TRUSTEES OKAY NEW RESIDENCE HALL FOR 50-60 STUDENTS

The Methodist College Board of Trustees recently approved a series of planning recommendations that will allow the college to serve "at least 2,000 students" by the year 2000.

In 1992-93, the college served 1,680 students—1,080 in the day program and 600 in the evening. Approximately half of the day students were resident students.

At a planning retreat June 4-6, the trustees approved the construction of additional residence halls over a six-year period to accommodate an additional 300 resident students. Each residence hall will house 50-60 students; the first will be opened in the fall of 1994. The college will borrow funds to build the facilities and use revenues from room rent to retire the debt.

"I believe if we build these facilities, the students will come," said Dr. Elton Hendricks, college president. "The Buildings and Grounds Committee (of the board of trustees) will meet soon to select an architect and discuss sites for the new residence halls. We will review enrollment trends yearly to decide if the additional units are needed."

Methodist can presently accommodate 600 students in four residence halls. An additional 44 students can be housed in a renovated 12-unit apartment building on the southern edge of the campus. The college is planning for 610 resident students this fall.

The construction of new residence halls was one of several recommendations presented to the trustees by a Strategic Concepts Committee appointed by the president. The committee's report and recommendations were discussed in detail during the trustees' planning retreat.

The trustees approved two other recommendations which have major ramifications for the future of the college. First, they authorized a feasibility study to prepare for a major capital campaign for building the endowment and new academic facilities. They also established a task force to make recommendations to the trustees in the summer of 1994 regarding development of unused college land.

RECORD FALL ENROLLMENT PROJECTED

Methodist College officials expect a record enrollment this fall of 1,770 students—1,190 in the regular day program and 580 in the Evening College.

As of June 25, 933 students were pre-registered for fall day classes, compared to 703 at the same time last year. That's a 17.6 percent increase. More returning students and more new students are pre-registered than was the case a year ago. Day classes begin August 24.

Applications from new freshmen and transfer students totalled 1,317 through June 24, up 35 percent from the 976 received at the same time last year. Of the 885 students accepted as of June 24, 329 had paid reservation deposits.

"I'm most pleased that we've seen a 57 percent increase in applications from North Carolina," said Alan Coheley, vice president for enrollment services. "This was one of our goals. We've traveled more (to more than 300 college fairs) this year and that has paid off."

Methodist's athletic programs continue to attract large numbers of students. Approximately 900 of the college's 1,317 applications have been generated through the recruitment efforts of individual coaches.

The college is also publicizing itself more aggressively. Thousands of copies of the new recruitment literature, brochures on specific programs, MC TODAY, and a flyer entitled A One Minute Look at Methodist College were mailed out this year. Methodist also expanded its advertising in the mass media.

Mr. Coheley projects that the college will enroll 320 new freshmen and 200 transfer students in the regular day program this fall. The Enrollment Projection Committee predicts that 670 day students will return from last year. Of the 1,190 students projected for the day program, the committee believes that 610 will be living on campus and that 580 will be commuting.

CHARLES VERE CLAIMS SHAKESPEARE WAS NEITHER PLAYWRIGHT NOR POET

In a May 9 lecture at Methodist College, Charles Vere, Earl of Burford, presented evidence suggesting that Edward de Vere, the 17th Earl of Oxford, wrote the works attributed to William Shakespeare.

Mr. Vere, a direct descendant of the Elizabethan nobleman, said William Shakespeare of Stratford did not possess the education and experience needed to have written the plays and sonnets attributed to him. He said there is also no public record in England that Shakespeare wrote any literary works.

Lord Burford, 27, reported that in 1920 J. Thomas Looney (an English school master) analyzed the works of Shakespeare for content and style and then searched through other literature of the Elizabethan period. Looney reportedly found a stylistic match in several anonymous works and some obscure poems by "E. Vere." He also identified 18 personal characteristics of the author suggested by the content of Shakespeare's plays and sonnets and concluded that only Edward de Vere fit the profile.

The guest lecturer said Edward de Vere, the 17th Earl of Oxford, was a poet, playwright, musician, dancer, European traveler, and soldier. The earl was also well-educated, having graduated from Cambridge at 14 and Oxford at 17 and studied law at the Inns of Court.

