and 467 students in the evening program. The day enrollment increased 4 percent over Fall, 1988, while the evening enrollment declined 18 percent. A total of 480 students are living on campus, 9 percent more than last fall.

Methodist enrolled 389 new freshmen and transfer students. Of that number, 230 are residential students and 159 are commuting students. The new students represent 27 different states and seven foreign countries.

The average SAT score for the freshman class is 901. The college received 1,345 applications for the fall semester, for an increase of 7.5 percent over last year.

College President Elton Hendricks, now beginning his seventh year at Methodist, notes this will be an important year for the college. On Saturday, September 9, the college will play its first home football game against Cumberland College (Williamsburg, KY). In January, the college will occupy its new $3.8 million Physical Activities Center.

This fall the college launched the Atlantic Coast Center for Language and Culture (a program of American studies for international students) and a new writing major.