Vere suggested that his noble ancestor chose Shaksper (which literally means spear-shaker) as a pseudonym or pen name for his own personal safety and possibly as a deliberate pun. He said playwrights were considered "low in station" and that no Elizabethan nobleman would have dared satirize English kings and the nobility in the manner done in the Bard's plays. He said later historians erred by making the man from Stratford the real author.

Lord Burford also theorized that:

—William Shakespeare, the actor, was a paid "front man" and a silent conspirator in a well-conceived hoax, —the Earl of Southampton paid Shakespeare to leave London and return to Stratford in 1598.

—The Earl of Oxford was one of Queen Elizabeth's lovers.

—A family Bible belonging to the Earl of Oxford contained marked passages which appear in Shakespeare's works.

—Ben Johnson was sent to Stratford to (Please see 'OXFORDIAN' page 8)

"I would like to thank the college trustees, members of the foundation board, our volunteers, and all who have given to the college," said Mr. Exum. "By year's end, I hope we will have raised at least $250,000, which would put us well ahead of the 1992 total of $237,781. Methodist College is very deserving of our support."

The Community Loyalty Campaign is the means by which the Methodist College Foundation fulfills its original pledge to provide annual sustaining funds for the college.

The Methodist College Foundation's 36th annual Community Loyalty Campaign "went over the top" in May, surpassing its 1993 goal of $200,000.

Bob Exum, secretary/treasurer of Van Story-Exum Insurance Agency, chaired this year's fund drive, which began February 16. He was aided by a team of 105 volunteer fund-raisers.

As of June 28, the college had received $215,363 in cash and pledges from Cumberland County supporters. That was 47 percent ahead of the $146,246 raised by the same time in 1992.

COLLEGE HONORS OUTSTANDING ENTREPRENEURS

Business managers from Fayetteville and Sanford received awards for entrepreneurial excellence at Methodist College's 16th Stock Market Symposium April 29.

The Outstanding Woman Entrepreneur Award went to Jo Ann Kirkman, administrative coordinator and former president of Carolina Wholesale Florists in Sanford. Mrs. Kirkman and four partners purchased the florist supply and cut flower business in 1978. Since that time, sales and profits have tripled. Today the firm employs 22 persons and has annual sales of $3.5 million.

John Lampros, founder of APC Services, Entre' Computer, and Chemlawn in Fayetteville, received the Small Business Excellence Award. He is credited with bringing the multi-user system of computer services to the Fayetteville area. His firms employ 30 persons and have annual revenues exceeding $7 million.

Larry R. Godwin, founder of Larry's Sausage Company in Fayetteville was initiated as a member of the Fellowship of the Silver Spoon. Founded in 1955, Larry's Sausage is a family owned firm that has become a leading supplier to fast-food chains. Last fall, the firm opened a new 33,000 square foot plant that produces 300,000 sausage patties daily.

EXPERT DESCRIBES 'SUPERBULL STOCK MARKET'

Stock analyst Bob Robbins, vice president of the Robinson-Humphrey Co. of Atlanta, told a Methodist College audience April 29 that the current bull market should continue through the 90's.

"We're still in the third 'Superbull' stock market of this century," noted Mr. Robbins. He said a low rate of inflation and low interest rates have caused stock prices to rise and spurred interest in stocks among all kinds of investors.

Mr. Robbins noted that the Dow Jones Industrial Average had increased 1,000 points in the 90's. He said his firm was recommending (in April) that investors put 72 percent of their money in stocks and 28 percent in cash for the next six months.

The market strategies and technical analyst predicted that small businesses, financial stocks, and energy stocks will benefit from "Clintonomics." He said health care stocks will "suffer some" and described the outlook for tobacco stocks as "very negative."

"Energy is our Achilles' heel," he continued. Our reliance on fossil fuel makes us vulnerable. We need to develop nuclear energy to become more independent. We should remember that a jump in oil prices (to $40 a barrel in Oct. 90) caused the last recession."

Mr. Robbins used charts and graphs on an overhead projector to show how the three "Superbull" markets of this century — 1921-29, 1949-66, and 1982-present—were each characterized by 500 percent increases in the Dow Jones Industrial Average.

In a 25- page handout distributed at the symposium, the analyst listed among April's best stock buys—ACX Technologies, Arthur J Gallagher, Atlanta Southeast Air, Auto Zone, Inc., CCB Financial Corp., Microage, Inc., NWNC Companies, Inc., and Office Depot.

Mr. Robbins' appearance was underwritten by the Fayetteville office of Shearson Lehman Brothers. The Robinson-Humphrey Company is a division of Shearson.

These additions bring to 40 the number of bachelor's degrees offered at Methodist.

An Associate of Science degree (two-year) with a concentration in Health Care Administration is also being added.

"Feasibility studies conducted by the business faculty suggested strong employment opportunities in these fields," said Joe Doll, director of the Reeves School. "In addition, several retail managers and health care officials in Fayetteville expressed their support for the new programs."

Additional faculty will be hired to teach fashion/merchandising and health care management courses, while the finance/economics courses will be taught by current members of the business faculty.

BUSINESS ADVISORY COUNCIL NAMED

The Reeves School of Business has established a Business Advisory Council that will meet for the first time this fall.

FALL ENROLLMENT

Evening College enrollment is projected at 500-600. Fall Term I of Evening College begins August 9.

For the Fall '92 semester, Methodist enrolled 1,080 students in the day program and 474 in the Evening College, for a total enrollment of 1,554.

SOCIAL WORK PROGRAM GRANTED CANDIDACY FOR ACCREDITATION

The Council on Social Work Education has granted Methodist College's social work program candidacy for accreditation.

"Full accreditation will take us about two years," said Emily Seamon, head of the Department of Sociology and Social Work. "We will have to do a self-study which shows how we comply with their standards."

Mrs. Seamon noted that accreditation by the national council will confer added status upon Methodist's social work graduates. "Graduates of accredited programs are usually given preference in hiring and advanced standing in graduate school," she explained. "They also qualify for social worker certification by the State of North Carolina."

The social work faculty—Emily Seamon and Terry Moore Brown—will soon begin work on the self-study, in consultation with a commissioner from the council. A review team assembled by the council will visit the department after the self-study has been completed.

Following Mr. Vere's lecture, Raleigh actress Shannon Bailey read several Shakespearean sonnets. A panel of college professors—Jim Ward and Paul Wilson from Methodist and Richard Vela from Pembroke State University—challenged Mr. Vere on several points and questioned his motives for establishing the Shakespeare Oxford Society "to advance knowledge of Edward de Vere and his involvement in the events and literature of his time."

Mr. Vere said he is motivated by a love of Shakespeare and a desire to see the rightful author given justice at last. The Massachusetts resident added, "I am not getting rich from this (lecture fees and dues paid to the Shakespeare Oxford Society). He said he frequently spoke to public school groups at no charge.

Mr. Vere's fee for appearing at Methodist was paid by the Fayetteville Publishing Company, publisher of the Fayetteville Observer-Times. A capacity crowd of 150 came to Hensdale Chapel to hear the Englishman.

REV. STARK ASKS MEMBERS OF CLASS OF '93

"Let's help build a family-friendly world." That was the challenge given to 150 graduating seniors at Methodist College Sunday, May 16.

Speaking at Methodist's 30th spring commencement, the Rev. Rufus Stark II, president of the Methodist Home for Children, decried the "cult of individualism and self-centeredness" of the last three decades. "This is a critical time for the health of the family in America," he said.

Rev. Stark urged members of the Class of '93 to accept the Christian view that every human being is important and the new "systems theory" that dysfunctional families can be healed. The speaker said Americans should do a number of things to ensure a family-friendly environment:

1) Practice sexual responsibility.
2) Reform the federal income tax structure and bring the child dependent exemption to parity ($6,000 per child).
3) Reform the divorce laws and put children first.

4) Enact a "non-poverty" minimum wage.
5) Build community in their own families, applying the principle that every member is a person of worth.

During the baccalaureate sermon Sunday morning, Rev. Glen Holt, pastor of First Baptist Church in Fayetteville, asked the seniors to reflect on the most essential things they had learned in college. He then gave his own personal list of things he had learned "that he really needed to know": 1) To be successful in life, you need a goal or vision, 2) People are more important than things, 3) Dare to dream, 4) Staying power goes further than starting power, and 5) Faith and learning go hand in hand.

During the commencement exercise, College President Elton Hendricks presented honorary Doctor of Divinity degrees to the Rev. Rufus Stark II and Rev. Glen Holt. Mr. Harlan F. Duenow, retiring conductor of the Fayetteville Symphony Orchestra, was presented a Methodist College Medallion in recognition of his musical leadership.

Christine Lynn Babb, an accounting and business administration major from Fayetteville, received the L. Stacy Weaver Award, denoting her selection by the faculty as the senior who best exemplified academic excellence, spiritual development, leadership, and service.

Two international students—Jason

Robertson of Scotland and Stefan Stefansson of Iceland—presented the flags of their native countries to the college.

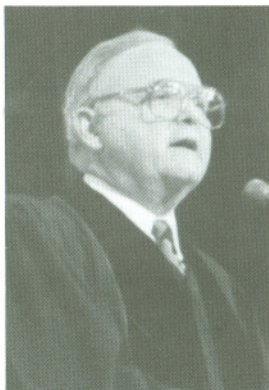

Three ROTC graduates took the Oath of Allegiance, having been commissioned earlier as second lieutenants in the U.S. Army. They are: George E. Lewis III, Thomas Erick Sachariason, and Michael Alan Wilding.

HOMECOMING '93: DRAMA, SPORTS, FOOD, FRIENDS, BLUEGRASS

Many thanks to the alumni for once again making the Annual Fund Phonathon a terrific success! Your willingness to support Methodist College took us past last year's total. This year's grand total was over $31,000. Congratulations!!

As we get ready for the students to return for the Fall '93 semester, the Alumni Affairs Office is gearing up for Homecoming '93. The theme for this year is "A Midsummer Night's Dream," and if you don't already have it on your calendar, please mark Oct. 8 and 9 right away...especially if you graduated in '68, '73, '78, '83, and '88...our reunion class years.

On Friday, Oct. 8 at 7:00 P.M. we will begin the Homecoming Weekend festivities with a pre-play mixer at the Mallett-Rogers House. The cast of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" will be there to honor our alumni by distributing free passes to the Friday evening presentation.

At 8:00 P.M., the Methodist College Theatre Department proudly presents Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream" in the Methodist College Amphitheater. After the play, there is an informal get-together in "Bow Tie's" at the Holiday Inn Bordeaux.

Saturday morning the festivities get off to an early start with the William P. Lowdermilk Golf Tournament shot-gun start at 8:00 A.M. Pre-registration is necessary, and teams will be assigned on a "first come - first served" basis.

At 9:00 A.M. the Teachers'

Alumni Association will host its second annual Homecoming Breakfast in the Alumni Dining Room. The guest speaker will be announced in the Homecoming registration brochure.

Sporting events scheduled for Saturday include men and women's soccer and football. An 11:30 A.M. outdoor cookout will feature live bluegrass music.

In the evening, the Homecoming Committee will host a spectacular party at the Holiday Inn Bordeaux on Owen Drive. Dress will be semi-formal and there will be live entertainment.

Homecoming registration forms will be mailed out in August. If anyone would like phone numbers and addresses of former classmates to contact for homecoming, please call the Alumni Office at 919-630-7167.

We look forward to having you back on campus!

—Caroline Parsons

TRUSTEES DISCUSS PRESENT, FUTURE OF COLLEGE AT PLANNING RETREAT

In meetings this spring, the Strategic Concepts Committee* reached 12 conclusions that it considered to be significant concerning the future of Methodist College. The group then posed five questions it felt the college trustees, faculty, and staff needed to address in the short term.

Conclusions

- 1) Methodist College is an intensely enrollment-driven institution.
- 2) During a time when high school graduation rates nationally and in North Carolina have declined (resulting in a reduced enrollment pool) Methodist College's enrollment has continued to grow and was at record levels in the Fall 1992 and Spring 1993 semesters.
- 3) Among the most important factors influencing recruitment and fund raising at a college are its general image and reputation.
- 4) The earliest Methodist College alumni are reaching the age where the education they received at Methodist College is beginning to evidence itself.
- 5) The physical appearance of the campus has improved significantly in recent years.
- 6) The college is in the best financial condition in its history.

7) The Methodist College faculty is larger and better credentialed and the academic program is better structured.

8) Retention, while still too low, is at an all-time high.

9) Only a few schools in North Carolina or the nation will commit a higher percentage of operating budget to financial aid than does Methodist College.

10) A few years ago Methodist College successfully conducted its first major capital campaign.

11) Methodist College has a valuable and relatively unused asset in its large land holdings.

12) The major crises of our time are ethical and moral. We must reinforce value considerations in every area of study at Methodist College.

Questions for the Future

1) What is the optimum or at least the proper enrollment for Methodist College?

2) How do we identify and create for Methodist College a special niche in the market? Specifically, how do we take advantage of our successful blending of a traditional liberal arts program with the growth and attractiveness of our programs having a professional orientation?

3) How do we fulfill our mission to (Please see COMMITTEE page 19)

You can be a part of ensuring the future financial security of Methodist College through MCES—the Methodist College Endowment Society.

Planned gifts from alumni and friends like yourself provide long-term stability since money is irrevocably set aside for future use by the College and only the earnings are spent. As those earnings increase over time, your planned gift gives more and more.

YOUR HELP IS NEEDED TO BEGIN CHAPEL RENOVATION

The Office of Campus Ministry would like to purchase 150 new chairs (cost $100 each) and new carpet for Hensdale Chapel to better serve the worship needs of our current students. This renovation will allow for a variety of worship settings, and help us meet the spiritual needs of a new generation of students.

If you would like to help, please send your contribution to the Development Office, 5400 Ramsey Street, Fayetteville, NC 28311 with the form below.

WOMEN GOLFERS WIN THIRD NATIONAL TITLE

The Methodist College women's golf team continued its dominance of Division III golf by claiming a third consecutive National Golf Coaches Association National Championship. The Lady Monarchs have won the title seven out of eight years.

All five Monarchs received All-American honors by finishing in the top eight. Amy Hoke won the tournament, hosted at Mr. Holyoke, MA, and received medalist and All-American honors. Joining her on the All-American squad were Elizabeth Horton, Allyson Greer, Ana Roderiguez, and Kelly Cap. This is the first time ever that a school's complete team has received All-American honors. Horton, Hoke, and Cap received invitations to the NCAA Division I Tournament.

The team was ranked number one by Golfstat throughout the year. Tournament wins were garnered at the James Madison University Invitational, the William and Mary Invitational, and the Penn State Invitational.

MEN FINISH THIRD; JENKINS TAKES MEDALIST HONORS

The men's golf team traveled to San Diego in hopes of bringing back a fourth consecutive NCAA title, but the host, UC-San Diego, was not in a hospitable mood. After being ranked number one all season, the Monarchs finished third, with San Diego and Ohio Wesleyan finishing one and two respectively.

The highlight of the tournament was the play of sophomore Ryan Jenkins. Jenkins led the tournament on the first day and never relinquished the lead as he became the school's third NCAA medalist (joining Rob Pilewski and John McCullough).

Additional honors for Jenkins included All-American, All-District and All-Conference. Senior Eric Haile was named second team All-American, with Bill Anderson and Dave Jukes receiving the triple honors of All-Conference, All-District, and Honorable Mention All-American.

Sammy Hudson won the DIAC Tournament and was named All-Conference and All-District. Anderson was selected as the Division III representative alternate for the USA/Japan College Series tournament held in Japan this summer.

In addition to a Dixie Conference Championship, the Monarchs won the Greensboro Exchange Tournament and were runner-ups at the William and Mary Invitational, the Palm Coast Intercollegiate and the Emory Invitational.

BASEBALL TEAM OUSTED IN REGIONAL

The Monarch baseball team began the 1993 season by bolting to an 8-0 record and followed with a 9-game win streak in mid-season. It finished the regular season with victories against highly regarded Division III Mary Washington (16-6), No. 5 ranked Division II Armstrong State (6-5), and Division II Norfolk State (7-6).

Unfortunately for the Monarchs, the streak ended with their two losses in the NCAA South Regional Tournament. It was the Monarchs' 12th consecutive tournament bid, but the exit was a quick one with a 0-3 loss to NC Wesleyan, followed by a 0-2 defeat to Ferrum. The pitching was there but the bats weren't.

Junior Brandon Bridgers was chosen second team All-American. Bridgers and Matt Berry were named to the All-South Team, with Joe Myrtle, Bryan Steinhagen, Matt Boucher, and Brian Ford earning second team honors. Myrtle and Bridgers were first team All-Conference; second teamers were Ford, Mark Roncace and Andy Nelson.

A highlight of the season was Brian Ford's perfect game against St. John Fisher on March 15, 1993. Berry led the team with a .362 batting average, while Bridgers stole 54 bases.

FOOTBALL COACH COUNTING ON VETERANS TO WIN

Second-year Head Coach Jim Sypult will lead the program's largest returning veteran team into the 1993 football season. The Monarchs begin their fifth season of gridiron action.

"We expect between 40 and 45 veterans this season," Sypult said. "Anything can happen during the summer in a non-scholarship program but we've worked hard to retain players. This is a big improvement from last year's number of returnees, so we're very happy with the progress."

The Monarchs open the season September 4 against Chowan College. The strength of the team will be the offensive and defensive line that returns intact. The skill positions will be well-manned and several kicking specialists also return.

The football staff also has recruited a large and talented class. "This is really this staff's first full-year of recruiting," Sypult

MEN'S SOCCER TEAM MAY BE ALL-TIME BEST

After turning in the best men's season in Monarch history (16-1-2), the 1993 soccer squad looks to the fall with great anticipation.

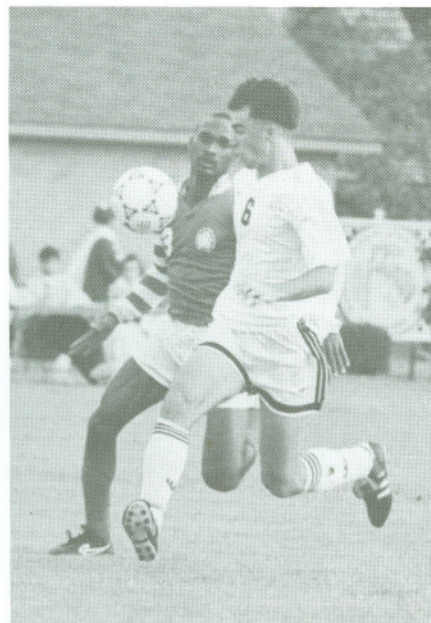

The 1992 team went undefeated during regular season play, won the Dixie Conference championship for the fourth consecutive year, and advanced to the quarter-final round of the NCAA Division III Tournament after capturing the South Regional Championship.

The Monarchs return a strong and experienced defensive group for the 1993 campaign. All-South standouts include senior Chris Shaw (Fayetteville, NC) and sophomore Kenneth Hoey (Dublin, Ireland), while sophomore standout Daniel Barros (Edison, NJ) continues to establish himself as a major force. Competition for positions will be fierce at the back, as sophomore Greg Vallee (Columbia, SC) shows great improvement, while sophomore Jason Williams (Stuart, FL) and senior Lee Burrows (Fernandina Beach, FL) provide essential cover.

The goalkeeping unit is led by sophomore All-Conference performer Justin Terranova (Ridgefield, CT). The "keepers" allowed goals to the 1992 opposition and had a "goals against" average of .40, providing a good defensive base for the 1993 campaign. Sophomore standout Elton Ramey (Fayetteville, NC) returns from injury to push for the starting job.

In the midfield the squad returns a multitude of experienced players including All-South performer senior Bill Capobianco (Hudson, FL) as well as All-Conference performer senior Jason Butler (Vero Beach, FL), last year's leading goal scorer. Junior John Demos (Dublin, OH) and sophomore Bobby Lovelace (Fayetteville, NC) provides good depth.

▲ GREG VALLEE WILL BE BACK THIS FALL.

Versatility is the name of the game up front as all three returners are capable players anywhere on the field. Senior standout Brad Hamilton (Fayetteville, NC) promises to improve on a stellar junior year, while All-Conference performer, junior Chip Pleasants (Dublin, OH), hopes to overcome a 1992 late season injury to provide his invaluable experience to the squad. Finally, sophomore All-Conference performer Michael Scobee (Fayetteville, NC) returns to improve on a terrific freshman collegiate season.

The return of experienced players, along with the additions of a very promising recruiting year, gives Coach Dawson reason to think "BIG" for the Fall 1993 campaign.

WOMEN'S SOCCER TEAM RETURNS 16 VETERANS

The 1993 season should be very challenging for the women's soccer team. With the return of sixteen players from last year's (9-8-5) squad, along with an excellent recruiting class, the Monarchs are anticipating an exciting season.

Two tournaments highlight the 1993 season for the Monarchs. The first has the Monarchs traveling to NC Wesleyan to face Wooster College and Salem State University, both 1992 NCAA Tournament teams.

The second tournament has the Monarchs hosting Messiah College and Trenton State University. Both were nationally ranked teams, with Trenton State being number one for most of the 1992 season. This will be the first regular season tournament that the Monarchs have hosted since the fall of 1987.

Numerous colleges in the region also feature strong teams. These include:

VOLLEYBALL COACH LOOKS TO SENIORS

The 1993 volleyball team is hoping to match, if not exceed, the second place DIAC mark of the past two years. Coach Karen Smith and two seniors will see their fourth season together.

Danielle Genest (Woodbridge, VA) and Jill Sturenfeldt (Jeanette, PA) will control the outside and middle-hitting positions, respectively, with three years of varsity experience. Their leadership and flair for the game will be the foundation of this year's squad.

Junior Kim Miller will direct the team

TENNIS TEAMS FINISH STRONG

MEN'S TENNIS

The men's tennis team finished second in the DIAC for the 1993 regular season, but played some exciting tennis to tie for the tournament championship. The team compiled an overall record of 5-6 and 2-1 in the conference.

Receiving All-Conference honors for the team were Wade Liles, Foo Hwa Kong and Marc Tyndale. Mark Faber had a ninth place ITA regional ranking and he and Scott Pickrel were ranked fifth regionally and twenty-sixth nationally.

from the setting position. With two years of experience and a strong offense surrounding her, Kim should have her best year ever.

Methodist will be hosting the Third Annual Methodist College Invitational, in addition to traveling to Atlanta, Georgia and Washington, DC for regionally competitive tournaments. Expectations are high for the upcoming season, with a solid nucleus of returners and an exciting first-year class.

Monarch tennis, the team managed second place DIAC regular season and tournament finishes. The conference record was 3-1 and overall, 6-13.

Tracy Maness, Janna Bias, Heather Hyslop and Dina LaVoe were named All-Conference. Maness was ranked No. 7 regionally and Bias was No. 13 nationally. They teamed for doubles and were ranked No. 9 nationally.

Tracy was also selected as a CoSida Academic All-American.

First-year Coach Theresa Warrell had a good recruiting year.

DIAC PRESIDENT'S CUP

The Methodist College Athletic Department recently won the Dixie Intercollegiate Athlete Conference President's Cup for overall excellence in athletics.

This is the third time in the last four years the Monarchs have received this honor; they previously held the cup in 1990 and 1992. First place finishes in men's soccer, women's soccer, women's basketball, men's tennis, and men's golf generated the highest total points of any school in the DIAC.

SOFTBALL SQUAD FINISHES 2-6

The 1993 softball season was one of rebuilding and youth.

The team was led by junior All-Conference second baseman Anne Uleman who returned after a year of knee rehabilitation. Kerry Oliastro (Riverside, PA), Kim Miller (Jacksonville, NC) and Wendy Wear (Merry Hill, NC) were the only other returners from the 1992 squad.

Miller received First Team All-Conference honors, while Oliastro was named Team MVP and honored with a Second Team All-Conference position. The remainder of the squad was made up of first-year players.

The team finished 7-22 overall, 2-6 in the conference. Early in the season the Lady Monarchs finished in fourth place at the regionally and nationally-recognized Virginia Wesleyan College Invitational.

TRACK & FIELD PROGRAM PRODUCES ALL-AMERICAN

The 1993 season saw the resurgence of the Methodist College track and field program. After a successful indoor season the Monarchs took aim at the outdoor Mason-Dixon Conference Championships. The Monarchs ended up with 95 points, which put them in Fourth Place and only six points out of second.

This was the most productive conference meet ever for the Monarchs, as the team fielded five individual champions, and had 17 All-Conference selections.

Those taking individual championships were Jamelle Ushery (So., Albany NY) in the 110 meter high hurdles and 400 meter intermediate hurdles, Brett Dietrich (Jr., Fayetteville NC) in the 3000 meter steeplechase; Jamal Taylor (Fr., Richmond VA) in the long jump, and Travis Armstrong (Fr., Gastonia NC) in the high jump.

Methodist returned to the NCAA Div. III Nationals this spring for the first time in four years. Jamelle Ushery represented Methodist at the National Meet which was held at Baldwin-Wallace College in Berea OH. Ushery, who was seeded 15th going into the meet, ran an exceptional race in Thursday's qualifying heats, running a personal best of 14.69 seconds to advance to Saturday's finals. On Saturday Jamelle ran 14.7 seconds to place 8th, which also earned him the status of All-American.

The Monarchs lost only one athlete to graduation. "This has most likely been one of the most successful years the program has ever seen," said Coach Brian Cole. "Between indoor and outdoor we had seven individual champions in the conference, 37 All-Conference selections, and an All-American, not to mention the second highest finish in the conference to date."

Coach Cole was selected "Mason-Dixon Indoor Coach of the Year."
